

JESUS SPEAKS YEARS SEVEN, EIGHT, NINE

Kathie Wycoff
Locutions with Jesus

JESUS SPEAKS – YEARS SEVENTH, EIGHTH, AND NINTH

the Faith, A.A.S., 58, 1186 (approved by Pope Paul VI on October 14, 1966) states that the Nihil Obstat and Imprimatur are no longer required on publications that deal with private revelations, provided they contain nothing contrary to faith and morals. The author wishes to manifest her unconditional submission to the final and official judgment of the magisterium of the church to which she humbly submits.

(Copyright Registration Number TXu 1-837-432)

It was March 9, 2009 when I attended a woman's one day Lenten retreat. After several hours of spiritual discussions and exercises we were asked to take pen and paper and find ourselves a quiet spot either in the church or outside. Once situated we were to pick a mantra, repeat it quietly then listen and write down what we heard in our heads. I found myself in the church proper in one of the cry rooms. I could clearly see the sanctuary, the large Crucifix, and the tabernacle. Feeling rather skeptical I sat with eyes transfixed on the altar. It was then I felt the urge to write. That was the beginning. I do not make any claims as to the nature or content of what follows in this book. I can only tell you that I write what comes into my head. Most have been written down during Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. I have edited out all personal references or references to others but I have not changed the context. I cannot comment on the meaning nor explain what these paragraphs are about. Each individual should look inward for that.

JESUS SPEAKS – YEARS SEVENTH, EIGHTH, AND NINTH

What I hope is that you will find solace in a loving God and be able to develop your relationship with Him through these writings. Here I have paraphrased one of the locutions.

“These books are full of love, hope, direction, and prayers. It is the soul of God poured out for us. It brings thoughtful introspection to all who open it to read. Do not read from beginning to end. God directs your life and will give you what you need each time you flip it open to a number or a page. Feel His love. Feel His presence – and then listen – listen with all your heart.” Mantra: Let go and let God. Let go and let God.....

Here I am Lord, I’ve come to do your will.

JESUS SPEAKS YEARS SEVEN, EIGHT, AND NINE

The Seventh Year

250) You have come today to hear My words, to partake of My Body and Blood. And what will you do with the rest of the day? Will you live it for Me? Will you shepherd My lost sheep? What will you do with your time? Where will you travel? My people are everywhere. They are lost. They cry out for Me but there is no one to show them the way. Do not turn away when you see My people. They are lonely and sick and destitute. Find them and give them solace. Tell them about Me. Tell them how much I love them. Do not let them flounder but lead them as surely as you would reel in a struggling fish, reel in My people. They need leadership. They need direction. They need prayers. They need Me. I search for them. I point them out to you. I lead you to them. Share what I give you so the poor will know how much I love them.

(Prayer) I search for Your direction Lord. I pray that I will not disappoint You. I am so ignorant of all I need to know and do for You. I cannot perform Your works if You should ever leave Me. I must have Your light to follow. I need it to illuminate My path so I will stay solidly on the direction you wish Me to take.

Child, I am so pleased with you. Never think I am disappointed. You are still of the earth and I ask a lot of My earthly people. There is so much sin and death surrounding you and yet you follow Me. Do not be discouraged. I am here for you and I am here for all. They need only call My name and they will be saved. It is such a simple task – such a simple thing to do. Call Me – call out – tell Me you are lost. Tell Me you need My help and direction. I will light the way so quickly there will be no denying the path. You will know. It will be as if it was already there – already in your head - already at your very feet. You have only to step on it and follow Me. I make it so easy for you to find Me because I never leave your side. We travel together. Love stands with you. Love will triumph. Love conquers the most horrid of earthly sinners. As terrible as the world seems now, it is not lost but it is being cleansed. The tide is turning and My people rise up and are counted. They far outnumber the few lost souls that deal in fear, hatred, and cruel deaths. But even those can return to Me if others but pray for them. There is no soul that does not have a moment of truth when they have a clear vision of right and wrong. It is for that moment that you must pray. It is then they must turn from evil, give it up for Me. Let Me help them step out of their evil ways and step onto the path to Heaven. It is not impossible, but very possible if enough people pray for it to happen.

Relax, you will be cared for in My bosom. I am pleased with you and know I can trust in you. You are working hard at delivering My message of love and caring. People's hearts will be turned. Go in the knowledge that all is well in your family. Continue to trust in God – in all three Gods that are One – My Father is taking such care of you that He is spoiling you – which you know. Spoil Him back – do as He says. Follow every suggestion He gives you. Love much.

251) Have you settled in yet child? You have spent much time today in prayer and yet you are restless. Do you think I will not come when you have trouble settling yourself? All the more reason for Me to be with you. Think of how many times the events in My own life were troublesome, and yet I could rest in those times by putting My trust in My Father. You must accept that you will spend time with Me when you are tired, when your mind wanders, when you feel you are not connecting your thoughts with Me. It does not take away from your efforts at quality time. It pleases Me to see that you haven't given up but continue to pursue Me.

Whether your eyes are open or shut, I am there. Whether you dose off or are acutely attuned to My voice, I am there. Relax in knowing you are in My presence and I am sheltering you in My arms. Turn your body over to Me for warmth and comfort. Rest on Me and allow Me to keep you warm. I shelter you when the storms surround you. I am your rock. Do not feel I don't appreciate your efforts. It is a delight for Me to find you setting here with Me at Adoration when you are hungry, tired, and uncomfortable. You are offering it all and that is such a gift.

252) Today, the Feast of the Annunciation, is such a cause for celebration, My Mother said yes! Do you ever consider the importance of that "yes" in the context of the "yes" your own mother said? Ahh, but all mothers must turn their bodies over to the growing child within them. They cannot forget that there is a life inside them, that can only come to fruition through them. The child they carry can never be born of another woman. It is uniquely a child of that mother and she cannot deny her maternity. So, it is with My Mother, she did not deny Me even though My Passion and death appeared to others to disgrace her. She went through it with Me and My pain and agony were also her pain and agony. My love for My Mother is limitless. It has no bounds. I will grant her whatever she asks.

I hear your concerns and the concerns of the parishioners. You are in a difficult situation, but your parish is not alone. New waves of priests are entering the seminaries in record numbers. Continue to pray that they form a powerful coalition to evangelize and bring the faith to the world in a way that will be visibly noticed. Pray for this new life so needed in a tired church.

253) You have come with open heart to visit with Me in the hours before My death. It is I who am grateful for your continued love for Me and for My suffering. I will not forget your kindnesses to Me and your memory of Me in My last hours. How I longed to be able to suffer more if My Father would have allowed it. Suffering saves souls. Prayer saves souls. Visiting Me here in the Blessed Sacrament is such a joy for Me that all of Heaven is happy to see you. All man is part of Heaven and Heaven exists for all men. It brings such sadness when a soul is lost at death that all Heaven is devastated by the ripping away of part of their own soul. It is so urgent that you pray and suffer for those souls who would be lost were it not for you. Yes you – just as all My people – each one can bring about such changes if they would only dedicate even a small portion of their day to saving souls. A small act of kindness, a moment of prayer, an offering of a small pain, an extra effort in some task – God is aware of all and is so overjoyed at even these small offerings that He grants great things for them.

He makes it easy to save souls by showering extra graces on even the tiniest of offerings. It is necessary for more and more people to open up their hearts and listen to what He is saying. Allow Him to enter your very being. Allow Him to touch your heart. Allow Him access to your thoughts. He will pacify even the most stubborn of hearts if you will only spend time praying for those openings. Do not fail to listen for God who gives insight to the blind of the earth. Listen for Him. Watch for Him. React by doing what He asks even in the most inconvenient times for you. The need is great right now. Time is of the essence. Souls are being lost. Evil circles the earth. It's up to the souls of those devoted to Me to save the world by splitting the power of evil to shreds. Keep the evil from covering the earth. Break it into pieces so that it cannot get a stronghold. My Son gave His life for this. He will have so many more souls if the good people of the earth respond to His call and seriously contemplate His message to save souls by prayer, deeds, and sacrifices. Turn little annoyances into offerings. Find small moments for quick prayer. Keep evil away – bless yourself often. Say ejaculations. Look at people and quickly pray that they think of God and how God loves them. Even good people need to hear that God loves them. It is so easy to be discouraged by the happenings in the world today. It is overshadowed by evil and death. What I am telling you is that prayer and sacrifice can change it all. Look to God for directions but also feel God's love and presence. Everyone deserves to be loved and God never forgets even one of His creatures. He made them so He could love them and so they could love Him in return. It is so simple and yet so many are unable and unwilling to accept this. You must pray that they open their hearts. You must pray for their vision to clear. You must love them so intensely that they cannot mistake it. The more love that is showered on the reluctant souls, the better chance they have of seeing God in others.

Prayer and sacrifice enable even the most hardened heart to feel the love of God. Imagine if two or three lost souls were found together – at the same time. Prayer can do this. God can arrange the circumstances so they are at the most favorable time when hearts open to the errors of the souls of the damned. God works with the prayers of the faithful so as to maximize the graces and the opportunities for conversion. As evil as the world can be – it is nothing compared to the goodness of God.

254) The supper was to be My last on earth and I had so much yet to do. I would have to leave it to the Holy Spirit to fill their hearts with love and understanding. As much as they loved Me, their earthly love could not compare with the love they would receive on Pentecost. My teaching was complete – My death culminated My earthly life – ahh, but My Resurrection – what joy to again be with My friends - to show them that they too shall rise again. How much more they learned! How their hearts were set on fire! Their fear of the future could not quench the fire of their love.

A fire burns in My own heart – the flames of a love that cannot be extinguished. Come close to Me. Enter into My Heart. Feel the warmth of My love and trust that I have your soul in My hands. I will never leave you orphaned. I will always be with you.

Pray as never before that evil souls will be converted before the end, before it's too late. The death of evil is hard to watch and many in Heaven turn their heads. They can no longer offer suffering, but you can. They will help you.

My Light shines brightly during the days of Holy Week. You have only to look for Me to find Me constantly with you. I have much to offer to those who respect and attend the services for Me. What joy is planned for those on Easter morning! A flurry of love-filled activities awaits you.

255) My Lord and My God. My mind is so full of things that distress Me. I want to turn all of those thoughts over to You and yet they continue to surface like a piece of wood on the water. It is You who must intervene to keep me from being judgmental. It is You who opens the souls and the hearts and minds of all who trust in You. It is only You who can bring the tools for resolution of what is occurring. The unrest is palpable and spreads its ugliness into even the most docile of people. Care for us, Lord. Open us up to each other. Keep us from pettiness. Keep us from gossip. Keep us always headed in Your footsteps. Do not let us be lead astray. The waves of evil feel as if they will engulf us without Your help. Soothe the hearts of Your people. Draw us to You so tightly that we cannot be lead astray. Lead us so strongly that we cannot spread evil. Lead us so strongly that we are not drawn into the evil that surrounds us. Shower us with Your graces of protection and help all to return to You as the only source of hope. Oh, how I desire to be one with You My Lord and My God.

You must care for the least of My brethren to be one with Me. My anger seethes inside and there is no way for You to move these hard hearts to come to Me and ask for My forgiveness. Time – time - time – all these many people are given blessed time and yet they continue to squander it – misuse it – spread it so foolishly and then – then those opportunities are lost forever. Grudges are held like bricks over their heads. They weigh them down but yet those obstinate people continue to hold them. Do you think I do not notice? Do you think I do not see? How much longer shall I wait for these self-centered people to resolve their personal conflicts? Smart – not they are not “smart.” Educated – educated in what? By whom? My disciples called Me “teacher.” They looked to Me for instructions. They knew I would not lead them astray and yet those who have a lifetime of attending church, receiving the Sacraments, having prayers answered – now they think they have only to show up and come to Me when it suits them – now they are more interested in social life than spiritual life. How disappointing – how ungrateful – how unloving – how hurtful – yet I will save them from themselves. I will bring them to Myself but oh how I had hoped they would bring many, many other souls with them. The souls of the world languish for need of prayers – prayers which do not come. The souls of the world die in sin because My people no longer sacrifice for them. The souls cannot save themselves without the intervention of the lives and hearts of My people. The world is so often a wicked place – yet so few reach out to Me for change. A catastrophe looms that will set the world aflame. The fire of My love can destroy in order to bring back the masses of people to remember Me. Saints will rise up among the ashes. They will lead and bring Me those lost souls who have longed for Me and did not know how to find Me. Sack cloths will be the garments for those of My people who have lost so much earthly time by spending it foolishly. I gather up the good like ripened grapes and harvest them into fine wine and then pour them out into the world to nourish the weak, the poor, the disabled. The world is ready for a reversal – then will the tide change – then will I be sought out – but it will be too late coming for many.

Too little – too late – too . . .

Do not stop coming to Me. I have much to say – listen – pray as never before.

256) Have you a moment to consume Me – wholly and entirely? Have you a moment to pray, to find Me beside you, praying with you? Can you make the time to love Me – to carry My cross, to feel My pain? If you can do these things – if you can follow My lead – if you can stay on My path then heaven is yours.

The rocks and thorns were part of My Way and they will be part of yours if you follow Me. Life's path is My path. It is not always smooth, but it is well marked and you will see My footsteps firmly planted in the path before you. It is My love for you child that sets this path in front of you. You may choose the smooth path or the thorn filled path – both paths lead to Me, but one is worth gold and the other silver. Cradle My life in your thoughts and decide which path I chose.

We are all given choices whether you realize it or not. Each step you take is one you have chosen.

There is no one I do not love. There is no one who comes to Me that I do not take the time to enlighten them. Billows of smoke ascend to heaven from My Church, but I need for parishes to burn with flames of all consuming goodness and love for one another. I need pettiness to be replaced with acceptance. I need ignorance to be replaced with the knowledge that all people are to be treated as you would treat yourself – and how you would treat Me. Light My torch – send the flames of love to the sky. Become a beacon of hope for the community and the world. Let the flames consume all that pettiness – all that one-upmanship – all that jealousy – all that better-than-thou. Let the flames of My love pull all together into cohesive parishes, working only for the glory of God. God's glory is reflected in the souls of those who love much. They love despite the circumstances. Watch your own tongue and even your facial expressions. Be sure they are reflective of My wishes. Care for the spiritual needs of others. Each person you encounter has special spiritual needs. I light your way so that you can reach out to these people. You have seen how I pull them toward you. Do not overlook My people but hear each of them. Your eyes will be opened, and I will place the words in your mouth. You will be My messenger, My feet upon the earth – the extension of My Body – My hands – My loving hands – My hands - Look forward to more busyness with what I will give you. Continue to clear your path of all that is unnecessary. Continue to reach out to those hearts that cry out to Me for fulfillment. Fill the emptiness with My love. Remind them of how very much I love them and how I identify with them in their suffering. Touch the untouchable – a touch of love warms straight through to the very soul of the suffering. It assuages the loneliness of being without a lifetime partner or a child or a good friend. Touch with prayer when you cannot physically touch. Be My hands – be My hands – be My hands -

Allow My feet to walk directly in front of you and allow Me to lead you to the most unpleasant places – but the most needy. Do not turn your face or your back at these moments but plunge yourself in as My earthly helper. Be My hands.

Do not see a need and ignore it. Follow the need until you have found the solution and the way to fulfill the need. Be My hands – be My heart.

As situations present themselves, converse with Me. Spend time in prayer and Adoration – ask for direction – haven't I always answered you? Yes – and I will continue to answer all who pray. My world is your world. My people are your people and My hands must be your hands.

Go in peace and love and happiness at a job being well done. I love you,, I call your name.

257) I've missed you so my Jesus, although I know You have been with me in all that has transpired these last three weeks. Thank You for Your presence and please continue to direct my life to where I can be of the greatest service to You.

Love – it is what binds us together. Without love there is nothingness and a void – a vacuum. Oh, but with love the world is full of life and beauty. It smells the sweetness of blossoms and the air is full of the sounds of nature. Listen to all with your heart – take in it all with your senses – don't waste away the hours in mundane tasks but spend them contemplating the love God has showered on you. No matter the turmoil, God is there. No matter the loss, God is there. Come to see Him in others – join in the praises ascending into Heaven. Make a joyful noise. Let the world see and hear My people. Pray – Pray – Pray – the time is ending when the world could have avoided the events that will occur shortly, but God is there in the midst of it all – watching, waiting for His people to rise up and return to Him.

I care for you. I will not abandon you. Come to Me and I will give you rest.

258) Blessings abound on the birthdays of My people.

So much troubles you child but you know it is all in My Father's capable and most loving hands. His saints were slaves to the world, but they hold very special places near Him in Heaven. Trust in Him to let things fall into place. He will continue to care for you and your family. There is nothing serious that will come between you again. Why not lighten your heavy load by turning it over and getting on with God's work on earth? You have much to do yet and it is only in the infancy of what it will turn out to be. There is much love and laughter in your future and the outcome will be a complete surprise for you. My Father delights in giving gifts to His people. Accept them in the love in which they are given.

Would you like more direction? Is it time for you? You are the one who needs to recognize when you are ready.

259) What is it you need child? Think of the hierarchy of needs. You have people who will add to the food pantry. If you arrange a workday, parishioners will see the need and will begin to take on different projects. Let the community see and want to be a part of the resurrection of this parish through helping hands. Be encouraged – even a drop in the bucket is a start. If enough people offer drops of water, the bucket will fill and eventually overflow.

Remember, I am with you.

Your prayers are having an effect on those black souls and some are being given a clear opportunity of moving toward the Light. Do not cease your efforts. Do not feel it is lost – all prayers are joined with those of so many others, the sweet odor ascends, and My Father wafts it toward those in the clutches of evil. These pockets of evil are being eradicated but the evil is strong because I allow it. I want the prayers of My people to beseech Me to take action. I want My people to rise up and do battle through prayer and sacrifice. I want to hear the world praising their God and asking for peace through the suffering and death of My son. Recognize Him as the Savior. Bow down to Him. Be grateful to Him. Give Him praise and honor. A swell of praises must reach the ears of Heaven so loudly that the forces of evil are drowned out in the din. Come with love and joy to the altar of God. Lay the gifts of your life at His feet. Do not cease. Do not give up. Deafen the universe with prayer. My Father will act – He will put an end to the affliction.

Care for one another. Pray for one another. Cast your life into the sea of God's love and abandon yourself to His mercy.

Go in peace.

260) Comfort comes to those who pray. God grants you the gift of His presence in all that you do when your life is an offering to Him. You will not stray far from the path when you are following in His footsteps. His mere presence calls you back if you should make a misstep. He calls you to live your life closely with Him. If you but ask, He will lovingly and fatherly direct your every waking moment and bring you to a peaceful sleep. Do not despair if this seems hard for you sometimes. Life is not easy as it is full of sin and evil but God triumphs through his people and continues to lead them on in the battle. Never fear that He will desert you as He will never abandon you to the devil. God is powerful and yet totally merciful. He will lead you strongly and surely, but He is delighted when you praise Him and humbly ask Him for your needs to be met. Trust in Him.

Have you caught your breath? The summer will be a memorable one for the gifts God will shower on those who love Him. Patience is important although I know your concerns about doing things for Me while you are healthy and able. Fear not – worry not – it is all in My hands. Help will arrive in the most unexpected way so that you will fulfill all I am setting before you. Rest in the knowledge that My hands are capable of doing so much more than you can imagine. Put your project in My hands and in those of Joseph, My Father on earth. We are carpenters and we can handle the most difficult of projects.

I know the church concerns you and you feel unable to communicate your love to others. I have hand-picked Pope Francis. He will open the doors wider to more people. Good people are being turned away and feel unwelcome in My church. This is unacceptable and must change. The Spirit is alive and well and attentive to every detail. I have told you before that the time allotted to the devil is over and the power of the Holy Spirit is spreading widely and heavily into the world. The next generation is not lost but will have an impact so strong the very roots of society will be loosened. The new seeds will plant themselves firmly in the disturbed soil and they will grow into trees of magnificent proportion, giving their shade and producing such fruit as has never been seen before. Come home with Me – we can watch the wonders My Father works together!

261) Can you see how I care for You? If you but ask, I will send what you need. It is not always what you want. You are right in thinking there is a difference. I wanted the world to come to love My Father. It was difficult to accept that I could only do so much since My people have free will. I want them to enjoy everlasting life, but they need Me. I do not need them. I want them. I love them. But I am complete without them. I lead My people strongly and yet some resist. It is these you must reach with your prayers. It is for these that I ask for your prayers. It is their souls I want. It brings Me such joy – but I do not need them.

There are so many things to be done in the world outside of your town. Perhaps it is time to explore them. Rest assuredly that I will lead you when the time is ready. But you have much to do here if you but apply yourself. Do not abandon your writings or your art. Those are ways of praising God. Those talents were given to you to use for My glory. I will not let your future be suspect, but I will continue to keep you headed in the right direction. Life has many turns and each one brings new visitors and beauty – there for the taking. Remember how I went from town to town, from one people to another, from one place of comfort to another on the mountain or in the desert. Each prepared Me for the final glory I was to give My Father.

Time is of the essence for some things, but it is a friend for many others and you should not waste it. Rest, relaxation, down time – this is not wasted time, but it is needed to keep you fresh to do My work.

Ah, child, how I love you to gaze upon Me. Continue to come and spend time with Me. Receive the sacraments. Attend Mass. Do My work. Pray – offer up your sufferings and conflicts. You will have such gifts to present to My Father at your death. What joy abounds as we await your soul!

262) Be with me Jesus. Hold my hand. Put the proper words into my mouth. Do not let my expressions cause pain to anyone. Help me to be understanding to keep from criticizing, to hold my tongue and not pass judgment. Only you my Lord can do that. Help me to do Your will and to accept what I do not like or understand as long as it is not harmful to You, my Lord. Lead me so I may go forth in the confidence that You will never leave my side until I am safely home again.

Life does not come with easy roads but with cow paths that lead often to the most beautiful vistas. Learn to watch your step on the paths but do not stop your forward movement. Looking back does no good, it can only slow your forward progress. One cannot look both ways at the same time.

I have agreed to help you with many projects and this one is no exception. Keep an open mind and listen intently so that you will hear the feelings of others – often these lie behind the words. Accept whatever help I send and do not be condescending but uplifting. Do all things with joy. Reach out to Me for direction and help as you need it. The Spirit flies with you to assist you. You have only to listen to His voice.

Enter now into a deeper spiritual state where you can open your mind to My own. There must be better communication between us now, so you are better prepared for what is to come. Do not fear – just walk carefully and tread softly into the next part of your life. Others watch you and many try to emulate you – there is danger in that unless you are deeply connected to Me. Your every word, movement, ideas, and even your look can be scrutinized if it does not meet with the beliefs of others; therefore, you must stay closely connected to the Holy Spirit who offers guidance at such times.

Go with the knowledge that you are doing My work well – the fruits of it will be lasting in more ways than you can imagine.

Feed My lambs.

263) I love you. Just know that I walk with you. Did you expect this to be easy? You are doing more good than you know. Keep yourself together and you will find things going smoother.

264) Blessed are those who suffer persecution for justice sake – for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. You must still learn when to speak and when to be silent. There are many things that you do not control, and you must learn to accept them and move on. You must not put your “spin” on things of which you have not witnessed and even then, you cannot judge – you must leave that to Me.

I am so happy to see you back with Me. There is joy in Heaven that you are able to come and visit. My Heavenly angels have held your vigil for you in your absence so you could do the other work for which I am most pleased. Come back to Me though in your loneliness and do not be empty of My promises. Cast yourself into My arms and allow Me to hold you safely as you continue your journey. There is peace coming that will startle you in its simplicity. There is glory of My Father that comes into the world in wondrous ways. Prepare the way. Prepare your soul. Prepare your life. It is such a joyful time that awaits. The angels tremble in anticipation. My Mother hurries to collect as many souls as will allow her the smallest access. The saints await the descent of Glory and the opening up of so much untapped earthly wealth – laying hidden from all but the Glory of My Father. He has never abandoned His earth or His people. Discoveries and new elements of scientific importance will come to be common place so that the footings of the earth will be shaken and people will flood to churches and synagogues in joyful thanksgiving. Praise to My Father, the all-powerful, the all giving, the all loving. Glory and praise forever and peace to the people of earth.

Cast yourself into My arms and await the things to come. Abide with Me forever.

265) Oh, Blessed and most kind Jesus. How can You put up with all my foibles? I cannot seem to concentrate on You. My mind flits around and wanders from one thing to another and You patiently wait for it to return again to You. Keep me focused on You, oh Lord, and my God.

Now I know you would like some firmer direction, but you must be ready and receptive. It is not always little things that need to be done but there are more important and more necessary things for you. You are faced daily with decisions. You choose whether to come to Mass. You choose whether to say your daily prayers or the Rosary. As long as you are legitimately busy, there is no need for all of your prayers to be said. You need to be doing My work – not just the work you feel like doing.

Behold I am coming for you and you must be ready. Do not cease to prepare yourself spiritually by cleansing yourself of all sin and making a strong commitment to stop even the smallest of sins. Cleanse also your mind and keep your mouth zipped of any unkindnesses. Pull your mind back to Me if it begins to drift into unpleasant and unholy thoughts. A simple “protect me Jesus” will do it. I am always there. The mere mention of My name sends demons away. Allow your mind to drift gently into the realm of heavenly thoughts. Caress those thoughts and carry them with you. They will eventually completely push out any impure thoughts.

Awake each day in My love and one day you will awake in My arms.

266) Oh, my dear Sacred Heart! How I long to feel Your presence again. How I love You and long to minister to Your wounds which sadly I have helped to make. Do not be angry with me for my foibles and my slip-ups but shower me with Your undying love and cuddle me in Your gentle arms. I am so sorry for all my offenses and behaviors that are not pleasing to You. Help me to remain free of sin and to live the rest of My life in Your holy care. I love Thee Jesus my love.

You are still concerned about your prayer life and that is okay, but I truly want you to relax in the joy that doing My work on earth is equally important. One can replace the other if time runs out. Watch for opportunities to bring joy – sometimes you forget that it isn’t just about helping and working. It is often a need for joy that brings My people back to Me. They suffer much and I enjoyed relieving them of some of their suffering when I was on earth – go and do likewise.

267) Come and make your home in My heart. It is the only place to find complete and pure love. Mankind is not capable of the love of God. It is in the giving it away that man comes closest. Do not wait or look for others to serve you but move yourself to be the one serving. Take into account the times you have been served and go and do likewise to others.

Be careful of others who would like to defame you. They do not work in the ways of My Father. Watch others for ill intentions. The devil abounds and is always trying to stir up trouble. Pray that you and others resist his evil efforts. Come to Me for comfort. Turn toward Me in prayer when you feel the tentacles of the devil encircling you. I will always be there to protect and guide you. Look Heavenward for My promises to be fulfilled. I have provided joy in the sky for all who learn to read the signs of My love there.

(Pause)

I enclose Myself in your heart. You have only to reach inside yourself to speak with Me. I will respond in kind and the answers you seek will be forthcoming. It is a gift of soul that is a special draught of My love for you. Do not abuse it on silly things or it will be taken away.

Come to Me now and rest. Come to Me now and pray with Me that My Father continues to allow others to offer their sufferings in union with your own. They make such sweet incense arising from an earth parched by the devil but that is about to end. The rains are coming and signal the end of the drought. They are the blessings My Father is sending. The rains will alter the course of rivers and make fertile the arid lands. Food will become plentiful. God will feed His people.

268) A quick moment of connection – of oneness – of love – of beauty at the face of my Savior. Time is short – take care of me Lord.

269) Oh, My child, I am so delighted that you have chosen to come spend time with Me. I know you have missed our quiet time together. Remember I am with you and never cease to call upon Me in your need.

Where are you going? You have many talents in your pocket and you spend time foolishly. It is not always about helping those you do not see. It is often about doing what you can with what is available to you. I send you out among those in your parish to nurture and care for them. They look forward to your smile – to your approval – to your direction. You make them seem fulfilled – useful – welcome. Do not give that up. Continue in that role.

Prayer and Adoration can change the outcome of any perceived evil. Beg for God's mercy. Plead for a reprieve. Meet with My Father. Speak with Him. Beseech Him.

270) Bring yourself to Me. Concentrate on My wounds. Bury yourself in the palms of My hands until the noises of the world go away.

Look for blessings to shower down in the near future. A period of darkness has ended and the world is taking on a new shape. The rich of the world are coming forward, spurred on by My Mother who digs deeply into their hearts and thus their fortunes. They will take over helping the many who are destitute. Homes, food, clothing, medical care, they have the resources to find and handle these things. I have told you, the world is changing. The devil is no longer in power and I am reclaiming My people. The prayers of many are being answered. Look with longing and wait in anticipation. Trust with your whole heart.

See the rain. See the rainbows. See the sun and the moon. See the stars and the Milky Way. See the vastness of the universe. Read about the new discoveries. See the new medical advances. Feel the joy of new priestly vocations. See the number of women religious. Then do not be unbelieving but believing when I tell you the world is returning to God. The power of the devil is waning. The parched earth has survived the time given over to evil. The grass and fields will be green again and the rivers will run strong and swift and spill over their boundaries with clear fresh water. Be joyful at the triumph of your God. Be warmed by His loving arms and gaze upon His face in the faces of all.

Behold, I am with you always, even to the end of time.

271) Bring me to Your feet, Lord. Carry me on Your feet as I am not fit to be there and certainly not fit to behold Your face. Your glorious, kind and loving eyes would pierce me through as I am so unworthy of all You offer. Carry me off and hide me from the world so that I may not be sinful again.

Do you not believe that I love you? Would I be here for you if you were worthless? Do not be misled by current events but tuck them away and offer them up. Did I not say you would suffer? Did you think it would be all physical? The torment of the mind and soul is ever so much more painful. How misunderstood I was by so many people. How many left Me and turned their backs. How that wounded My Heart. How I wanted to run after them and plead for them to return – but they must have the freedom to pick and choose how they will live their lives. It is not going to change unless a soul is desirous of that change – or if that soul prays for direction.

Do not spend time analyzing your encounters. Time and life experiences will heal all. It is so much easier to blame and hurt when we are damning ourselves. It is human nature to want to place our hurts onto others. That is one of the facts that made My suffering so much greater. The devil would have had Me blame humanity for all of My sufferings. If I had fallen into his clutches I would have had such bitter suffering.

But because I choose to suffer for love of humanity with all their sins – I went joyfully to My death wishing only to suffer more so as to save more. There is a beauty to that kind of suffering. Rejoice that you can offer it all up.

No, of course, your life has not been perfect, perhaps at times it was quite imperfect, but I love all of My imperfect people and I love you for your consistency in trying to be a better person. I have told you I am always with you – I was with you when you called. I am in your midst.

272) If you would come to Me in your sorrows, you would find solace. Who could understand sorrow more than My Holy Mother? Her life was exemplary and yet her sorrows were such that they pierced her heart. Yet she held them in her heart and pondered and prayed throughout her life. I am also with you and all My people in these sorrows.

Remember all prayers are answered. They may not be answered the way you expect but each prayer gets individual attention and there are many angels assigned to each one. Be reassured that all will be well. Relax in My heart until the storms subside. Enter into My peace.

273) I come to you in your grief and confusion. I am your Rock, your Solace, your Friend. I love you and you are not displeasing Me. Continue to come and place all your trust in Me for a pleasing outcome to all your concerns.

Take a piece of your heart and leave it here with Me. I will care for it and place it with My own. This way we can never be separated. A jewel, a crown, but also a crown made of sweet thorns. You will continue to walk the path I have laid out for you child. You are blessed in so many ways and blessings do not come without earning them.

I am here for you now and will continue to be with you – even more closely than you can now imagine. As your prayer life intensifies, you will begin to see the Way of the Cross more clearly. The cobbled path, the blood-soaked dirt, the thrown stones, the spitting, and the hateful voices – but you will recognize them and they are still My people. Bury yourself in your prayers and in My presence. Call to Me and I will always, always let you know I am there. The more silently you suffer, the more jewels you earn in Heaven. You must earn all of your heavenly gifts here on earth. These you can give out to others when you are with Me and yet your own will never diminish. You see, what you earn is what you can give. Oh, I see you are grasping this new revelation.

You are approaching your final years and you have had a lifetime of preparation for them. Use your gifts wisely and prudently. Silently giving to others is a wise use of grace. Enter into these years with joy and anticipation for your encounter with death. Do not fear it but relish the thought that each day brings you one step closer to eternal happiness. Greet each morning as a friend who gifts you with more time to pray and prepare. Be joyous and happy as you come to Me each day. A cheerful giver is always a joy but also is a grateful receiver. I love you always and look forward to more time for us to talk.so

274) Offer up your sadness. Bring your hurts to Me. Continue to pray and ask forgiveness for those who have harmed you. I will give you courage to continue to do My work. The words you use, choose them carefully. Ask Me for help before you offer your own.

Cry to Me. Bring Me all your worldly troubles. The confusion you feel is part of the life that the earthly must endure. Clarification is not what you need. Just love unconditionally. Be there when needed. Make your own holidays. Make your own celebrations. Enjoy the years that are left of your marriage. Stop being unduly concerned about your children. They have the basis for a good Christian life but now make their own choices. They are going to make mistakes but that is not your job to fix them. Help when it is requested but stay out when it is not. Call more often and visit when asked.

Remember your grandchildren by calls, cards, visits, special treats. Look for small mailable things. Even though they are growing, everyone likes mail. Give them something memorable. Holy cards, a special medal, a picture, a story, something that reminded you of them, a bookmark, a balloon, a gift certificate to eat at a fast food, a small book or poster, a joke, use your imagination and think about where they are in their lives now.

275) I care for you a great deal. Continue to come spend time with Me. Trust your cares to My Father. He will not disappoint you. Use your time for good and do not be concern over things outside of your control. Watch the mail for information in areas where you can help. Torment is always going to find My people but it cannot consume them. Leave your everyday offerings at My feet and I will be with you. I carry them on the shoulders of the angels to My Father in Heaven. They are dispersed to those designated as your helpers. Never fear that I do not hear or care – keep coming to Me and we will spend the rest of your earthly life and all eternity together.

Take My blessings and disperse them wherever you go. I give them to you for this purpose. Send up offerings of time and prayer but also spend time alone with Me and just sit with Me in quiet.

I love what you do but you must be aware of how others perceive you. Catch yourself before you speak. Act only after we have spoken in prayer. Learn to let go and let others – even if they fail – people learn by their failures.

Carry My cross and I will assist you in carrying your own.

276) The blessings – Are you counting your blessings? So many have been given and yet so few are receptive to them. They are taken for granted. All that you are given is to be used for the glory of God and the conversion of sinners. There is no distinction in the love showered on God's people but not all are loving Me back – not even in small ways. It dulls their gifts and keeps them from using them in the manner I would like.

I speak to you today of death. So many are terrified of the thought of it yet it is the most beautiful experience and one prepared especially for each individual. If one thinks of themselves as a caterpillar – a small worm that learns to cope in the world, God feeds and clothes the small worm and it grows into a delightful caterpillar. It is up to the caterpillar to take care of itself so that it will eventually be able to construct its own tomb. If it does not construct it well and in a safe place, it will die. Ah, but if it takes the time to prepare and make a solid tomb, then it will morph into a magnificent and soaring butterfly.

So, it is with My people. If they spend their lives in preparation for the tomb, they will emerge from their earthly trappings and body into their life of glory in heaven.

One must think of death as the caterpillar. It is a death of the self you now know into the hope and trust of the dying. It is simply a morphing from one life to another. It is not the end of a life but the continuation in the life that you were made for. A life in union with God – a glorious unveiling of your new transformed life – a new exciting way to be for eternity – a home – a haven – your Heaven. Oh, the joy that awaits!

277) Proclaim the Word of the Lord. Take the news to the rooftops. Look again to the heavens from whence I shall come. Be watchful. Be prudent. Be wise, the hour is unknown to all but My Father. You shall see the angels of the Lord coming in myriads of colors – each designed for a specific task. The pink will pick quickly the flowers of My heart and bring them unharmed to Me. The blue will be taken to My Mother who will prepare them for Heaven. They are nearly ready – but not quite. My angels of green will gather those who have fallen asleep in My green earth and unit them with their bodies. But woe to those for whom the angels in black appear; they have failed the test. They have turned their backs on all My advances. They have chosen death and so they shall have their wish.

Carry My love with you always. Give it away and I shall replenish it eight-fold. It cannot be contained. It can only multiply. There is joy coming into the world – something that has been withheld since My birth. There is a sense of peace about to explode on the universe. The plans of My Father are vast and they extend throughout the universe. I've told you it is time for change.

There is so much to discourage you now child. It is a time to turn your heart and soul completely to Me for sustenance. You are not plodding through life as you think – you have touched many more than you know. Continue to strive for peace and harmony. There is much more for you to do.

- and how can I not love you!

278) You are right to call upon My Mother. The devil tried mightily to enter into her. How he would have loved to turn her against me. He had so much to promise her. He wanted her to think he could save me if she would just follow him. Her temptations were many and often. He tempted her with wealth when we were poor. He tempted her with water when we were thirsty and food when we were hungry. He said he could make things right with Pontius Pilate if she would only worship him. Oh – but she turned her back on him and prayed all the more.

It is a great pleasure for her when you wrestle souls from his grasp by prayers, works, and sufferings. So much can be gained by a simple Hail Mary that the world would resound with them if people only knew. Such is the power I have given My Mother. Such is her closeness to Me and My Father. Such is the Holy Spirit present in her soul. Fall at her feet and beg her to take your concerns to My Heavenly Father. Ask her and it is done.

(Prayer) Lead Me Lord for I falter as soon as You take a step back. I cannot move if You are not in front of me showing the way. I don't need to see the path, Lord; I trust that You will not lead me astray. Keep me forever behind you. Take me where You want me to go. Plant me where You want me to bloom. Dig me up and move me when I have finished. Put me down again where I can better serve You. Uproot me as long as I am firmly rooted in faith, hope, and love. I know my roots will take quickly into new soil. I am Yours, Lord, do with me what Thou will.

Enter now into a time of peace. Enter now into My arms. I hold you as My Mother held Me, safely, securely, lovingly, ever watchful, ever present, ever caringly. I will not let you go. I hold you snugly while this tempest rages around you. Continue your prayer life. Continue to write. Continue to love.

279) My Body comes to you to protect you and guard you as you enter into My world. The way is paved with thorns and you are assaulted from all sides. Ah, but the entrance is also bitter sweet as you have Me with you. We suffer together. We suffer for the souls who would be lost without our prayers and our sacrifices. We suffer for the souls who stray far from the paths I have laid out for them. We suffer for those led astray by the world and worldly goods. We suffer for those who make poor choices, for those who have developed bad habits, for those who ignore My inroads into their lives.

But there is also a joyous side because all are not lost. My people come to Me and follow Me and accept with joy whatever I send them. They cannot be coaxed away by the strappings of the devil. They stay on the path of righteousness and they believe and they adore, and they offer themselves for the good of the world.

My people are many. They are all kinds and all nationalities and, yes, all religions. They worship Me and adore Me and will not leave Me no matter what their life circumstances. These are the people My angels attend to so devotedly. They carry their prayers quickly to heaven and plead for answers that will give the most graces. The angels advocate for My people. They utilize the saints and My mother. They become your petition bearers. Those same angels will wing your soul to Me and remind Me of all of your good works, your prayers, your reception of the sacraments, your presence at Mass, every little “Amen” is recorded for your benefit.

No breath is wasted – all are counted. No step is too small when taken with Heaven in mind. No act of kindness goes unnoticed. No request, no matter how small, goes unheard or unanswered.

Open your ears to hear and your mind to learn. God enters.

280) Peace is descending this Christmas, not for the world but for My people in the world. The peace means acceptance of what is sent to you. The peace means the love that is showered upon you. The peace is My Christmas gift to your soul.

My love cannot be measured; after all, it created the universe for you. My gift is larger than the universe, more abundant than all the stars, brighter than all the suns, deeper than space. You have only to think of Me to experience it. It carries you away to a safe place in your heart. My peace and My love are for everyone who reaches out for Me but it is also for those who do not.

Where will you go? What will you do? How will you get along? Who will care for you? Toss all those questions of fear from your mind. I am always with you. I am beside you and in you. Touch Me. Hold Me gently when you receive communion. That is exactly what it means, communion with Me in a very real and personal way. My body enters your body. My body melts into your own. You carry Me with you in a very real way. My hands become your hands. My love extends itself by your reaching out to others. We are intimate. We can speak freely as one close friend to another. Always, always, always I will care for you and love you.

Now allow My peace to enter into you. Let it spread throughout your entire body. Let it release your mind from the graspings of the devil. Relax in My love. I came in person that First Christmas and My love became ever more intense as I spent time in the visible world. I walked the earth My Father made – just as you do. I saw, felt, wondered at the beauty of it. I wanted to experience it all, especially what it meant to have a family, a loving home, a sense of joy at being together for holidays and holy days. One – each one – is to make the most of the time given to them. Each must be grateful to have the gift of life and turn that gift into the extreme gift of everlasting life. Come to Me all who labor and are burdened and I will give you rest. Come to Me who suffer and mourn, who cry out in the night, and who are lonely. Come, come, come, enter My arms, My heart, My peace. Breathe in My love – My gift this Christmas – more love than a heart can hold is yours for the opening. Come to Me – Come.

280) I call you and yet the din of the world drowns Me out. I reach out for you and your hands are busy with the chores of the season of My birth. Instead of My Peace there is a hubbub of activity – all to prepare, to ready, to accept the anniversary of My birth. Peace is what I bring. Peace when Christmas day is finally here, a slowing of the world, almost to a halt. A stillness in the hearts and minds of My families, a quietness in the lives of My people. The softness of the day brings contentment. The craziness of the morning for children brings joy and expectations. The homeless do not have much but they feel the serenity of the day. Their joy is palpable. It is My gift to them. I caution the world on their extravagance. It is about what you give – it is especially delightful to My heart when you reach out and give to those less fortunate. Not just in status or in monetary ways but those without family and friends – those who have not yet found Me – those who are away from home or who have lost loved ones. Oh, how I love these people. How I yearn to take them in My arms and warm them with My love. I rely on you to do that for me. It is you who must open your arms wide and accept the burdens of others. Yes, there are those who are cold and whose hearts are empty. They need the warmth of someone who cares.

Peace is coming, like a rushing waterfall it will enter the world and the flood waters of peace will cleanse and brighten.

Merry Christmas My friend, Merry Christmas.

281) Ponder the beauty of this season of My birth. Take in the sights and sounds. Feel the pulse of the people. Happy – mostly yes – but searching, looking, awaiting, and hoping. Anticipation and some dread. Caressing and yet some coolness. It is not so unlike the world into which I was born. So, what did I do? I cared for those on the fringes. I especially loved those who were lost and yet searching. I wanted the marginalized, the sick, the poor, the unhappy. I wanted to see the joy when sins were forgiven – when the weight of past errors was lifted from the souls of the penitents. I wanted the world to have a fresh start, to learn to love without prejudice, to touch and not be repulsed, to speak kindly with no hint of sarcasm or arrogance, to love without caveats, to come to Me and find the peace they seek. Oh, if people would only accept My Peace – what a remarkable change would come upon the world.

Catch the spirit of the season. Do not let it get away from you. Cuddle close to your loved ones. Whisper how you love them to Me and I will make extra graces descend on them and overflow their hearts with gladness and joy. Bring Me your cares and drop them at My feet. I have the ability to make them smaller. Offer up what you cannot correct and give those problems to Me. Settle into the beauty of this Christmas season. There is so much being given to the world right now, you have only to reach out and accept it. Pray that this joy and seasonal beauty continues in all parts of the world. Pray that peace will come and open up the world to My love. Pray that people recognize My hand in the little nudges they receive to give up their murderous ways and come back to the humanity that will nurture them as they age.

Spend the New Year by intensifying prayer – not just making more time for it but making it meaningful. Watch, wait, be hopeful. The Christ Child is coming to you personally. You have only to be receptive to listen for His approach.

282) Take care that you do not offend those who care for you and those who come to you in their need. Watch how you respond when you feel pressured by the world surrounding you. Keep your calm in all instances and bring the mood and the anxiety of others down with you by listening attentively and by watching their eyes for a flicker of special needs. Many more people will be coming to you and you must keep yourself open to hear them. Often, I work by allowing people to speak freely. They then, if they listen, will hear Me and find the answers they seek. It is not necessary for you to feel responsible for helping others because I can work with others in the quiet of your listening. Sometimes a joint prayer for the answers, the understanding, the coping abilities – whatever you sense is the real need

- helps more than anything you can share. Accept that others need and depend on your prayers and good intentions. It soothes them when they know you are in their circle of understanding friends. People will continue to enter into your life and to leave it. That is not chance but by design. Look expectantly at those you know and those you meet and accept that I have a purpose in putting them into your life at the moment they arrive. Accept also that I will give you whatever you require to supply them with - what they need right now and even sometimes in the future.

As your world turns from moment to day to week to year, it is still only a small bit of what you know as time. You must continue to make the most of it. Be in the here and now. Accept the day's challenges and continue in your prayer life. Talk with me more often. Seek Me out more frequently. Think of Me always. I never leave you. I never desert you. I never stir from your side. I care for you. I love you. I await you. Come to Me.

283) So much to absorb I know. You must continue to accept the help I'm sending you. My Mother is the key to unlock the mysteries of the Redemption. She was the door by which I could enter the world. She followed Me from conception to death – only she can make that statement. She knows Me and knew Me even before I knew My human self. Listen to her – she will not lead you astray. Hold her hand and relax in the knowledge that I am holding the other hand – the hands of both of you. Bring this parish – these people – to a prayerful experience that will establish it as a Marian Parish – a haven protected furiously by Mary. Read, absorb, and challenge yourself and others to intensify your work in this area. Call on Mary – she is of the Holy Spirit- they are the heads of My Church – open up the lines of communication with them. Let them breathe the spiritual life into this parish. Carry it out into the community. Do not be afraid. Within a short time, there will be a complete transformation of a number of hearts. It will breathe new life into tired souls. Reach out into the community in your daily travels. Your own enthusiasm will be contagious. God love you! Bring others to God through Mary. She is so ready to help you. Open your heart to her and use her every chance you get. She will light the way to My heart. Come – it is time to start.

- 284) Ash Wednesday - And so it is ready. A time to begin the preparations. Lent is a holy time. The world turns to God and listens. Here and now begins the season for Lent, of longing, of waiting – and yet it is already time – already here – already experienced. My Father relives it all with His people. He hides in the desert with them. He comes to church with them. He sits with them as they pray. He is present to all and He hears all. It brings Him pleasure to see so many adoring His Son. His joy overflows in kindnesses and acts of mercy. He is ready to assist anyone in need. This is a time of great favors from the Lord. Open your heart and your mind to hear Him, to experience His presence, to accompany Him on My Own Journey to Calvary. He was there. He did not hold back the blows and the hammers. He allowed them to have their sport with Me. It was immeasurably painful for us both. The cries in the wilderness had ceased. The world shook from fear. Had My Mother not been alive, My Father might have ripped the world from its axis and tossed it into the darkness of space. It was His love of His people that stayed His hand - that soothed His anger. He looked upon Me and filled with love such as the world cannot imagine. His love takes away the pain of dying. His love nurtures all in its infinite wisdom.

Take time during Lent to bask in the love of the Almighty. Take time to feel His presence. Take time to reflect and grow in spirituality and in closeness to Him. Take time to pray, to love, to be in the moment. Take the time to live for God.

285) Have you completed all I have given you to do?

Do you contemplate where you are going from here? Why do you not consider doing more for My Missions? Do not rest and feel you have time.

God speaks lovingly, kindly, and mercifully. Hear Him. Listen for His voice. Cry out to Him. You are not abandoned in your need. Offer up all you have. Run to Him for help. Open your heart and your pocketbook to spread My love. Draw others into the glory that awaits them. Give them My words. Carry them with you and hear My voice. It is time to set the wheels in motion. My time is now. People are going to be receptive as My Mother floods the world with her graces. She has been waiting until this moment to open up the world to all God has in store for them. People will begin to understand their roll and take the part God has given them. They will fulfill their lives by spreading the word of God's love and mercy.

Push on and it will become clearer. I love you – I care for you – I want you to continue to do My work on earth. If you keep your hands busy with My work, you will be given greater gifts to distribute when you arrive in your heavenly home.

Go in peace and service to the Lord.

The Eighth Year

286) (Sitting alone again in the St. Joseph side Cry Room where I sat seven years ago for the first locution.) (Prayer) It is where it started so many years ago - a word, a phrase, a commitment of love. It is beauty in a thought of You. It is undying love from a death so pure.

How Your love encompasses Me. How it brings me to step forward into Your arms, knowing how it will hurt to reach You and share Your pain. Ah, but the reward cannot be measured. It cannot ever be removed. Your gaze, Your outstretched arms, Your bleeding body poured out for Me. Draw me to You Lord. Give me your love. Continue to reach for me when I fail. Forgive me when I step from Your path. Lead me always toward You. Step me in Your direction. Pull me, carry me, coach me, lead me, but never ever leave me stranded where I would surely die.

*(Sitting on the Blessed Mother's side Cry Room)
(Prayer) She stands. She gazes. She is wrapped in as painful a love as her human body can stand. Angels are distant. They do not reach down now to console her, to lead her, to offer her a word of kindness. She stands. There are others but she is alone. Weeping so silently but yet the entire universe hears. Sadness compels her into His darkness. She prays to share it all. She prays in such compassion – "Please give this punishment to me God. Take this unjust horror from Your Son. He is mine also." Her pain, her heart, her entire self – all wrapped in love around her Son.*

"Give Him, Lord, all You have to assuage His suffering – but no – give Him the souls for which He thirsts. Give Him the lost and the strays. Bring them to His feet. Cuddle them around His Broken Heart. Such love – such love – such love – such love – such love."

287) Continue on the path and don't get anxious when there are stones on the way. They will become mere pebbles and will not hinder your spiritual progress. Open your eyes and your heart to receive all I am sending. Relax in My love and know I walk this path with you. Come often to ask for advice and help. It will always be given to you. Now sit with Me and just contemplate on My wounds.

- 288) It is with a heavy heart I come to you. The evil is enveloping the world so thoroughly that it must be confronted on all sides by prayer and sacrifice. My Mother is working to distribute graces in abundance to confront this evil. You also must work to attain graces for her use. Your prayers must be intensified – pray with a purposeful need. Pray that My Father intercedes with His power and might. He will do this in His time but the prayers and good works of My people will speed Him in His coming. A pawl hangs heavy over the United States and the Middle East. The devil is working most specifically on those global areas. The prayers and good works of my people put holes in the fabric of evil and Heavenly angels enter and leave freely. Ask your Guardian Angel for extra protection so that you may be a force for good. Enlarge the goodness in your area. Continue to work diligently. You have only to ask and all of Heaven will come to assist you. That is the power of My Mother.
- Bring your concerns to Me and I will see to them.

Search out your spot in your life where we can always find a moment together – just the two of us. As the world continues to hammer you – you will need to know I am always with you. Find Me in those moments. Touch base with Me for encouragement and tender love. Find Me – just by looking for Me. I am only a thought away and yet I never leave you. I will never leave you. We will spend eternity together. Finish up now – it is time to move on.

289) (Prayer) My heart is full of grief, oh Lord, for a family torn apart by the devils living in one man. A father who performed such an evil that he should be banished from life but who, despite the horror of his deeds, also desperately needs saving repentance and eventually a home with You. Only You, Lord, only You, can snatch him from Hades. Rescue his soul, Lord. Bring him to You by Your unending and limitless mercy. I love You and trust You and I thank You.

You have warmed My heart as have the parents of this lost child. His suffering will be great but he will live. This is a beautiful time of year and so do not be sad. God, My Father, gives Me gifts continually but even more so during this Easter time. He delights in handing Me souls that would have been lost without His divine intervention. Pray that many souls are saved during these days of joy. Purgatory is a place of repentant sinners. They suffer greatly but their hearts are full of love and joy in the promise of a place in Heaven. Purgatory is a purification, a place of such love that souls suffer willingly and come to Me in such ecstasy as they know they will be clean when they see Me again.

You child, must suffer much if you are to become clean before death. I want you to accept it willingly so as to attain your reserved place in Heaven. It is with love I tell you this and it is with love of you that I offer it to you. The world needs so much grace and My people are the way to obtain it for this suffering world.

Rejoice as My people are many. Do not be discouraged as good will triumph. Continue to come and we will have more talks.

290) Do you love me? I ask because I want you to understand that love of Me means sacrifice and trial. There is nothing easy about loving Me when you are human. Ah, but as divine, I can easily love those who strive to spend their life in following and in loving Me! I willingly gave up My life for you. I willingly picked up My Cross for you. I love you and I want to hear often that you love Me.

Do not be so pompous as to think or even hope that your prayers are in themselves accomplishing a wish or desire of yours. Very often there are a number of people praying for the same thing. Your prayers are answered because of the generosity of Me and My Father and the Holy Spirit. All prayers are heard. All prayers are answered but you must not feel you have an exclusive right to the answers that are given. Heaven is pounded with the prayers of My people and all gain favor because of prayer even if the prayer itself is answered in a way that does not meet the hope and intent of the one or ones praying. I want My people to come to Me unfettered by any thoughts of themselves accomplishing through prayer everything they presume to want or need. Sacrifice is more meaningful for those who are willing to offer up their daily aches, pains, and hurts. Sacrifice is even more meaningful when it is self-inflicted by closing to serve. Service to others represents pure sacrifice.

Ah – so you begin to see how your “service” is perceived in Heaven. How your “service” in taking care of others meets the requirements for sacrifice. When you offer your time for others and give up your own free time, there are blessings showered upon you. It is more than just going through life without sin. It is being a servant to others. It is finding yourself in the needs of others. Service, servant – yes – Service = Servant. Therein is the secret of a life lived in God.

291) Enter into the warmth of My Heart. Listen to the very real beating of it and hear the blood as it pours forth for all humanity. That is the pulse which circles the earth – the same pulse that circles every fiber of your being. It is the sound of love flowing out into the world and rescuing my people from the fangs of the evil one. Float upon it, drink it, immerse yourself in it and allow yourself to trust completely in the saving power of My Blood. Feel the kindness and the caring that it brings. Follow the flow of it and you are sure to be on My path. That path of love leads you to My Father and to your heavenly home. Worship the Blood that is the salvation of the world. Adore it and you are in the very presence of God the Father. He does not abandon Me nor does He ever leave My people. When you adore My Blood, you worship the Trinity – that makes up My soul and body and is the essence of love, the core of Heaven.

292) Do you love Me? Do you love Me? Do you love Me? I continue to ask more and more of your time. It is necessary that you love Me to accomplish all I am going to be giving you. I need you to work toward a special favor that I am not ready to reveal to you as yet. Continue in a grace filled prayer life in preparation for this new endeavor I am sending.

Take care that you do not burden others with what you yourself can accomplish. I will deliver help to you when I see the need but you are quite capable of doing many of My requests by yourself.

Follow the leads I am giving you. I am sending special graces so others will also be able to accomplish what needs to be done to bring as many people as possible under the protection of My Mother. Special blessings abound as you work toward this end. Relax in My love and enjoy it with a purity of heart that rests in the arms of My Mother.

Blessings abound and there will be spiritual growth for many. What joy this brings Me!

293) The Gifts of the Spirit are given to those who ask but they are not all given to all. The gifts are in your soul at Baptism and they grow in strength as you receive the Sacraments. Learn to ask for the gifts as events in your life direct you. There are no right or wrong ways to ask for these gifts when one is sincere but prayerful acceptance is essential if they are to be retained. They are willingly given but all are not receptive and so they are never developed into the true gift they were meant to be. Many gifts come with drawbacks for those who want to live their lives in the shadows. It is not this that the Spirit wishes. The Spirit wishes its gifts to be encouraged and developed and used for the benefit of others. The Gifts of the Spirit bring you closer to union with God. You must practice them in order for them to grow.

Why would you take a present and hide it away for years where no one could see it? Wouldn't you want to share it with others and talk about the generosity of the giver? If you were given a rare pearl and hid it away then the beauty of it could never be enjoyed.

The Gifts of the Spirit flood the soul at Confirmation. They are touchable in that one can access them upon request. Never underestimate what you can use these gifts for and how frequently they are made available to you. Draw them up from the well of your soul. Reach out to the Spirit for these Gifts as they are needed in your life. Speak to the Spirit flowing through you. Ask for these Gifts to become prominent in your life. Nurture them. Allow them to wash over you. The more you use them, the more you will receive. You become a walking Temple of the Holy Spirit at Confirmation. Treat yourself as such. Do not allow yourself to be defiled. Keep your soul pure and offer yourself continually to the Holy Spirit. Ask that you find yourself able to turn your entire being over to the use of God; if you remain faithful to prayer and the Sacraments this will come easily. Your path through life will be luminous and you will not stray far from God's plans for you. Each step you take is valuable and can be an offering for direction so that as you age, you join yourself more and more to God. Others will also be praying for you. Open yourself to sit quietly and listen to the voice of God within you.

I love you___. You are special and gifted. God has plans for you but you must set aside daily quiet time to listen to His whisperings within you.

294.) (Prayer) Oh, how I adore You my Lord and my God. How I ache to hold You and tell You how unworthy I am to be so blessed. How I adore Your Precious Body and Blood, which You so generously and lovingly left for us. A special way to continue Your life among us - visible, touchable, consumable. I love You so, oh Lord. Do with me what Thou will.

The days are short now and mankind is not prepared but soon it will be too late for preparation. I have given them many chances to repent – many chances to attend church and visit with Me – many chances to help others with their abundance of wealth – but they continue to plod through their lives as if they were in charge – as if they could direct their destiny. No, they will be caught unaware. Ah, but My people, My people will be given all that is needed to come through this last purification. I will gather them up like fine wheat and bring them into My barn and keep them dry so they may return to the earth after the scourging and plant themselves and multiply and become the sweet fruits of the Lord. Joy will fill the earth. The sweet aroma of My love will permeate the air. At last, a reign of peace on the earth as My Father intended. What compassion My Father has to continue to watch as so many souls abandon Him. He offers so many opportunities for them to repent and return to Him. Many, many do come crawling back. Some beg forgiveness, others offer themselves, still others will turn from His generosity and they will be lost. Heaven cries out in dismay when a soul through their own lack of charity and love is lost to the netherworld. But the joy of one of these souls – snatched from the devil – even in the last moments of their life – My Father will purify them – purge their sins – and welcome them with such rejoicing into His Kingdom. The prayers of His people save these pitiful souls from forever death to life.

Do not cease praying My people. Continue to implore My Father to open the gates of Heaven to those misguided who come begging for His mercy after a life time of ignoring Him. Ask My Father to grant them absolution and turn their harden hearts back to Him. They were born innocent but there is so much evil in the world that their innocence soon turned to selflove and greed. Ah, but that evil is being removed – routed from earth – good people are marching forward – progress is being made – the world is being cleansed – peace is coming – do not give up – do not be saddened – the turn has been made and the earth will overflow with goodness again. Pray – pray – pray – live your life as if this moment is your last. One time soon – it will be and you must be ready. God is on your side. Trust in Him.

295) (Prayer) It is good to be here Lord. Wrapped in Your love and warmed by Your presence. Cast Your eyes upon me and do not forget Your days with me as I struggle to improve my life and my relationship with You. Bring me again and again here where I may worship You and try in such a small way to draw closer to You. Bless me and my family and friends and keep me ever Your faithful friend. The rest of my days fall into place so much better when I have spent time with You. Help me to learn how to please you better. Help me to follow You more closely. Help me to come to You for all my wishes and needs so You are pushed into leading me more strongly. Tie us together so I will never leave You. Draw me to You like water to the sun.

Oh child, you are such a pleasure! Surely you realize how each of My people bring Me such joy. Continue to express your love for My people, your caring for those I send to be placed around you. Draw close to Me through your prayer life and the Sacraments. There are so many who have never heard of Me the way you have - My gift to you so that you, yourself, might bear fruit. Your trust in Me pleases Me and I give you more and more earthly responsibilities – all designed to further My Kingdom. It is always with joy that I await your visits. Bring all your troubles and concerns to Me – that is what I love – then I can give you what you wish and need and My will is then carried forward and others can see the importance of making Me first in their lives.

Carry Me with you. Bring Me to others. Caring for others is the best way to show them how to be good Christians.

296) Kindness is one of the best avenues into heaven. Treat others as you wish to be treated. Be generous of your time and attention. Do not neglect to include your family in this – they need your kindness and your love so much more than you know. Reach out to them and let them know how much you care about them. Include them in your life and they will, in turn, include you in theirs. Trust their judgment in how they handle their lives. They are not lost but following a path designed specifically for them. Watch the growth of their children. Follow their paths as they will have more difficulty because of the state of the world. I am putting a large burden on them and I want your calls to help prepare them for it. The world is in flux – I am in charge – but there is much evil that continues to fight for recognition. This evil must be quashed – it must not be allowed to flourish. It is the grandchildren that will fight to eliminate so much hatred, greed, and filth, and turn the world back toward Me. Your job is to pray. I will lead you and show you the way.

297) (Prayer) Oh, Lord, I cannot imagine life without You. How can I even be without You – the “I Am.” I love coming to be with You. It refreshes my soul and my entire body. You truly light up my life with Your love and with the joy You bring me. Draw me ever closer to You until we become one.

How I love thee child. How I wish you the most amazing life. Sometimes you err in the direction but always you return full of new energy and life. I do continue to draw you closer to Me. I do continue to give you special blessings. I hear your fervent prayers.

They are all answered in turn in the best way possible. Child continue to pray – look for more ways to offer sacrifices. They need not be physical but give of Me. Others are starving for good news. They search but do not find. You are able to lead them through example and by continually telling of what you have been given. Haven't I always taken care of you? Your future is even brighter than you imagine. I can't wait to show it to you!

298) (Prayer) Oh, Good Jesus, I love You beyond any earthly thing or person. It is with such sorrow that I find myself forever in sin and lacking compassion for others. Please bring me to You always so I may live my life in Your eyes as a holy and worthy person. It seems impossible but with Your help I know I can make progress.

Bless you child. I love that you come to Me with sincerity of heart. Your life is a mixed blessing of joys and sorrows. All bring you closer to Me when you offer them up for My intentions.

The world is in flux and it is on the verge of the turning of the battle. Continue to pray and offer sacrifice. Take care of your earthly family and continue to maintain contact. I recognize the difficulty of this but they are happy to hear from you even though they do not respond in same. You are going through some rough times but what is most important for their souls is in My hands. Your prayers and small sacrifices are keeping them close to Me. Rest in that knowledge no matter how bleak it seems at the time. I long for the day when we are together so I can show you the beauty of Paradise.

I caution you to stay watchful. The devil is doing his worst but he is woefully outnumbered. So many prayers are ascending to My Father that his (the devil's) power is diminishing. You must do your own to keep him from succeeding even in small ways. Your prayers will aid in this fight as more people will turn to Me for help.

Take one day at a time and trust that I have your best interests in My mind and My works. Do not be anxious but be peaceful in the knowledge that you will continue to be blessed on earth while awaiting your heavenly reward. Come again to visit – I enjoy your presence at My feet.

299) Come to Me as a poor person having nothing to offer. Come as a slave of love. Come as a lost soul – come and seek and you shall find. You shall see the holiness that awaits you for your dedication to Me. I give you love, yes, but I also give you peace of mind in your real destiny. Life is confusing and the path to Heaven can be full of danger but that danger is never spiritual as I am there to protect and lead you. That danger can, however, lead you off the path and tempt you. It is I who will find you and guide you back. You are well on your way home. Do not lose track of that. Keep your life simple and follow where I lead you.

Come to Me often for the sustenance needed for the rest of your journey. You have many more bridges to cross and paths to follow but I will be illuminating them for you so you do not stumble. Trust in your future and do not waste time worrying about it.

300) (Prayer) I need You Lord. I need Your direction, Your path – help me in this decision. Do not allow me to stray.

I come as you request. Care for your family and offer all you have to give. Bring them up a level spiritually by continuing to do for them in a holy and Christ-like way. Do not be discouraged. You are doing what I want of you – be pleased at where you are and grateful for this time of special needs. Carry on as the needs arise and do not be discouraged. Continue on your prayer mission and let Me take the burdens off of your mind. I love you and will not lead you astray. Until the next time you call – I am always here.

301) (Prayer) In the midst of the hurricane I seek you. Your light will not be dimmed by the worsening weather. Throughout the night you kept watch taking those you wanted with you and leaving us to take up Your Cross.

You care much but do little. Look for My path to become more rocky as you seek to follow Me. Your move is as I wish but it doesn't get easier as you age.

You must be prepared to settle for less physical activity and more work with your hands and heart.

Care for the weakest of My people – give them hope and a future. Lead the little ones to Me. Teach them – love them – brighten their lives – open their eyes. Take the initiative and I will do the rest.

302) Did you come for Me or you?

(Prayer) Oh Lord, You give me so much more than I could ever hope to give You.

My blessings are always with you. Do not look for signs among the pagans. Look for signs among those who choose to follow My path. There are those and they are many, who wish to destroy, but there are more who wish to build up. Pray for the next generation. Pray they are courageous and stay fast in their values. They have much to suffer but they will light the path for those who follow them. Give them your attention now. Let them know you have their back if only as a prayer warrior. They will be My leaders and they need prayers to keep them strong and faithful to My promises.

When you are at last settled again, and you will be settled soon, I will illuminate your new path more clearly. It is not for you to concern yourself now. Prayer continues to be the best avenue for you and it will win over the most hardened hearts.

Open your purse to the charities I call to your attention. Often it is in the smaller avenues that the most important work is done. Be generous as you see fit.

As you look for and await the next few weeks, keep yourself focused on the most important things. Prayer, yes, of course, but make yourself helpful even when it goes unnoticed. There is much to do where you are. Cry out to Me when you are confused and unsure and I will be your guiding light. Follow it and you will be safe in My hands in a short time.

Remember to love – when you don't know what else to do – love. It is the small word with the most amazing, far-reaching consequences. Your actions of love define you and the memory of them will live on in those who also love you.

303) “Glory to God in the Highest and peace to His people on earth,” that is My hope – that people will learn to live in peace and acceptance. Where there is hate you must sow love. Where there is injury – show how important it is to forgive. My people are loving, caring, and kind to one another. It is not so different than when I lived. So many different tribes – all wanting their way to be the norm. It isn't necessary to scorn those who do not think and feel as you do – be accepting of them – care for their needs. Reach out in kindness and love.

Wait for the time that feels right to involve yourself in parish ministries. There is plenty of need in the community and you need time to sort it out. Watch and wait and look forward to Christmas. There will be time in the new year to establish yourself and settle into a routine that enhances your prayer life.

Console those who grieve. Minister to those in need. Pray always and come visit with Me as you can. I am always there for you – Call My name often and it will bring you peace.

I love you now, I loved you before, and I will always love you. Blessings are being showered on you, your family, and your home. All will be well for a while.

Enjoy this time. Peace – Peace – Peace – I send you Peace and Joy as the world moves toward Christmas.

304) Why did you come?

(Prayer) You know I can't stay away Lord. You draw me to you like a bug to water or a moth to light. I am not complete without You. You show me the path to eternal life. You light the way. You bring me peace. You shelter me. You love me. How could I stay away?

Oh Child, I know all these things but it brings Me such pleasure to hear you say them. I am always happy to see you when you visit Me. Come often – if only for a moment or two but remember I am always right where you are all the time.

You will find much joy in this parish. There is a beautiful spirituality that brings peace. There is much to do here and you will find it your home before you know it. Use this time, when you are unknown to so many, to enrich your spiritual life. Draw even closer to Me. Speak with Me always about your life, your day, your family – all that brings you happiness and all that makes you sad. Caress Me in those moments of need and I will return the love seven-fold.

Familiarize yourself with your surroundings. Reach out to others. You have much to do now in your own house. Clear your path enough to arrange your Christmas in a way that gets things done in a workable way so you don't stress so much over the next few weeks.

You have projects that can wait and others that should be done soon. Pray over them and pick the ones most important and that will be the most needed and most useful. A delay doesn't mean years but a timely delay so you don't add so much to your plate at the same time. A want/need list may help but you can do that without pen and paper.

Now settle down here and just let us enjoy being together.

305) I bring you the peace of a world at Christmas time. I bring you the gift of a child so pure and loving. I want you to come more often and visit. Spend time with Me. There is still much to do and so much to learn. We have many hours of visits left and you can search for time with Me at home. It's a different pattern but you will learn to work with it. I am not finished with you yet but the time is coming when our visits will be less and less satisfying to you. Do not fear – your longing will one day be sated.

306) (Prayer) Come thou long-awaited Savior. Enter into our hearts – enter into the deepest recesses of our being. Come be our inner light so that we may shine forth in the darkness of the night and be a welcoming beacon for those near and far. Come thou Lord – Come and bring us the hope that this world can and will learn to live peacefully with one another. Bring the beauty of the Babe of Bethlehem into our homes and our hearts. Come Thou long-awaited one. Come.

When the need is greatest you will find Me there. When you do not even realize you need Me, you will find Me there. When you tire, when you hurt, when you laugh and smile – when a beautiful or sad memory floats across your mind – you will find Me there. When you look expectantly and sometimes with trepidation towards the future – I am with you. I never leave you. I am always your companion. We walk together. We live together. I answer your voice. I direct your path. I lead you home. Yes, home. You belong to My family. I have a place for you – it is yours alone. No one else can fill it. Should you ever abandon Me, the place would go unfilled for eternity – an emptiness that no one else could fill. Each of My people – each living soul – has a place to come home. Sadly, regrettably, many do not and the cobwebs invade the home I had intended for them. Be My light – show the lost the beautiful home that awaits them. Do not let them lose their way home. Bring a lost soul – even ones you do not know – with you every time you pray or visit or do a good deed. Adopt these lost souls spiritually and carry them next to your heart. Many of these souls only need the love and prayers of the living souls to save them from an eternity of pain.

Cry out for them and I will hear you. I will send legions of angels for even one soul if it can be saved.
Yes – your prayers – you carrying that lost soul –
these can be life-saving measures for the lost sheep.

I love you. I come to you. I want you near Me always.

Your friend, Jesus.

307) (God the Father speaks) Such is the world today that even the celebration of the birth of My Son – the moment that changed the world forever – is superseded by such want and greed that it casts a shadow over much of the world. But My Son is Light itself. He brings joy into the hearts of My people. He opens the door for a more responsive world - a place to want to live and participate in the betterment of it. My Son is My joy and I give that joy to My people. They must spread it and open the hearts and eyes of those lost in darkness. Do not cease praying for lost souls. Not everyone received the gift of My Son the way the shepherds and the kings did. Not everyone gazed upon the Child with longing and love. Reach out to those souls who still walk in darkness. Give them hope. Give them love. Tell them about the Light that entered the world so many years ago – but a Light that remains - a Light that beckons in the darkness - a Light that blinds the eyes of those who reach for it until their very souls become a part of the Light. Use your light to brighten the way for others to follow – to step into the joy and the Light My Son has left in the world. He loved His life on earth. He loved being a part of His people. He loved until His death on the Cross but that did not stop Him – His love only intensified. He wants so much to save all His people. He enters into the hearts and souls of all who will have Him but a responsibility comes with that – an urge – a need – a quest to show others this Light – this part of your being that has so much to give to them. It's true – not everyone is receptive but God does not judge you by how receptive others are but by how much you try. How much you love. How much you profess your Love of God. These are the ways of My Son on earth. Not everyone who heard believed. Not everyone was receptive to His voice. But with all His heart He brought redemption to all who followed Him. No one was excluded except those who clung to the hatred and linked themselves with evil. A choice everyone must make but, oh, what terrible consequences for the wrong choice. This is why you must continue to pray, beseech, offer sacrifice, come to Church, receive the Sacraments, attend Adoration. Your life can change the lives of others. Your life can be an offering to appease Me for all the hatred in the world. When you mistreat others, you mistreat My Son. When you slander others, you also slander My Son. When you judge, abandon a soul, refuse to do a good deed, sit by while others work – all of this is directed at My Son. But when you do all those good things I have listed for you – you walk the path of My Son – My Jesus – My Child. You become one with us. You enhance the earth and a light turns on. Be that light! Be that beacon. Shine, child shine!

308) I have come bringing peace and joy to those who opened their hearts to receive Me. There is no joy when someone closes their life to receiving Me. Those people are like a ship floundering on an ocean of unruly waves. They spend their lives tossed about like pebbles on a beach.

I have plans and hopes for each new birth. Every child has the possibility of greatness. Greatness can and is in little things as well as large accomplishments. Each soul has a purpose and is linked in so many ways to other souls. There is always a star to guide you – to lead you closer – ever closer to Me and to your place in Heaven. Follow those little thoughts and voices that are God-given directions and you will find the satisfaction and the peace you seek. Do not concern yourself with small slips but turn back to the path and continue on your way. What joy when you at last walk the last few steps hand in hand with Me. Together we will enter through the gates of Paradise. You will be so overjoyed at what awaits you - your parents, your friends, your family – all looking forward to showing you into your forever home.

Oh, child! Can you try and imagine a life free of longing, free of pain and suffering, freedom to reach out to those still on earth. My plan will be crystal clear after death and you will find so many more ways to love and serve Me that your heart will be alive with joy.

309) Come child, cheer up. There are many good things that will come from the next four years. No one is sinless but, although some sins are more noticeable to the masses, those are less likely to be mortal in nature and so are easier to overcome. This is a time of change and I have promised you changes in the world. Good and evil will continue to battle but My Father is in charge – have no doubt about that. Prayers are so dense as they ascend this day, He will be answering them quickly and the world will take notice.

Do not be anxious. I am caring for you and your family. They rest in the palm of My hand. Come as you can and do not be discouraged when you can't get here. Your life will settle into routine soon enough. I am still here waiting for these precious quiet moments but I am always with you and available to speak to you as you need Me, whether you call or not. Just pray always and I will pray with you.

Come now, warm yourself in My Heart. I love you and will hold you close as your days shorten.

Your Jesus, your God, your love, your life.

310) Oh child, do not fret about your lack of belonging. Continue with our visits and work to enhance your spiritual life during this dry time of comradery. All are here to worship Me and they are not here to recognize you. Patience, patience, patience.

311) My little one, you please Me with your desire to please Me. I am happy you are beginning to find a home in this parish. What a joy to feel you belong – but you have never felt that absence of love and acceptance with Me and you never will. I am here as always. I am listening as always and I am answering as always. You have a lovely weekend coming up. Enjoy it and relax in My love for you and your family.

My Father has blessed you as I have. Continue to come. It pleases Me so that you make time for Me but do not neglect your family duties to come as I am always with you even in your darkest moments and your busiest hours. Feel My presence and relax in My love.

312) What a joy to see you here! Your time has been full and you have made wise choices on how to use it. Coming here is a joy for you, so giving it up for other life interruptions is also a sacrifice.

I want you to learn to be more accepting of others. Be less judgmental and have no condescension. All are living their lives in ways that matter to them. Some want to change but the ability to change eludes them. You yourself are changing – working to improve but often failing when you least expect it. The old self surfaces and you are crushed at the realization that change has again eluded you. Change comes from deep within – it is a constant effort. You must reckon with your conscious before you release your tongue. You must take in all of life before you roll your eyes in frustration. You are only one who struggles. All are fighting their own demons. The devil knows exactly how to place himself in the most slender of moments so that your responses will be painful to others and destroy your own joy. There is such beauty in others and you must search it out. Underneath – below the visible – that is where you are to seek the real person. There you will find the hurt, the lonely, the scars of life, perhaps the illnesses – but there also is the soul. I am there. I am as much with that person as I am with you. Yes, you are special. You have received special gifts but you have also been subject to pains, hurts, misunderstandings, and sorrowful events. It is all of life that must bring you peace and joy. You can't pick and choose what you will accept as My will and what you will revolt against. Nothing is given you that I have not weighed with your ability to handle it while still remaining faithful to Me.

You are strengthened and infused with graces when you receive the sacraments, attend Mass, visit Me in the chapel, take family duties. You are not just doing My will when you give up (things), but also when you receive joyfully what I have handed you. Be at peace and you will be as close to Me as you want. Be in a state of joy and thanksgiving and we are together. Be loving and giving and yet totally grateful and you are pleasing Me. Do not beat yourself up over slip ups but be determined to learn from them and turn away from those faults. Do not feel uselessly ignorant and unable to change because then you turn from Me and develop hopelessness. You are capable of Heaven – you are capable of immense love – you are capable of searching yourself and others and finding all those pieces you felt you lost. I will make you whole again. I will see that you gain your rightful place in Heaven. Your joy will be complete and you will radiate with love. Come now – continue your journey.

313) All right – you are in your home and all is well. You are close to church and all is well. Do not discount these as they are gifts to you from Me. It is My wish to see you happy.

314) Blessed be the Lord, the God who saves. Blessed be the Lord, the God who condemns the wicked. Blessed be the Lord the God who transmutes sentences of eternal death as He sees fit.

Come to Me now as never before and enter into My Passion. Take from Me what you need and do not fear asking for what you want. There are blessings to be had for the asking. I know what you think, what you wish, and what you do. Do you not know that I want to be asked? I want to shower My people with happiness and goodness. I want them to enjoy their life on earth. I did not take away their ability to laugh and smile when I took away their Garden of Eden. Life is terrible and miserable for some always and they must struggle for the benefit of others. They have already earned their rewards in Heaven by their lack of a decent life on earth. Their lives benefit the souls of those who do not know Me. Their lives are beacons of hope for those who sin. They are living a hell on earth for the sick and for those dying in sin. Many souls are saved by their lives of suffering. Blessed are those who suffer without hate. For those who suffer without relief. For those who offer up their suffering for others. For those who give what little they have to others even more needy than they. These consummate suffers are going to give new life to the world. These suffers are My people. I walk with them always. Their lives are not wasted but are part of what God, My Father, wants in retribution for so many sins and atrocities that continue to happen daily. Not an eye for an eye but a suffering for a sin – and the most precious kind of suffering – that suffering offered for the sins of others. Peace comes through pain and sorrow. Peace comes through offerings of love.

(God the Father) My Son understands that Peace.

315) Ah, what joy to have you here. You lighten the darkness of the world by your coming. There is no corner I do not see and no corner I do not sweep but alas the filth and dirt continue to mount against Me. But do not fret as there are corners that stay clean – that enlarge the light I offer the world and the beacons spread to the rot around them and love blossoms. People rise up and are counted as My soldiers. An army of love and tolerance and acceptance is being born. Inadequacies are being pointed out and people are coming out of their dozes and seeing the world as it should be. Goodness is beginning to triumph over hatred and bigotry and light is brightening up the darkness. Change is not just coming as I have promised but it is here. It is palpable. You must not cease praying that the good of the world flows out and smothers those whose evil has long – too long – been in charge of the world. Do not cease praying and offering sacrifices – even the smallest itch can help change the world if it is offered up with joy.

So – where do you go from here? I've promised to lead you and so I shall. Look for signs of distress and unhappiness and do not fear to step in as I shall be with you. Attend to the least among you and you shall be blest with the purpose you seek. Send forth your spirit ahead of you and the path will illuminate so that you have no doubt or fear that it is the one I have chosen for you.

The Ninth Year

316) I enter into your heart and take up residence as you adore and contemplate My wounds. I carried the Cross for you and all mankind. I saw the state of My world as I hung on the wooden beam. All lives flashed in front of Me. But not all was death and dying. There were glimpses of joy and life because of My suffering and death. I wanted more and more to see this joy and so I asked My Father for more and more suffering. I knew the more I suffered, the more souls would follow Me to Heaven. Such joy filled My Heart that I could die for My people.

As I hung there, pinned to My Beloved Cross, I prayed. I prayed for you, child. I prayed for your family. Strung like a piece of wet cloth on a clothes line, whipped by the wind until every drop of blood was drained – I prayed. I would have continued to stay there but My Father couldn't – wouldn't allow it. His suffering in watching was also great – oh, but He heard and answered My prayers. You see, I have you. You, I love because I ransomed you with My blood – My flesh fell from My Body – but I have you! So precious are you to Me. So in love with you am I. You come – you love – you share your life with Me. You welcome Me into your home – your family – your life – your heart. Oh, the joy I see from the Cross! Oh, the wonder of it. Despite all the pain I would do it again and again if My Father would have allowed it. You are My child because I hung there. You are here at Adoration because I hung there. My joy was to save My people from death – and so I died for you – for all – and I am filled with joy.

317) You came with joyful heart and celebrate My Passion in ways pleasing to Me. Do not be distressed over the shortness of time as you are here now and I have been here to greet you and let you know how special it is to Me to see you as often and in so many different venues. You see prayer doesn't have to always be the stillness of heart you seek but it can encompass others and thus the praise is multiplied. Go with joy and take My love to all you meet. Such a beautiful day I have given you to enjoy.

318) How dreadful a story is My Passion. How unable to believe and to stand the horror of it. Sins, My child, the result of so many sins. It is only the goodness of returning souls of those who continue to strive for perfection - those were rays of hope and I was comforted by them also as I hung on the Cross. I wanted to stay there but already My Father had given me extra strength to suffer as long as I did. I still wanted more - I wanted Him to see the sorrowful plight of those lost so that He would let Me hang for all the more. He gave Me many gifts as I hung there. Those saints to be were also shown to Me. Those whose souls would wing their way to Heaven because of the death I suffered. Those I saw who would cling to My Cross as I Myself was pinned to it. Oh, child, those souls, how I loved those souls. How I love them still. So many of My people joyously coming with Me as I closed My earthly eyes for good. The temple cloth ripped as the heavens opened and My people ascended in awe to their forever home with Me.

Blessed are those who suffer for Me, their reward is so great because I knew of them when I hung in such misery on the blessed wood. I was happy to do it for them and for all. My Father is all love. Be all love, follow Me and be all love. Nothing can conquer a person who loves much and gives of himself. Nothing can conquer love. Come join Me in this quest to introduce others to My love. Come join Me in My suffering. Come to Me as never before. Come to Me now.

319) You have come again to visit and adore. My wounds are lessened for all those who made amends. I see those damned forever and My wounds bleed. I am less complete for each person who turns from Me. But that turning is a choice and I cannot allow a traitor in Heaven. Those who do not – will not – repent and attempt to make amends only fall deeper into the pit of self-absorption. I pity them and I feel their loss. --- Yes – I will always love and wish for a change of heart of those who have condemned themselves to hell. They have lost all hope and, while that makes Me sad, I continue to love them. Sadly, that makes them angry. They condemn themselves over and over. Always I give them free will; always they are offered a hope that sparks only briefly before they extinguish the flame and sink deeper into the pit of their own making.

My people surround Me and adore. They offer themselves as reparation for others. They are My people, My loves, My joys. They populate Heaven and carry their joy to those still of the earth. They do not cease working to save as many souls as will let them into their lives and their hearts. They make Heaven a working joy of happy people – always looking for ways to improve the souls of the earth and unite them forever with the soul of God. Pity those who tear away and think they can make it without Me. They fail so miserably but still they resist. They are convinced they are in control of their lives and I am not needed. They are going through life with their eyes and hearts closed. Ah, but prayer has opened many of these sinners to ways of God. Do not despair – all is in My hands.

320) Remember to be kind. Offer consolation – offer condolences – pray for those in need – care for yourself and the sick, tired, and poor. Look for Me in their eyes. Find the sliver of humanity that others have missed. Do not let go of your pride in being one of My own. Use that to show others My way. It is hard to be proud when you are nailed to the Cross but I am proud of My Father for allowing Me to die for sin. I am proud of Him for the immense love He showed to the world through Me. He and I hung there together. Yes, be proud to suffer. It is a privilege. Do not be remorseful. Allow Me into your suffering. It is the Way of the Cross. You will learn much in the next few weeks and I will be with you. Blessed are those who suffer willingly.

321) So, I surprised you by giving you an opportunity to come and visit. You can see how alone I am. There is work being done around My altar but you are here to keep Me company while I am displaced.

Easter Day was My gift to all and this year you had beautiful weather and a beautiful day. I was there. I walked among you. I whispered in the breeze. I chirped with the birds. I scurried with the squirrels and geckos. Such fun we had and all on such a special day in such a special year. Will you come more often and visit with Me? Blessings abound when you do. In the meantime, relax in My love.

Take Me with you when you leave and distribute Me to those you meet. Take My Body and My love and let it show as an adoration throughout this evening. I go with you in form and substance so that those upon whom your eyes rest and upon whom your thoughts dwell will receive a special draught of My blessings.

Go now in love and peace and your feet will take flight. My blessings are heavily upon you tonight and always.

322) You come today with much love and caring. So many things happen which are hard to imagine as being in the will of God. They are not all My will but I allow them and I open doors afterward which are not always used.

There are some who wallow in their unhappiness and get some pleasure from the empathy of others. Blessed are those who seek Me in these moments and who come with open arms, accepting what has happened and praying for a solution or at least the best response. Not everyone is accepting that the world is never going to be perfect for them or for anyone as long as the devil still prowls. One day – in the not-too-distant future – the devil will lose his power to haunt the souls on earth. Then will the earth respond with splendor. Then will the birds sing and chatter to the foxes. Then the lion and the lamb become best friends. The flowers and trees respond with continued beauty – beauty such as man cannot ever imagine. Glimpses are given here and there of the joy and beauty that await. Oh, then will I walk My beloved earth again. Then I will be able to have My seasons with My people. Such joy will abound, such love and caring. Pray that this happens sooner than the world expects. The devil is finishing up his allotted time. Goodness is taking hold and routing him from even the most desolate of areas. People are experiencing a rebirth in their hearts. They are crying out to Me for more. They are asking for Me to be active in their lives. Pray, pray, pray for this always – a change of heart – a blessing bestowed – a love outpoured. There will be a heaven on earth in the future and you will see it reflected in the entire world and universe. Be joyful therefore and await with loving anticipation. Do not be discouraged but rejoice – rejoice – rejoice! The Lord has truly come into the world to save it – to save souls – to cuddle all into His arms and hearts. Spread this love – this longing – this happy news to all. It is the same message but the time is ever so much closer now. Again, I say to you, look up to the heavens for Me and rejoice, rejoice, rejoice! The time is now – it begins – watch for the signs – small at first and then expanding so that even the slow to learn cannot miss them. Come to Me again and again and again and together we will watch the world change. Rejoice! Rejoice! Rejoice!

323) You have come to Me in the sunlight and reached out for a moment of connection. It is here I also meet you and am pleased you have come. I am always with you and you should take more opportunities for union. My Mother also watches over you. You have only to call and we will be there. Have you no plans for yourself this summer? You are busy making plans for others and you acquiesce to what others want. How would you like to take a journey with Me? We can always meet right where you sit now and converse as we do in church. I want you to always know you can find Me without the surroundings of church. I provide the beauty you see from where you sit. It is nothing compared to what awaits in Heaven but it is a taste of beauty here on earth. Flowers spring up to greet you in unexpected places and you must rejoice at those times for it is a gift to you.

324) You come with wishes for health for your family members as they undergo medical procedures. You are right to be concerned but I have taken them under My care and they will be in a good state eventually.

Now there are other things that you concern yourself with, that I told you I have stepped in and will eventually remedy those situations, so put them aside. Reach out to others by praying intimately for them. Bring joy and friendship so that you will find yourself more accepted. I miss seeing you but I also understand the reasons you have not been here. Come when you can. I accept your will have days when that is difficult but remember we can always be together no matter where you are. I AM – I am with you always.

I AM- I am with you now. I AM – I am going to be with you at the end. Peace, relax, enjoy your upcoming visitors. Bring them peace also.

325) I have come into the world so that you might have life. I have come so that you and others will come to know me and adore. I have come to breathe life into dead souls and to enlighten those who desire to follow Me. I have come and will continue to come, to come to all who seek - to all who ask – to all who love. Be with Me now and you will be with Me always.

What joy! What bliss! What beauty I will show you. Ah, but you have only to pray and stay close to Me now. Your hour will come when we will meet face to face and then you will see all your trials and efforts made whole. Then will you see the glory of God. Then the Heavens will open to receive you and I shall be there to escort you in. My gardens will be your gardens. My home will be your home. My family will be your family. It is a place of love. It is a place of beauty. It is My house, the house of the Lord. Come now and be with Me here and now so that you will be with Me forever and always. Love cannot be broken between us. Love cannot dissolve away. Love is now and always. It is My gift to you this special day. Love is yours in abundance and you will carry it with you and give it to all you wish. Just set the eyes of your soul on those you wish to be a part of My love and they shall experience a special draught of My love and mercy. Toss your cares to Me today and relax in My love.

326) You come in the darkness when the world is just beginning to see signs of the sunrise. You come in the cold, the rain, the intense heat of summer. I notice. I love you for it. My heart bursts with blessings for you and your family. There can be no turning back. We are one. We are joined. We are in a relationship of love.

Can you see how everything you do and say – how every feeling you have – how you meet people – how you see things – all are intertwined – all are designed and occur in a fashion designed to improve our relationship. I need you to be aware of your surroundings. I need you to notice people and things. I place them in your path. Some are tougher than others but if you stumble I'm there to pick you up. It is better to try and fall than to avoid those places where you can make a difference.

You come when you are troubled but you also come just to visit with Me. You can find Me everywhere you go and so you can stop for a few moments and visit no matter where or when.

Cradle My love for you as I cradle you in My arms and heart. Talk to Me, sing to Me, love Me without stopping. I am always near you. I always hear you. I know your every breath – and I know when you will draw your last breath. The world will grieve but you will rejoice. Your love can be given from Heaven and those you leave behind will feel your presence. Your work on earth is not finished with death, it is only intensified.

Allow your eyes to caress Me through to your heart.
Allow your heart to split so as to receive Me fully.

327) Come to My heart. Come join Me in dying to self and living for others. Come – be a part of My earthly army who gathers and sows and allows the branches of the vine to multiply and spread. Do not forsake Me for worldly things but be content to enjoy what I have given you. Blessed are those who live meagerly but whose soul is united to mine. Cradle the world in your heart by being kind to all you meet, by welcoming them into the soul of your company and accepting them as they are. Many are bruised and broken but you do not recognize it outwardly. You must search their soul and penetrate their harden exterior. So much unrecognized suffering in the world, if only people would understand the blessings derived by offering those pains to Me. It would do so much to alleviate the wrongs in the world. Offer up all of those for the reparation of the sins of others, then come to Me and offer them a second time for My suffering. You shall be triple blessed by these works, prayers, and sufferings. They are beneficial to others and they are beneficial to My suffering. I multiply your small gifts and they are magnified in the world. Blessed those who suffer for My name's sake. Blessed those inwardly tortured who hide their pain from the world. Their lives are often a living hell and your joy around them can be contagious and give them moments of light. Do not neglect to smile, laugh, and lighten the dark corners of the world. Attitude can be a means of prayer. Happiness can be contagious if you bring it at the right moment. Enter into My soul and I will direct your outward persona as well as your spiritual soul. I am all – I am your light. I am your teacher – and yes, I am your God. I am all powerful – all mighty – all loving – but also all just. You earn your place in Heaven by the works you do on earth. Come to Me in the stillness, in the lightning and thunder, in the day and in the night. Meet Me everywhere and in everyone. Make this earth a haven for the lost and lonely. Invite them into your heart and home and, yes, into your garden. There is a peacefulness in a lush garden that cannot be found anywhere else on earth.

328) Enter into a new chapter of your life but also of the world. See the changes occurring and rejoice knowing they are part of My plan. Enjoy your time amidst the summer flowers and in the shade of My trees. A time is coming when only a select few will enjoy My gifts as I am taking them from those who displease Me and I will give them to those deserving of them.

Children will benefit from this new earth. They will rise up to new heights and lead with authority. The world is tired of war and children do not want to live under the threat anymore. This childish desire races to the heart of My Father and He wishes to alleviate this suffering. Payment for past sins of a warring world is nearing its end. A new peaceful world will arise and we will be able to see each other more clearly. Join with Me in prayer to My Father to hasten this joyous time. Peace will flow like a river from Heaven to earth and even across the ocean so that the grace that peace brings will cover the war zones and keep children with their parents and loving families. Do not fear – I have said it and you can be certain – this new chapter in the world is beginning. Peace be to you and to all mankind. I love you and want you to return more often,

Your friend, God.

329) Oh child, you come in such sorrow with a heavy load that burdens your heart. Some you love are struggling more than they let you know and it affects the children. You have seen firsthand the heartaches, confusion, and sorrow of leaving the Sacraments. You are witnessing the breakup of a reasonable world by a few unreasonable leaders. But, as I have told you so frequently, all is in My hands and it will turn in a most unexpected way. You must lighten your heart and make your day a joyous one despite all that swims in your head about the events for which you have only prayer as your means of control. Remember, I am here to answer your prayers. Remember My time is not your time. Remember I work wonders that can't even be dreamed of in a world planted in the ground of the earth.

Seasons come and go. Life ebbs and is reborn. There is still much joy and anticipation for a brighter future. The world is weathering the storm. The sun is beginning to pop through the clouds. Eventually the clouds will part and you will see the world in the light as God, My Father, intended. There is nothing dark about the world that cannot be reached when Light is shown on it. Those desperate spots and situations are being cured one by one. The enemy is being routed. When fear ceases, then progress can be made. People are resilient. People are resourceful. People are joyful by nature. There is a turning to this. There is a new world arising from the ashes of sin and death of soul. The new babies are feeling it and they bring joy to their parents. Of course, they are still of the world but their hope is opening the joy in the deep recesses of their parents' lives. Never again darkness such as the world has witnessed over the last century. Never again the rages of God against an erring humanity. Never again the reign of terror and fright.

Never again, never again, never again. I have spoken.

Go safely in My love 'til we meet again to talk so bluntly with each other. Remember I love you and you must give that love away so that it multiplies and rolls like large ocean waves across the world of humanity. Nothing is done in a vacuum. It is all witnessed and will be repeated. Bad begets bad but, ah, good not only begets good but it spreads and multiplies and fills the cup of the world pushing the evil to the top until it flows out and away leaving only My God-fearing people who will rejoice and sing praise all the day long.

330) *(Prayer) I muddy the waters, oh Lord, as my mind returns over and over to the past and the memories. There are good ones, okay ones, and terrible ones and even memories I have stuffed away as too painful to allow them to surface and float there. I must clear the path back to You, oh Lord, sweep away the dirt and the dust. Blow away the dried crunchy leaves.
Help me Blessed Mother, bring your broom and help me sweep. Oh, St. Joseph, can you bring the blower and get even the dirt that lingers in the cracks? Keep the wind from whistling it all up again so that it buries me alive.
Drive away the demons, the unhappiness, those lingering idle thoughts that continue to return over and over. Do not let me recoil from the touches of love.
Do not let me sleep when there is life to be lived. Do not let me hide away in the depths of self-absorption. Help me, oh Lord, pull me from the well of despair - from the* bottom to the surface and allow me to float in the sunshine of Your face. Pull me up, oh Lord, pull me up.

Sometimes, child, it is better to pray long and hard before you can listen. The seeds of doubt can be troublesome and demeaning but you must look for the good, for the people you have touched, for the lives you have saved, and the help you have given. So many people make their own hell on earth by chasing only the sorrowful and hurtful to remember without the thought that behavior and consequences will never cease to exist. Good begets good but bad begets bad. It is difficult to put things right in a sinful world. You must expend energy and time. Prayer is the avenue that sweeps clean the path. Come into My presence and feel the warmth of My love. Let the world spin on its own for a while. I assure you I will not take that away from you. Take time to breathe in the air and feel the sun blooming in your cheeks.

I care for you, I love you. I want you with Me forever. I want to show you your mansion, the home I have prepared for you, a place of joy and light and laughter. Heavenly music will resound in your ears. Your soul will tingle in the love that surrounds you – not an earthly love that is often filled with love of self but a love that transcends anything possible on earth – an all-consuming love. When love consumes you, you can't help but emit it from you – therein lays the secret of Heaven – an all-consuming love encircling all My people and exuding from them to others. Come now and pray and allow Me to give you a taste of heavenly joy.

331) Did you not come for renourishment? And, of course, you received it. Feel it. Feel it. Feel My love. Cast away the spider webs. Free yourself of encumbrances and come to Me fully and completely. I am always here for you. I bless you, your family, your friends. When you pray for them, I go personally and give them courage and sustenance. They breathe in My love even in the worst moments of their suffering. Your friend has suffered much but is offering it up. Many souls are saved. Many enter Heaven who would have spent years in Purgatory. Sacrifice, suffering, prayer, good deeds, generosity – all keys, all stepping stones – all a speedy entrance into My Heart. How My Father loves these souls. How full they are of the Spirit. How closely they reside in My Heart.

Go in peace. Love Much.

332) Your family is with Me always. They are helping you and will continue to do so.

Keep those who suffer much in your prayers. I am working through their suffering to change the world. There is such beauty in sacrifice and suffering. If only the world would offer it all for the repose of the souls who died in serious sin. They are saved – but barely and have many years to spend in purgatory. Suffering on earth offered for them, brings them to Heaven, where they may serve My Father. Empty purgatory with your earthly suffering and prayers and the earth will be alive again and bloom a garden of saintly people. There is no one else who can work for these poor souls except for the living on earth. Make it a priority and pray every opportunity, particularly as so many more souls are sentenced to purgatory for their sins. You can help relieve their suffering by shortening their time. Do not cease praying. It also keeps you from sinning so prayers for those souls have double meaning to My Father. Remember I love all and I want all in Heaven. It is why I came to earth and why I died such a terrible death. I did it so that all can live. Do not cease praying – it adds so much more to make My own suffering beneficial for those destined for purgatory.

Thank you for coming today. I look for you tomorrow and love it when you visit.

Your Friend, Jesus

333) You can, you know, be with Me as you sleep. I see that your prayers are finished by My angels so that you are given the graces from them as if you said them while awake.

Few people realize how much of a blessing it is to be able to sleep. It is a time of shut-down so that you can wake refreshed and ready to serve the Lord. No one can do any serious work for Me if they are deprived of sleep for long periods of time.

You are right to be thankful if you have a comfortable and warm bed. How wonderful marriage is in that you can renew and refresh your blessed relationship as you come to each other in bed. The warmth of a good marriage is a blessing and should never be taken for granted. There is a peacefulness at having a life partner who loves you as you are and only tries to change you into the best you can be.

The union of marriage is a twofold blessing. You are double blessed when your union produces children – the fruit of the vine. Some are more difficult to harvest than others but all souls will be saved from a good Christian marriage. The blessings of a Sacramental marriage are so strong that the devil cannot break the bond. Sin can only enter when one or the other purposefully opens the door. Seek Me at those moments of testing. Come, pour out your heart to Me. I will send you the necessary graces to remain steadfast and true.

Although the marriage union is dissolved at death, the relationship and love continue to draw you to each other in Heaven. You may continue to work together to harvest the fruits of your marriage whether children or projects.

I bless good marriages – those who remain faithful to Me, particularly when they have seen to the proper raising of their children. No parent is perfect. No parent is always right. No parent has not been sinful at some point as a partner nor as a parent but when they continue to return to Me for forgiveness and guidance, they receive it immediately. Blessed are the good spouses for they are in the bosom of God. Blessed too are the good parents for they have already inherited Heaven.

334) Enter Into My Peace.

Come join the growing group in the inner circle of My Heart. Pulse with Me as the world revolves around you. Slow your pace and make life do your bidding as you follow My path. Come with your prayers and together we will beseech My Father for an end to all fear and hate. Stop the bloodshed before it begins. My Mother is poised to enter into the most hardened of hearts – to snatch them back from the edges of hell and cradle them under her protective coat. War is always eminent when there is a vicious evil in the world. Only with God's blessings can this be avoided. My Mother has His ear and His love. Keep her in your equation as you pray to avoid this war. She skirts lightly on earth but she has the power of Heaven behind her when she asks and prays.

Rains, yes, but bright days follow. The earth is transforming into a rainbow of colors. Rejoice in the blessed rain. It dilutes the rivers and streams and brings fresh water upon the earth. Rejoice in the grandeur of the plans of God!

335) So, you come to hear My voice – and so you shall.

I am always with you, you can always hear My voice, but I know these are special times for you and you come to partake of this closeness.

Have you no thoughts of others? I place their needs in front of you and you pray and commiserate about them but do little to alleviate their sorrow and pain. You can change that; you can be a presence and a hope for those in need. Often it is not a monetary need but a friendship need, perhaps just an ear for listening and a comforting word of empathy. You are not alone – I travel with you. It is I you deprive them of if you isolate yourself in your own little world.

So now, come, sit a little longer. Hear Me tell you I love you and appreciate your faithfulness and dedication to these visits. Open your mind more to your surroundings and take in the needs through what you see, hear, and feel. Do not abandon My people in their need but run to them with your assistance. You have more power through Me than you can ever imagine and I will not disappoint you. Enter into My peaceful heart and I will hold you tightly there for eternity.

Come now – Go now – and together we will light the world with kindness. I love you more than you could ever imagine and I will not allow us to be separated. As life ebbs, My presence increases. Relax I am with you and will come for you when you have completed all the earthly missions I have placed in your path.

334) The Feast of the Passion of St. John the Baptist
–

What did you come to see? A reed broken by the wind? What did you come to see? A host upon a blank altar? What did you expect when you came? That I would jump from the altar and visit My people?

Ah yes! And that is exactly what I do. I visit My people as they come to visit Me. I jump at their voices and dance at their presence. I sing and shout for joy as they praise Me by their mere being here. I am so joyful when they come. I extend special blessings. They earn a place of prominence in My Heart and they will be rewarded greatly in Heaven. Feel the mutual love that is special, the giving and receiving of a piece of each other; a bond, a special connection, a permanence that cannot be forgotten or broken. It is a personal commitment – a covenant between us. Oh, the joy of it! I am so pleased. Ask what you will. If it is for your good, it shall be immediately granted.

335) Would you write of My kindnesses to you? Would you bless those in need? Would you come and join Me as often as you can? I am in need of active souls who will not abandon Me. Do not be nervous – I will never ask more than you can bare. I love you too much – I love all My suffering people. They are the masses of miserable humanity who are dealing with many daily crises. They need your prayers, your donations, your love, and you must care for them in your heart. You must consider carefully the next job you will be given. Open your heart to prayerful discernment and I will be willing to accept your answer either way. I realize you are not alone and do not wish to be alone. I will grant that and accept what must be a joint decision.

Enter into My peace. You are already in My Heart.

336) Come into My presence completely. Enter into My very heart. Listen to how it beats for you and for all. It is the rhythm of life – the life of the very universe itself. It longs for peace and harmony but it cannot be found. A brief peace will come but only at a price. How I wanted this world of mankind to be different. How I wanted it to be a reflection of My Father's love. It is the poor choices, the greed, the arrogance, the inability to put others above self that sinks the world into the mud of sin. Wash yourselves clean, I cry out. Cleanse the horror of sin from your souls. It is so simple. You only need to be sorry and ask forgiveness. But, alas, that happens with only a few.

I want so much from those few. They are stronger than all the evil in the world. They must atone. They must storm Heaven with prayer, sacrifice, and good deeds. So few can turn the world around. Like salt, it takes only a little to bring taste to food. It takes only a little prayer to save the soul of one destined for hell. Do not think you aren't able to make a difference – you can – even with only a little offering. I cry out to you for this. I ask My Father to open your eyes and your arms. Accept what is given you and put your heart and soul into accomplishing it. Do not be misled by others but remain steadfast to correcting the challenges that are sent you. Bring the world to its knees for Christ. Believe in the major difference a single devoted soul can make. Even a simple prayer is heard, answered, and flies into the world to attack evil. Do not be discouraged but rejoice in the help I am sending. Love many, love all, love Me - it is the way to Heaven. The most direct path. Comfort the afflicted – comfort the sorrowing, comfort the grieving, comfort those frightened and hurting. Bring comfort to others and I shall cradle you in complete comfort in My arms.

Love as I have loved. Do not feel this is unreachable. The more love you dispense the more your heart will overflow so that you will never be without a source of love for others. Ask for it and it shall be given to you. Open your heart to others – do not hide your goodness in silence but shout the love of God to others by your deeds and actions.

I am with you now and forever. I want you to purposefully bring others into your heart and thus to My Heart, uniting our hearts and those of all mankind. How I love you! How I love the world! How I love all people. I died in agony out of love. Can I do more? Of course, but it is going to be through you and those who you bring to Me.

337) Have you come again to be with Me? How that pleases Me because I know you have a busy schedule today and many concerns. What would you have Me to do?

(Prayer) Oh Lord, I worry so about my children. I don't know what to ask for them except that you lead them firmly in the path You most would like them to follow. So mixed up and confused they seem to be, not knowing exactly what has gotten them into their situations. You know they are good people and very loving toward You. Bring them even closer and shelter them spiritually, emotionally, physically, and financially. I love You, Lord, for I know You will do this because I have asked.

Thank you for all Your gifts, particularly the gifts of my children and family. Be with me today.

338) Prayer) My head is so disoriented and tired today and it spins with chores I should be doing. Thank You for this busyness which completes my days but do not, please, let it interfere with our time together. Help me to take You with me as I go from place to place and project to project. Help me to make the most of my days so that I may present them to You and offer up what little they amount to for Your honor and glory.

Oh child, you lack sleep and are surely out of sorts but that is to be expected as a part of life. It is not a disruption of our relationship but an enhancement of what it means to be close to each other. I am there when you sleep and when you are awake. I am there when you are busy or relaxed. I am always right here with you. Do not continue to try to understand but be grateful knowing I am listening to your calls.

Grab a pencil sometimes when you are sitting or even working and jot down some happy thoughts, you will see that some always come to mind despite the sleepiness you are experiencing this morning. All is well. I stayed with you as always. Now rest and bask in My love as you sit here for the remainder of Adoration.

Pray to the Holy Spirit for knowledge and help in your endeavors.

339) Enter into My peace. See the world as it will be when all humanity strives to serve each other;

when the hearts and minds join as community; when love triumphs and draws all back to God. See the earth blossom all year and the oceans recede to their proper boundaries. See the birds make their nests in the lion's den and pick the seeds from his mane. See it all as I once saw it and will rejoice with you when it can be seen again.

Tear yourself from the mundane and be useful in your time here. Look at Me through the eyes of longing. Do not seek other worthless and short-lived pleasures but build up what you can never lose. Join up with the earthly army seeking justice and sanctity for themselves and others. Seek Me in the poor, yes, but also in the sick. All are My people. All are kept in My Heart. It beats with every breath of every living soul and hopes and prays to My Father for an end to sin, to hatred, to the animalistic desire for blood. Return to Me – be with Me – come join Me – come enjoy the shelter of My Heart. Do not be discouraged but rejoice. Put your house in order and search Me out unencumbered by earthly trappings.

340) You are blessed. You are blessed not because of anything you have done or have not done. You are blessed because I have placed you where you are now. You were born to your family, not by chance, but through My Divine Will. You were born with a penchant to write, to pray, to excel in your daily prayer life. You were placed where you could follow My plan for you. You have overcome obstacles and misfortune. You have thrived on what you have been given and have not been disappointed when there were earthly things unattainable. Yes, I have nurtured you and guided you – I have lighted your path; when you were too weary to walk, I carried you.

Do not be disappointed that you cannot be with Me more here at Adoration but be grateful that I have given you other missions that need to be accomplished. You are My earthly army, responding to My every call. You are always ready to do battle when I ask, even when it is uncomfortable for you. There are battles yet to be fought and you can assist by listening to My directions. It is often prayer and sacrifice that will bring the hoped-for answer; but other times it is the harder part – the acceptance of the unanswered prayer – but not unanswered – redirected to My will – and you must accept the outcome. I am always on your side and you can call upon Me in the good times and the sorrowing times.

You are earning your place in Heaven on this My earth. It is My earth, and My place is among My people, My family, My Church. I am also with the homeless, the destitute, the criminals, the abortion suffers, the soldiers and the civilians, the poor and the rich, the priest and the rabbi. There is no one who escapes My touch. Your life, your prayers, your offerings help to open the eyes of the blind and help the deaf to hear. Touch others and be aware that you are really offering My touch. Reach out to help and know it is I who reach with you. Pray and I pray with you. Counsel and I give you the wisdom of the Spirit. Do not think those places you find yourself are accidents. It is all part of the Divine Plan. What a joy you will experience in heaven when you see how it all has played out in the grand scope of eternity. Nothing is by chance but everything is under the watchful eye of My father. Like the sparrow, like the blade of grass, like the budding flower – all is under My Father's care. And you – how much more will He care for you. He sees you here today visiting and spending time in worship. Greedily listening for My words. Loving Me and allowing Me to love you. Catch My love, warm yourself with it. Let it permeate your being, your head, your ears, your core. Rest in the overpowering warmth of My love for you. Silently scream your love and your gratitude to the heavens. Become one with Me – if only for a brief earthly moment. It is a small touch of what awaits you in Heaven where you are totally immersed in My love.

341) (Prayer) Beloved Father in Heaven, I beseech You to take me under Your care in the most beloved way and direct My path to the surest and most pleasing steps You wish to see me follow.

Beloved Father, take my inner soul and claim it for Your own. Do not stop the pain if that is what You wish but give me, please, the countenance to bear patiently and gladly whatever You choose for Me. I am such a poor sufferer but Your graces can change that. I am such a poor example for others and yet You have chosen me to deliver Your words to Your people. I am the lowest of the low in the church – a little person who is willing to shout to the rooftops if You but show me the way. I love You and want so badly to do every little thing You ask of me. I have nothing heavenly to lose by following You and earthly things count for nothing except as they are used to serve You.

Please allow Me to come to You daily so as to firmly be placed on the right path. I want to follow in Your Son's footsteps and worship Him with every fiber of My being.

And yet, even as I write this and ask for it, that small voice attacks me and says, "I am not strong enough in faith, loving enough in doing, wanting enough in complying happily to the 'possibilities' of what You could give me to suffer." Strengthen my faith and trust so that I grasp the completeness of Your love. Do not allow that small voice to escalate and keep me from all You want and expect of me. The will and neediness are deeply ingrained in me and yet the voice nags at me – saying "I am too weak." "There are more pleasures to be had in the world, why give them up." "You are weak and will fail anyway so why try." Please quell those voices and allow me to soar to the heavens and into Your arms having accomplished all You intended for me. Do not be distant from me but take a "hands-on" approach as I am so dense and unaware that I need You to come with clear direction.

God – I love You. I adore You. I worship You. I praise You. Now help me to follow You in all the completeness possible for Me.

342) You see, you cannot be separated from Me. We are united body and blood. We are separate and yet we are one. You are one of My people, My beloved, a child of My Father's. It is impossible for Me to abandon you. Pray to My Father in thanksgiving for the graces He has bestowed upon you. Be grateful and express it by doing for others. Keep coming here to visit with Me. It is such a joy to have your company. Although I am always with you – I have your undivided attention during Adoration. Oh, I know your mind wanders and you think of the things you could be doing but you are here and we are together again. Allow My Peace to envelope you. It is like the incense, it surrounds you, and you breath it in. That is a small example of how I am a part of you.

343) You cannot leave the world but My peace can be in the world. It is what I came for – to bring Peace of soul for those lost – for those searching – for the lonely – for the needy – for the sick – for the children in want of family – it is I who brings all in the midst of nothing. Fear not – My Peace cannot be taken from you. Ask and you shall receive it. Look for it and I will deliver it to you. It is always there. Do not abandon hope because I am hope itself.

Bring Me your cares and concerns. Bring Me the difficulties of aging. I am your Light, your hope of salvation. I am here to assist you in all your works and listen to all your concerns. Together we walk your path to My Father. He awaits you even while watching your course. Bring others with you. Do not fear asking others to join you. They are often searching for deeper relationship with Me and your invitation will bring that opportunity. What a great season for hope! Spread the Word!

344) Hope for the world – from a small baby into a dying Savior. Hope brings joy and dying brings life. It was a joy for Me to die so My people could live. What pure happiness to spend eternity in the presence of My Loving Father. Never lose sight of that goal.

Never feel you have failed if you have saved your soul – and how many souls around you have your prayers and devotions brought to heaven. Do not despair of hope but be joyful. The outcome of all troubling life happenings is known and controlled by My Father. Trust in Him to answer prayers in the most loving and kind way possible. His ways are far superior to any outcomes humanity could possibly imagine. This is one reason why Heaven is so joyful. They know the love of My Father and they trust Him and leave all to His power and glory. He is in charge and He answers all prayers. Did you understand and accept this – all prayers. His answers are the perfect answers even if they are not your hoped-for answers.

Trust – Trust – Trust. Accept as His will the outcome. You are not the Savior of the World. You must accept your place and care for those in your keeping. Your time for mothering is long past but prayer – ah – prayer. It can do all. Continue to beseech My Father for solutions to the family issues that perplex you. He hears and He answers. Trust, hope, love, accept. Come now – rejoice in the joy of the Advent season and await. The best is yet to come.

345) (God the Father Speaks) Christmas approaches and so few are ready for the celebration of My Son's birth. The people race here and there. They search stores, shops, and internet for the “perfect” gift – and yet I have given that perfect gift – life – through the suffering and death of My Son.

But all is not lost. Many people are turning back to My Christ. Many people are feeling His presence. Many people are rejoicing in the true Spirit of the season. There is much joy in some homes – no matter how small or large the incomes, the true Spirit is present, and they await in happy anticipation. Many gifts have poured out from the community for those in need. Much food has been purchased so that all will have a feast this year. Leave no one in the cold – bring them to the warmth of a truly Christian Christmas. Bring them to the inner peace the Christ Child offers.

Such a small baby. So helpless and yet born with a willingness to suffer. A family, full of an unfathomable love surrounds Him. My gift to Him for his willingness to save Our people. A family of trust and prayer. A family who listened and obeyed. A family who loved so greatly it continues to spill out into the world. This Christmas feel the gift of family. Allow it to surround you. Allow the blessings to shower down and do not fear the future. The entire universe is in My hands – surely your heart cannot be left behind. It is just as satisfying for Me to have your one heart - and each individual heart in the world – as it is for Me to hold the universe.

Each person has a place in the universe. Each person fills a void. Each person has a quest. You are the only person who can fulfill your mission. Only you – continue to search out and follow the path in front of you. My son's path was difficult but He rejoiced in knowing it was the right path for Him and He was the only one who could walk it. His sure footsteps were the salvation the world needed. It could not have come if He had strayed. So important for Him and so important for you – stay on the path. Do not falter but be steadfast – the world needs you. The path leads to your destiny – to Heaven – to Me. Rejoice, follow and bring others with you. This is your gift to Me that you follow My Son.

346) (Prayer) Coming to you, Oh Lord, in humility and longing. Asking for Your intervention in the disease of addiction – particularly and selfishly as it pertains to _____. You know him and I know You are there for him but he is so lost and lonely and without access to the love of family to be able to sustain him. Reach out to him My God – My Savior – My Love – My All – save him from this hell on earth and bring his life back in order. Bring him home to us and allow our family love to heal him.

Reach out also to _____ and call them to a life lived in You with You as the center of their lives – with You as the desire of their souls. Do not, please, allow them to flounder and fall away. Bring Your peace to their homes and lives. See also please to their souls. Care for them and shower them with peace and love and contentment this Christmas and always.

Thank You, thank You, thank You, for the overwhelming blessings You have extended to me in my life. Allow my small gift of my presence be a dim light but yet visible in the darkness – let it remind You of my sorrowful request but also of my gratitude for the many blessings You have bestowed.

I love You to the depth of my soul and to the highest mountains of my life. I love You, Lord, and I have always loved You – and I am so very thankful, so very, very grateful, so overjoyed, for Your presence in my life.

347) Focus on Me, My child. I am your center. You can come to Me at any moment and know I am there, intimately with you. I belong with My earthly people. They are Mine – promised by My Father – and He is delivering them to Me in joy and happiness. Some are lost, that is a choice they have made, but others are coming and the tide of a sinful world is pulling away from evil and the pulse of the world is quickening. Good will win out. When the world tires of being silent – then shall the changes become more rapid. As the generations progress, they will be less silent, and the universe will be filled with their cries for justice and peace.

Continue to come, and I promise our relationship will deepen. Continue to come and I promise I will come for you.

348) You come but your mind wanders. You are close but far away. You are hungry but cannot be filled. You are wanting but cannot grasp. You are cold and you seek warmth. You are dying and you hope for life. You are Mine and you want Me more. And here you are, seeking, hoping, praying that our relationship will not wane but will deepen.

Oh! Humanity is such a fickle place to be. The mind leaps and then falls. The body is strong and then weakens. The will is pushing you through life and one must continually feed it through good works and the Sacraments. What is constant, is My presence in your life. When you seek Me, you will find Me. When you drift, I will right your course. When you are alone, I will keep you company. When you are dying, I will bring you to eternal life.

Such is My promise. Such is My life and My gift to all who follow Me. Life – not an earthly life but a full and complete life in union with My Father. A place of eternal joy which I have told you about but which you cannot imagine. You will find all your loves there. You will dance and sing praises. You will be My companion. You will hear My voice call your name.

Together we will spend eternity – a concept illusive for which you can only grasp. But together – yes – you and I for all eternity – together – no sorrow – no pain – only everlasting joy and beauty such as your poor earthly mind cannot conceive. It is worth the sufferings and discomforts and confusions and hurts of this world. It is a prize inconceivable but still grasped at as the golden ring – eternity – world without end!

349) January 30, 2018 – Home – Oh Child! You are concerned about many things tonight. Relax and enjoy the quiet of the night. Your children are grown and are able to take care of themselves. It is no longer your responsibility. Your husband is still very independent and you must be too. Rely on yourself more so that he may enjoy his own pursuits. Continue to work and pray and, of course, come visit with Me. There is such joy for Me and comfort for you in our time together. I told you, I am always with you. Feel My presence and relax.

Do not fear the unknown as I am there also. I am the past, the present, and the future. I live in them all and so, My love, will you. Time flows away and you drift into the timelessness of eternity.

350) Come to Me and I shall give you rest. Is there nothing you have to ask? Burden Me with your longings as they are light for Me and not heavy, but I shall bear them with you.

Your prayers are always heard and answered. Do not spend time worrying as those burdens of yours are being taken care of by a bevy of angels. They circle around those for whom you pray.

You can always find the spiritual life you desire as long as you keep Me at the center. Pray always and I shall hear and respond.

351) Take care – Take time – Take compassion with you as you go about your day. Listen intently for My voice and hear the messages with your spiritual ear. Grasp the needs of others by hearing with your heart. Learn to use these gifts I send, and you will find your spiritual life awakening, fresh and new. The world is ripe with opportunities if you listen closely for them.

Pray always – working, sleeping (yes – go to sleep praying and the angels continue until you wake and resume your prayers) relaxing, and just thinking of those around you.

Don't forget to smile – yes, I smiled a lot during My life. Just seeing My beautiful, loving Mother, even in her suffering, brought joy to My heart and a smile to My face. Her presence lightened My burdens. My disciples brought joy and delight to Me, and they often made Me smile – Oh, how I love them! But I love you also, and you too make Me smile. You do bring Me happiness and My heart overflows to return it to you.

Some things take longer than others, but then the reward is often greater. Suffering well spent is never wasted. I care for you and carry you close to My heart. Have no fear of the future, I am with you always, clearing the path to your home with Me.

354) Enter into a new existence in My Heart. Hear and retain what I have to say. You are to prostrate yourself in My presence as opportunity presents itself – not as an order – but because you have asked for more actions that please Me. Come to Me in such fashion and I will bless you in many more ways. Do you not wish to love Me more?

Encourage others to join you in the practice of holy readings. Bring your many books with you and spread them about for others. Let them travel, bringing blessings and new understanding to those who hold them. Divest yourself of all your spiritual paraphernalia so others may benefit by it. You will find several ways to do this and I encourage you to follow your instincts. You have My permission – that is enough. I will deal with those who hamper you.

Come to Me into a deeper, more meaningful relationship. I do not tire of giving to those who please Me with sweetness of heart and works of charity. Be receptive and hear all that happens around you. Rely on prayer before heading off in a direction as I shall point the way.

My footsteps are very visible now and they will not decrease in their advance. They will deepen and be more noticeable for you. Do not feel you will stumble in them as I have your hand and will walk beside you. Pray, pray, pray. Prostrate, prostrate, prostrate. Enter into My Heart in a deeper, more meaningful relationship. It is My Will to draw you into a world more beautiful than you can imagine and one for which you must be prepared before entering.

I carry you through these next few months so you must be prepared to suffer greatly. Do so joyfully and with an eye toward your heavenly goal. I allow only My most precious to enter into the suffering of which I speak. Fear not, the darkness is not forever because My Light cannot hide from My people. Come now and allow yourself to bask in My love. Come into My presence in peace and joy. Come – come – come.

355) Enter into My calm and peace. You have only to fear yourself, but if you come to Me, that fear will dissipate. I am the voice of calm in the midst of storm. I bring the peace the world lacks. I am peace in the storm. I am calm in the face of death. I am joy for the suffering. I am your God. I love My handiwork; I have died to save them.

Is that not what you need to hear? You are meant to be saved to join My company of angels in heaven, to be a unique part of the structure of the universe – not a speck, not a tiny dot, not an insignificant life – but a building block that will support and lend comfort and stability to a shaky world. Let Me fill you with divine graces so that they overflow into this world. Then neither flood, nor famine, nor war can disturb the footing of the solid block of your life and your soul. Come to Me all who labor – My yoke is light – My task for you is easy. Just follow Me – do not lose sight of the goal of Heaven and you shall be a solid beacon for others to follow. Sin not – hate not – pray often – love always. Then – enter solidly and fully into My peace. Come naked of impurities, naked of lies, but full of love and compassion for your fellow travelers. Be My light in this world. Be My love – be My hands – be My heart – and the hardest of all – be My spokesman. You have only to love others as you love yourself.

Ask for the removal of those thoughts that separate us. Ask to replace them with good works and kind deeds. They are the golden path – the steps upward – a little more effort than the flat path, but so worth it. It will warm your soul.

356) (God the Father Speaks) Is it so hard to grasp My love for you? Can you not feel My presence in your life, directing, encouraging, helping, providing, nurturing both soul and body? I am always available to you. Look around, I am there. Look inward, I am there. Look at others, I am there. The air, the earth, the sky, the very worm under your feet – the birds that fly overhead, the dog that reaches near to be pet, I am there. Nothing escapes Me – nothing happens without Me being there to encourage, to intercede, to love, to bend with you and pick you up. Without Me there is nothing. With Me there is everything.

Enter this final phase but know I am leading you continually. You have only to listen and to hear. I call you and you answer. I love you and you quiver in receipt. Feel the tenderness I offer – the joy of living that I bring. The energy that spurs you on, the blessed sleep with which I nourish you – the food I provide and the air which you breathe. All from Me, your Heavenly Father, all free for you. Even those who do not ask receive My freely offered gifts.

I ask you to worship Me, to love Me by loving others. You do good and the universe breathes it in and blows it back out in great gasping breaths. You pray and the world spins cleanly and accurately upon the axis I created. You love and the earth blooms in delight. Do not overlook the signs of My presence. See them everywhere: the colors of the world, the sunlight in the window, the crispness of the morning, the dampness after the rain, the cleanliness of the world after a storm, and the rainbow of love that circles when the world is fresh. The signs of My love and an example of how I care for My people.

Do not be discouraged by a few who have never taken the time to be grateful. Do not concentrate on the ones who fail to feel My love. Even the most destitute can be joyful in knowing I am there in their misery. Even those in severe pain can be joyful in turning it over to Me. Oh, how I love those who offer all their suffering up to Me. I turn them over to My Beloved Son and He distributes the good and rewards the giver.

How the devil wreaks havoc in My world, but his works continue to be stymied by the overwhelming good of people. Turn My world! Turn back to Me! Turn and see My Face! Turn and see My beauty! Turn world and feel My never-ending love you! I am your God! I am your creator! Worship Me and love Me!

357) It is with sorrow I approach the end of our intimate hours together. It is also with anticipation of your continued life dedicated to following Me on the path I have laid out. Do not be distressed, it is the end, yes, but also the beginning. One is never finished their earthly life or the reasons for their birth, life and death until their soul stretches forth to join Me in perpetuity. I am, I am always. I am – I am life itself. Without Me, there is a nothingness so vast that it cannot be comprehended by any except My Father. Reach out to Him. He will provide all your needs. Listen, pray. Listen, pray. Listen, pray. Answers will come.

358) Worry not child. The future is in My hands. Cry not. There is a light to follow now. A beacon shines brightly and will illuminate your path clearly. Slow only as life hands you chores and services that must be accomplished. So often the works that I have assigned My people go unnoticed until the world is ready. Do not push yourself on anyone but do as before, use your judgment and pray always that you may receive the enlightenment to do the right thing.

Come and relax in My presence. Do not stop coming to visit. There is still much to do – but this project is coming to a close. You will be finished shortly. Relax and be at peace as these nine years draw down quickly. So much has been accomplished in what seems a long – and yet a short time. My people need My presence; they need to hear My words. They need the special prayers scattered throughout this book of love. They need to hear for themselves the pounding of their heart as it unites with My own. Tell people to listen for themselves – to hear with their heart – to breath Me in and allow Me to penetrate their very being – to excite their soul with the fire of My love.

I am always with you. I am always ready to answer you. I am always your best friend and lover of your soul. See Me as I am – helpless and yet all powerful in the Ciborium – at the mercy of people to take Me and consume Me and allow Me to live in them as they go about their lives. They must come to Me often to be refreshed in love and to ask for direction. It is I who can bring their path in life to a position that will be most beneficial for them. Step solidly into the future on this path so lovingly laid out for you. Walk strongly and surely on the stones and they will support you well until you enter into the gates of Heaven. I love you – I love you – I love you. Never think for a moment that you are alone. I am with you now in your every breath and I am with you always. Always is forever until the end of time and into eternity. Love Me back!

359) Come, come, come. Do not forsake Me! Come, come, come!!! Bring your heart. Bring your mind.

Bring your whole soul to Me and offer it up for the salvation of souls.

This is My Father's world. It shall not be destroyed nor recreated by man. Many times has My Father redirected the path of Mankind. Many times has He demanded restitution. Man is a fickle animal. He is pulled, with My Father's permission, to and fro by the weight of evil vs. good. You have His promise that evil will not triumph. You have His promise of a place beyond this world. You have His promise of peace and love and a forever place with Him. But it is you who must choose. You who must decide the course of your life. You who must step out of the ordinary and take positive steps to bring you to the doorsteps of My Father's waiting Kingdom. He gives you all the help and encouragement you require for this journey. He sends His angels, saints, and His Only Son, to show you the way. The way to Him. The way to an eternity in His presence. You have only to choose. Your offerings for safe passage are prayer, sacrifice, fasting, almsgiving, and good works.

Adore and be blest. Pray and be answered. Give alms and be rewarded. Fast and be made full. Sacrifice and be made whole. Do good works and walk in Heaven with My Son.

You have no need to make this hard – these simple steps offer an earthly joy that cannot be contained. Put aside differences – all are made alike in that all are made for Heaven. Talents are obtained differently and each person has, at birth, those necessary for a safe journey to Heaven. Talents are given for specific reasons to each one – differently. All must work together to bring harmony to the world – an impenetrable shield, God given – you must explore your talents and use them for the glory of God. Pursue them relentlessly. Use what you have been given for the good of all. Do not store up earthly treasures – store only your good works. Those will last for the duration of the world and continue to bear fruit.

Allow your life to be a beacon of hope. A beam of love. A path illuminator for others. Walk with sure steps toward your goal – your prize – your life with God. He waits for you with His arms extended – gently but firmly calling you home.