JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

THE FIRST THREE YEARS WITH JESUS CHRIST

The decree of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith, A.A.S., 58, 1186 (approved by Pope Paul VI on October 14, 1966) states that the Nihil Obstat and Imprimatur are no longer required on publications that deal with private revelations, provided they contain nothing contrary to faith and morals. The author wishes to manifest her unconditional submission to the final and official judgment of the magisterium of the church to which she humbly submits.

It was March 9, 2009 when I attended a woman's one day Lenten retreat. After several hours of spiritual discussions and exercises we were asked to take pen and paper and find ourselves a quiet spot either in the church or outside. Once situated we were to pick a mantra, repeat it quietly then listen and write down what we heard in our heads. I found myself in the church proper in one of the cry rooms. I could clearly see the sanctuary, the large Crucifix and the tabernacle. Feeling rather skeptical I sat with eyes transfixed on the altar. It was then I felt the urge to write. That was the beginning. I do not make any claims as to the nature or content of what follows in this book. I can only tell you that I write what comes into my head. Most have been written down during Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. I have edited out all personal references or references to others but I have not changed the context. I cannot comment on the meaning nor explain what these paragraphs are about. Each individual should look inward for that.

What I hope is that you will find solace in a loving God and be able to develop your relationship with Him through these writings. Here I have placed a later locution first when I decided to share them:

This book is full of love, hope, direction, and prayers. It is the soul of God poured out for us. It brings thoughtful introspection to all who open it to read. Do not read from beginning to end. God directs your life and will give you what you need each time you flip it open to a number or a page. Feel His love. Feel His presence – and then listen – listen with all your heart.

Mantra: Let go and let God. Let go and let God.....

Here I am Lord, I've come to do your will.

Jesus Speaks

The First Three Years

The First Year

1) Do not be afraid, I am with you. I have called you by name, trust Me. Put away your fears and relax in My love. You are precious to Me and I will not desert you. Feed My poor, tend My lambs, shelter My lost. Care for the dying. Bring My hope and love to the despairing. Open your heart and let Me teach you. Follow, follow, follow. Do not stray from My path. I care for you. In the end I will come for you. Do not be afraid. I will never leave you. My love is yours. Pray, pray, pray. Never cease praying. Seek Me. I am the Light and the warmth of your heart. When you need Me, I will be there. Love Me with all your heart. Come back again and sit with Me.

2) Come to Me and I will give you rest. Hold My hand and I will hold yours. Take Me to your heart. I will be there through it all. Dance with Me. Teach My poor. Caress My dying. Hear My voice and heed My words. The world can be evil. It is your job to change it. Listen to others with your heart. Bring My world to life again. Live fully and peacefully. Care for My lambs. Love the lost. Pray for the dying that they may find peace before the end. Pray for everlasting peace. Peace be with you My love. You are Mine and I am yours.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

3) Relax, I am listening. You are in My heart. Come to Me fully, I will not turn against you. I am here. I am your hearts companion. I will lead you. I will show you the way. Place your life in My hands. You are special to Me. I care a great deal about you. Keep coming to Me. I will not fail you. You are Mine and I am yours. It is impossible for you to be perfect but you are perfect in My eyes. Loving Me is your work. The rest will come. Dance with Me. Together we can change the world. It is in the little things that much good is done. Small prayers move mountains. Continue to come and pray and speak with Me. I will show you the way. Peace and love, My friend. Peace and love until the next time.

4) Hear Me. Hear My words. Listen with your heart. Take from Me what you need. I am yours. Use it to do good. The world is in pain. It cannot stand alone without Me. It is right to fear. That is why prayer, penance, sacrifice, and love are more important now – Right now! Meet people with kindness. Make eye contact. Let My love project from your face. You cannot be harmed while I am with you. Carry Me close to your heart. Let My name be always on your lips. Do not seek justification. Seek perfection in My love. Carry My Cross. Bear My burdens. It is in suffering that the world will return to Me. Pray to My mother. She holds the key. Just as she held Me safely in her womb, so will she hold you lovingly in her heart. Trust her, run to her, show others how she loves them. We are always together. If you love her, you have Me. Come to us, unchain yourself from the world. Open your heart and your arms. There is much to be done.

Carry Me with you in all your daily actions. Do not be afraid to mention My name. It will bring you great joy. Your love is pure when you come to Me openly and freely and ask for Me to remain close to you. I will protect you from harm and keep you safe in My love. Do not concern yourself with earthly things but bring yourself to God for nourishment. You are not wandering aimlessly as long as you steadfastly love Me and trust Me to provide for you. Take care My love. Your time is now – together we will change the world. Love to you and to you at My Mother's feet. I will always be able to find you there.

5) Take and eat. It is for you I have died. Call My Mother to your heart. She will lead you to Me. Where are you? I have searched for you and could not find you. You need Me in your life. Never forget this. Hope is yours through Me. Come to Me, I long for you. Do you dare desert Me for earthly things? They are not of My world but yours. Do good. Feed others. Tend their souls. Do not stop praying. Tend My sheep. Their hearts are full of earthly things. Bring them a draught of My love.

6) Take Me to your heart. You can always find Me there. I will direct you. Have confidence in My power and will yourself to follow Me. The road is never smooth but rocky and lined with thorns. Learn to love the rocks and thorns. They are as much of God as the clouds in the sky. Use them to come closer to Me. I want to keep you close. There is so little time. Pray the Rosary. Ask My Blessed Mother to entrust you into her care. She will lead you forward and carry you over the rough road. Be with Me in all aspects of your life. Tie yourself to the Cross with Me. It is your safest haven. Do not be afraid. I will never abandon you. I will reveal Myself before I let harm come to you. Do not be apprehensive but rejoice in this draught of My suffering. Many souls will be saved by your life and prayers. Care for them as you would a lost animal. Feed them from My mercy and love. They are starving and don't know how to reach out to Me. Place their lives at My feet and I will give you praise in heaven. My own I forsake not but cling to them in life and join them in heaven. I will tug at your heart and you will know I am there. Smile, show joy, radiate my peace and love, others will see and remember and search inside for their own place where I abide. They need you to unlock the door. It is the least of people you need to touch. Do not give up your life but extend it into the hearts of those around you. My sheep are scattered but long to return to Me. You must show them the simple path. It is love. It is not rules and regulations. Break from the path and search out My people. They need Me. They wear My mark and you will be able to touch it and open the door for Me. If you but open the door, I will slip in quietly and bring them a draught of My love. Take care, return again soon. In peace and love I await your return.

7) Take from Me what you will. I have loved you with an everlasting love. I carry you in My heart. I remain in your home to watch over it and bless it. Your work is holy work. Do not be discouraged. My heart is open to you. Bring Me souls. Bring Me souls. Bring Me souls. They need Me and must be encouraged to come to Me. I will lead you and you must be strong. Be verbal – touch hearts. Mountains will be moved. Peace is a long way away but I will be available if you but call My name. Horror and sadness will abound but still you must call My name. The devil steps back and shields his face when he hears My name. His knee bends and his heart bleeds. We must chase him away. Attack his emissaries. Keep them at bay. Prayer, sacrifice, devotion, love, spread the news of the need. It is time for Me to come into My own. The battle is set. There is no turning back. Do not desert Me. I need My souls. You are My army. My mother will lead you into battle. Follow her orders. She will triumph and crush the snake with her womb. We are always together – time is no more. Pray the Rosary. Many battles are won when the Rosary is being said. Do not concern yourself if you do not see the battles. Know that you are pushing the enemy away – preventing him from gaining ground. He surrounds you but cannot advance because you have My blessings. I told you I will care for you. He will be destroyed and your world will come full circle back to Me. Do not fear death. There is no death of soul.

(Mary Speaks) I, your mother, am here for you too. I can at last seek revenge for the evil the devil has brought into the world. I have waited until My son sends me. Soon I will go forth, actively seeking the destruction of the evil one. He will not prevail. The world is ready to return to My Son but they need to be led to Him so that they want the peace and love He has to offer them.

You are a part of His plan. Do not sleep but be watchful. Temptations are everywhere. Little acts of kindness keep them away. Love radiates and enlarges your protective circle. Kindness is the key to love.

Bring Me souls. Bring Me souls. Bring Me souls. Use the words I have given you and bring Me souls.

8) I am here for you. You are My own. Come to Me unfettered in joy and hope. The world is not lost. Good people abound. They are Mine and I am theirs. Trust in My mercy and love. I will deliver them to My Father who is all that is good. The lost I will bend to My will and lead them home. Take care not to become attached to earthly things or earthly thoughts. They can only muddy your thoughts and lead you astray. Instead, bring your cares and troubles to Me. I will lay them at My Father's feet. He will assume your worries and cares. He will carry the burden. His love is evermore. You cannot comprehend it. It circles the Earth. It circles each individual man, woman, and child. There is no hope without His love. Take it. Feel it. Give it to others. When you give it to others, you are giving it back to Me and to Him.

You will feel the lightness of the Spirit in your heart, trust where He sends you. You will know the way. Answers will come and you MUST share them with others. I will place the means in your path. Do not concern yourself with fears. It is about you and Me. Take from Me as you have needs. I will never run dry but will always nourish you. I am the Water that feeds the soul. I am the Light that shows you the way. Leave the darkness and come, come quickly into the Light. You will never be in darkness again.

You are My joy. The one I love. The one I call to do my bidding. Forget the cares of the world. They are fleeting and fictitious. They mean very little to Me. It is your heart, your soul I desire. Together they are what I need to set the world on the path back to Me. . . You are sheltered in My arms. Feel their warmth encircle you as you go about your daily chores. Keep up your faith in Me and do not lose hope or trust. I will be with you until the end when you walk into My arms. Love and peace to you My friend. Thank you for visiting Me. Until the next time, walk in My path of love.

9) The winds of change are among us. Come to me fully and I will be your Safe Harbor. Do not be afraid. Do not be discouraged. I am with you always. You are in My heart. Take Me to your heart. Do not desert Me. Can you not hear Me calling you? Bring Me your strength of spirit and I will give you My love in such quantity that you will not be able to witness against Me. Care for My lambs and My sheep. Be the leader they need. You will carry My staff. They shall recognize it and follow. Do not fear the consequences. In the end I will triumph. Make Me your project. Bring Me to others. Look happy and content. You are My love. My Mother loves you. She will ready you for battle. Do not concern yourself as to the time and place. It is not for you to know. Prayer is your armor. The Eucharist is your sword. The battleground is in the hearts of men who have fallen away from Me. I care not of their background. I need their souls. Souls are My weapons against the devil. He weakens each time a soul turns to Me. He cannot gain ground when he loses souls to Me. Bring My love to others. Tell them I want them. Tell them to come to Me. I will reward them handsomely with showers of love. Come, feed from my strength weapons against the devil. He weakens each time a soul turns to Me. He cannot gain ground when he loses souls to Me. Bring My love to others. Tell them I want them. Tell them to come to Me. I will reward them handsomely with showers of love. Come, feed from My strength. I am strong and able to open My arms to all who hear My words. Bring Me your love. Come to Me, love Me, cherish My words. I will be here for you. The end of the devil's reign is approaching. He is desperate and trying hard to destroy the world. It cannot, will not happen. I will triumph. I will send him to hell and lock the Gates of Heaven against him. Never doubt the strength of My sacrifice. I am ready to claim the world as My own. Hardened hearts will be touched and souls will pull away from wrong and find joy and peace in doing good. Never give up. I am here for you. Come back and I will tell you more.

10) I have loved you and continue to love you. Everlasting is My love. It is endless and deeper than the ocean. You are the work of My hands. You are going to be My hands in the world. Trust Me. I know you are confused but I will bring you answers if you will but come visit with Me. Trust what you hear. Trust in My words to you. Blessed are you to be able to hear Me and to follow. It is right to be excited. I am coming for you. Your path is My path. There are no turning points now. We are One in the Spirit and One in the Trinity. Your task is eminent. Tell others of your intense prayers and of your devotion to Me and to My Mother. Ask others to put their faith in God, not an unknown God, but the One they hear in their heart. Tell them to set aside quiet time to listen. I will bring comfort and peace to their souls. They are part of My army. Bless them in My name. I am the cure. I Am Who Am. There is no other but Me. Your prayers bring answers and hope for the afflicted. There is always hope in Me. Your comfort is in My wounds. We are One there. Bring me souls, bring Me souls, bring Me souls. I will work wonders for them, things they could not imagine, cures of illnesses, saving of souls, purging of sins, blessings abound in My love. Do not fear the unknown. It is where I also reside. There is no unknown to God so when I say, "Do not be afraid," it is with full knowledge of your future. You are blessed to hear Me and to respond. Care for My sick. Blessings on you until tomorrow, I love you, rest in My love.

11) Flow into Me. Dissolve yourself in My love. We are one. There is oneness for all in Me. Do not leave Me. I am the glue that holds your world together. Just as there are three Gods in One, there is you – you are one with Me and thus you are one with God. Care for Me as you would yourself. Pamper Me with your love and devotion. I am no mere idol, I am the Lord your God, and you, you are of Me. Take and eat. Carry Me with you. I will remain in you so that others may see. Their eyes must be opened to My love. Care for others. Bring Me to them. Mention My name. They are longing for Me. Tell them I'm here for them; that I have never left. They have only to look for Me in their thoughts and their mind. I am their heart's companion. I am one with them. I care for you and they need to know I also care for them. Do not stray but lead. Others will follow. They will know the depth of My love. Care not of the world and its vices. Care only for the good that I beg you to do for Me. Pray that you live to see the dead rise and the poor fed and the mercy of God flow so strongly into the world that it obscures the Sun with its brightness and hope and love. Do not be afraid of this. You will not be harmed but a draught of My Blood will awaken in you such passion and love for Me that you can carry My Cross to others and bring them home to Me. Put away all distrust, all despair, all longing. I am all for you and you are one with Me. Practice patience and love. I take away all sin and its punishment. I can give this promise to you. The devil is fearful of repentance and forgiveness. He wants you to believe all is lost. It is not lost. It will never be lost. My triumphant entry is just beginning. I am taking the world back, one heart, one soul at a time. Speak of Me often and give others a chance to speak of Me. Start the conversation. I am working in your circle of friends. You will all be given jobs to do. It is My work. Do not refuse it when it comes. Maintain your prayer life and call out for My Mother. She is your earthly strength and My solace. Pray for her intercession. The devil shields his face when he hears her name. . . . She is the key. . . . Pray to her. She will give you the answers and point you in the direction of My heart. Peace will come. I have promised it. It shall not disappoint. It is of My Father's house of which I speak. Come again and bring Me your love and devotion. Until next time, remember I loved you enough to die for you.

12) Bring Me souls, the souls of the just and the unjust. There is room for all in My heart. Take and eat. It brings eternal life when you but touch Me. I have only your cares in My heart when you speak with Me. Do not try and understand it. Just bask in My complete and utter love for you and your soul. You are My weapon. You are sharp and deadly when the devil tries to gain ground. He cannot compete with My souls. He retreats and hides his head in shame. Yes, he is haughty but he is full of shame. He has been dishonored and cannot retrieve his good name. His love is no more. He is fearful. He knows the end is at hand. He is active in the world and in the hearts of men, but he cannot win. I am the answer. I am the wine and you are the chalice. You must carry Me with you so others may drink. Pass on this information. Those who are My chalices are walking into the devil's lair and saving souls, snatching them from his grasp and setting them free. Bring them to Me so that I may renew their faith. They will be given a portion of My peace. The devil is being put to flight. He gathers his forces (angels) as he retreats but the last battle will be a decisive one with My Mother chasing him back to hell. She has the key to lock him away forever and then I will reign supreme over all the land. The dead will speak to those left and bring comfort to the afflicted. My love will abound and turn the world into a garden full of the life of love. Do not fear this now, it is to come, I tell you so that you will continue to come in faith that your prayers are heard and answered. Tell others of My love. Do not fear death. It shall not harm you. You wear My mark and it is indelible and cannot be erased. Bring others to me so that I may fill them with My love. Stay focused on My Mother. She gives you the direction to travel and all this will come about according to My plan. Take care not to be discouraged. Do not rush through life but savor it. The more you live, the more I will love you for what you have done for Me when I come to bring you home. There's no death when I am with you, only Light, love, and happiness. Bring others to Me. Tell them it is urgent that they spend quiet time with Me. Tell them to listen, write it down. I am speaking to them now so they will hear you. Prayer groups are good. They please Me and bring Me great joy. They worship My Father and He gives them blessings that will make them stay in My love. Care for Me as you care for yourself. I am with you now and always. Do not fear. I will never abandon you. I love you. . . . I hold your hand. Feel its warmth anytime you call My name. Goodbye for now My sweetness.

13) I have come to you. Give praise to My Father who is all things and nothing can separate us from Him as you see, We are One. I am with you as I have promised. Do not turn away. The world draws you and takes your time. It is an enticement of the devil when your schedule is too full for Me. I will continue to free your path toward Me so that we can have our quiet time together. You cannot hear them but there is such rejoicing in Heaven when you choose to come to Me. Open your heart as you go through the day and you will always find Me there. I am perpetually feeding you from My words, so that you will stay strong in My love. The world is terrible as it turns from Me and grows cold. It is My love in the hearts of My souls that keeps the warmth in the sun. I do not wish to end the world as yet. I need time to pull souls into My warmth so they may experience the overpowering presence of the love of My Father. He is sending out rays of strength and it is pulling people toward him. They cannot resist His call. There will be a new influx of priests. I will lead you as surely as I led the ass to Bethlehem. You will know to follow and the path will become clear again. Do not be afraid. I am always with you. I care for you. You are of Me and I of you. Peace be to you, My love, peace and harmony and hope. Delight in My blood. It is saving souls. Take care to love others as I have loved you. Open your heart and soul to them. Pray always. Prayers are never lost on the world. You cannot now imagine how much joy there is in Heaven over each "Hail Mary" you say as you go about your daily life. Keep My Mother's name on your lips and you will keep Me in your heart and I will lead you home. God, your God, loves you – forevermore. Visit again and I will give you a special blessing. Until then, I am with you. Yours words will be My words. Choose them carefully.

14) Pray the Rosary. Prayers of great strength will be raised until My Father has pity on the world and once again sends graces to all in need. He will rely on My Mother to disburse them. Souls will be won over. Light will again enter the world. Peace will flow like a river of light as it washes away sin and despair. I will come into My Glory and the world will turn to Me and accept My love. Do not be fearful. I am going before you to light the way and pave the path. Trust in My mercy and love. I will call you strongly so that you will know it is I. Wait and pray. The time is now. I love you. I love you. I dearly love you.

15) Blessed are you who cares so deeply for My wounds. Take from My Body your strength. You belong to Me. Come closer still as the time is short. Bring your heart and your hands. I will work with you side by side. You can do more than others to push My will on the Parish. They are floundering and leaving Me. I cannot lose them. A trust is set up whereby together we will adore My Father through sacrifice, penance, and prayer. Take from Me. I overflow with the courage you need. Do not be discouraged if I should leave you. It is only for a short time. A test of your strength and will to follow Me. Bring Me souls. Bring Me souls. Bring Me Souls. Devote your time to prayerful reflection. Say the Rosary. Come to sit with Me. I have not deserted you. I am preparing a place for you but you must continue to come and hear Me until it is time to act. You will know My will. I will speak to you as you need it. Listen carefully and you will always hear Me in your being. I am here for you always. You need only to ask and I will point you in the right direction. I want you to spend time adoring Me. It is most pleasing to Me. When it pleases Me, it also pleases My Father. Care for Me as you would a small innocent child. I will follow you as a grateful child and together we will ascend to My Father. My Mother also awaits you. Fly to her. Hide in the folds of her cloak. It is safe there. I am also there; we are together. My Father sees us and shelters us. His anger is just and He will destroy the wicked. Take care to stand out of His way. Let Him do the work for you.

Just bring Me souls. I will convert them and warm their hearts. They will see Me as I am, full of light and love and shining in glory. Hearts will be turned and people, My people, will flood the streets, reaching out to all humanity. You are one of many and you are blessed. Come, follow Me. We are about to take a walk in the world that you will never forget. It will bring you so close to Me that your heart will burn with love for Me. Never let fear enter your mind. I am only good. Fear is for those who do not do My will when it has been revealed to them. They will be bent to My will but it is not the same for them in Heaven as if they followed it when it was first revealed to them. ... The time is ripe for Me to make Myself known to the faithful. Prayer. prayer and sacrifice. I want all your free time in prayer to prepare for My entrance into the hearts of the faithful. Know that hearts are opened and eyes will cloud with the love of God. Prayers will be answered. Cures will happen. All will know they are to come and give glory, praise, and thanks to My Father who will protect this Church and its people. They will be sheltered under the cloak of My Mother if they will but come. Together we will make good things happen. Bask in My warmth and love. Burn with My fire. Protect yourself from the devil by praying the Rosary. Ask others to do the same. Build the walls of love and the devil cannot penetrate them. As the walls are enlarged by My faithful, the world will be saved.

Enough for now, go, take my message to others.

16) Take care not to lose faith. I remain beside you. My will has been done and it shall not disappoint. Do not fret any more about it but go on as other things are opening up for you. Pray for strength and the right to life as it becomes a major focus in the next few months. Act out your faith, it pleases Me. I am with you. Trust Me to keep you safe and care for you. Put your worries in My hands and I will offer them to My Father. Your worries are like sacrificial offerings.

Pray about them and turn them over to My Father who will hear your prayers as they are offered with My own. Do not fear your unknown as you are in My care and I do not desert My own. Hear Me in your heart. You have but to call My name. Bring others to Me by your example. Keep your prayer life active and know I will be at your call. Never think I have deserted you. I love you. Bask in the warmth of My love. Go in peace and love and comfort of spirit knowing you have served the Lord.

17) Hold My hand and I will lead you. Pray for the souls in Purgatory. Do my bidding as you hear it. I have come for your soul and it is Mine. Love Me with all your heart. Hear My voice as you go about your daily chores. Speak My name and call Me to do your bidding. You have done Mine and I will not forget your faithfulness. Pray often and ask God's forgiveness for the sins of the world. They are floundering and lost without God's love. Forgiveness brings love into your heart. Pray to Me and I will hear your petitions. Never think I don't hear even if I do not respond in the way you expect. Call to Me and I will be at your call. I hear you and see you. God, My Father, sends showers of love because you have loved Me so. Do not fear – never fear. Relax and breathe in the sweetness of My love for you. The world is changing and I need you to be My witness. I have heard your prayers and I will answer them in My own way. They are safe in My heart. I have asked My mother to shelter you in her cloak of kindness and her queenly garb. She is a strong guardian of My people. They are safe with her. Come – follow me – our trip is about to begin. Be joyful and excited. A new world is upon you and it is full of your paths that lead you home to Me. Look back and you will see others follow you. Keep your feet secure on My path and you will lead others to My Father's house. Peace and love. Peace and love. Go in peace and love.

18) Speak to others so they may hear My words. I will take care of their concerns and fears if they hear My words and follow Me. It is I who says this. Tell them not to fear for their souls but to follow Me. I love them. You will know what I require. I ask of you only what you are able to do, but with My help, there will be much we can accomplish together. You will touch souls and bring them to Me. Flick your worries away. They are Mine now. Just pray and I will do the rest. Your work will come to you and you will know I have given it to you. Worry not. My warmth is from the inside and it does not burn out. Angels surround you and protect you just as they do My body in the Monstrance. Seeing My face is not what makes you holy. It is what I bring to your soul. It is the life of eternity. It is My gift to you. Eternity together in My house with My people - a family of love.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

(God the Father speaks.) This is My Son, My only Son, hear Him. Do His bidding. You have but to reach out to Him and I will hear you and answer you.

(Jesus speaks again.) There is a reason for everything. It is in My power to arrange your life and I have taken you to My heart. Do not fear, I am coming for you when you least expect it. Take care to love Me as I will need your protection until I reveal Myself. I care for you and now you must care for Me. Protect My name and My babies and never let the devil hear you complain. Mind what I say. Bring Me the children. They are My future workers. Let them know how much I love them and tell them I will speak to them and call their name so they will know it is I. They will hear with their ears what others hear with their hearts. I told you the world was changing and I am about to make My appearance to all. Be watchful and ready. The end is near. Do My bidding and you will be ready when the time comes. Take My love to others then await My calling.

19) Laying of hands. “I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.” I need your help. Trust Me in your heart. Souls will flock to Church if you will turn them toward Me. Extend your hands and bless them. Parishes will experience a revival such as the world will notice. Souls will rejoice in My Blood which will pour forth for them again. Miracles will happen and My Mother will appear. Tell others! Do not be afraid to tell them. This will happen if they but believe. Teach others and care for their souls as I do My work in the parishes. Miracles abound and the sun will spin for joy. Blessings on you and your family. Continue to pray, pray, pray. . . Pax Domini My love. You are chosen to continue to do My will.

20) Take from Me what you will and give it all or in part to My people as needed. Sometimes a soul is not ready to believe and your prayers will open the door. You are worrying again. Give those worries to Me. I told you I would lay them at My Father's feet. Do not fear the unknown. Things will happen smoothly and safely for you. . . . As you bring Me souls, I will take them to My heart for comfort and direction. Just give out My messages and let Me do the rest. Flick away thoughts of past sins. They are no longer important. I am grateful for your sorrow at how they hurt Me, but they are in the past and forgotten. Remember only My love for you and your family. I hover near them all and pull them to Myself for safekeeping.

The world is on the verge of a new life – one that will attest to My power. Buildings will collapse; people will be forced to turn to Me to ask for help. My Mother will intercede for them. It will be a time of Miracles and spiritual revival. Many will hear My voice and be comforted. You have made your parish a safe haven by following My requests. I am much pleased and delight in the prayers as they ascend in unison. They are music and the rest of the world is waiting to join in the song. I will not leave you as yet but you will be well-prepared when I do. Reading My words will always bring us close together and you will feel My presence in your heart. I do not need words to communicate but as My love flows from My wounds, the world will be saved again from the clutches of Satan. He nears his end but wants to take as many souls as possible with him. You and your prayers will save many and there is rejoicing in Heaven that you have taken your work seriously. I will direct you and your words will impact many people. You, like so many others, are My presence in the world. Your hands do My work. Blessed are those who hear My commands and obey. Bring Me souls. Bring Me souls. Bring Me souls. I will be there to receive them. Reread my communications and follow My directions. Never fear to speak to others in My name. I will make them ready to hear. God My Father loves you. He wants you to know He hand-picked you to do My will. You are special to us and there is a place reserved for you in Heaven. Your destiny is sacred and will not disappoint. Drop your fears and look for answers as you pray. Forever we are together. Where love and gratitude prevail, I am there. Love, love, love. It is the answer. Until next time. Blessings are being poured out to you and yours.

21) Pray with your heart. It is most pleasing to Me. I will never leave you unattended. Just call My name and I will give you the protection and security of My heart. I care for you and you belong to the ages. It is a continuation of My life and My work in the world. Try to emulate My Mother most humble of women. She is My joy and you are to be her child. We are one in My Mother as her heart is of Me. Break away from the cares of life and join her in prayer. Prostrate yourself at My feet. It is so pleasing to Me. I want you for My own and I will not be denied that pleasure. Feed My lambs, tend the unfortunate who look for material things to bring happiness. They will only bring the destruction of their soul. This is so real that you have a right to feel sorrow and pain when those of the world turn to worldly things for happiness. The only true happiness is given to those who tread My path and return to Me when they have miss-stepped in life. Bring Me those souls. I see the line forming as you pray. They are coming. They are turning their backs on the devil and walking in My path of humility and love. Rejoice for they are coming in numbers. There will be rejoicing in Heaven as battles are won. Keep asking people to beseech My Mother to intervene for this purpose. She will not disappoint you. It is her love that saves the world from My wrath. Do not doubt My just anger at the world. I will send My Spirit into the hearts of so many. The light will return in such a magnanimous way, that all the world will gasp for breath. The sinful will fall quickly and the just will rise up above the fight. There evil will not harm you but you may pray for the victory of souls as they offer up their sufferings in retribution for the pain it has caused My Son and His Mother. Nothing can compensate except the return of souls to Grace. My wounds are healed each time a lost soul returns to My Father. Take care now, bring peace and love to your neighbors. Tell them of My love and My need for them in My army. Bring My love to the needy. They await you so that I may enter their hearts and pull them home to Me. God, the Father, sends His love and it is I, responding to Him who cares so greatly that you do His bidding. Forever We are one and you are one in us. Take My message as you go about your daily chores. Open your heart and your ears so that you may hear others' needs and allow Me to slip into their very beings so that they will burn with desire. Once the candle is lit, it will not go out. Love to you and yours. Go in peace but return soon. I miss you when you are not here with Me. Peace and love to you and those of your heart.

22) Hear Me, hear My words. Save your soul by following Me. Do not be distracted by so many worldly things. I am the only way. Be humble and treat others – all others – with kindness. Do not snap at them. They are in need of My love and penance is the only way for them to be saved. They will suffer much for My sake before they die an earthly death. Preach the gospel. Quote the scriptures. Bring My words to life as you go through your day. Care not what the world thinks, only bring me souls in whatever way you can. I will point them out to you. Pray for them, comfort them, smile at them, bless them in My name and I will engrave their faces on My heart so they will not be lost. Bring Me souls by charity and poverty of spirit. You will have difficulty taking from your larder if you cannot hear My need for you to follow Me in all aspects of your life. Do not sigh; it is not impossible to open your heart to My poor and your ears to their cry. When you help others, you feed Me and I reap their souls. It is not money which I ask, but time. Give it to Me and do not worry so much about what the world wants to consume of you. . . . Press your head into My heart and listen to the call I make of you. Give up the words that do not please Me and speak My words to others so that they may hear with their own ears. I do not want to be denied this – I told you, time is of the essence – it is soon to be no more. I will do as I have said and then it will be too late. The hole will consume many and the bowels of the earth will be spilling my blood. They will call out to Me but it will be too late.

Call others. Tell them to be watchful. Ask them to pray for mercy and leniency. They need to protect their surroundings by standing in their yards and blessing the ground on which their house sits. You do the same. It will be like the blood of the Lamb. It will be like the houses of the just. I will not let harm approach their doors. Keep the Crucifix above the front door and I will not let evil enter any door or window. Do this quickly as the devil is stalking my people. I will protect them. Just as I opened Heaven for their souls, I will open their homes for their bodies so they will be safe. Pray, pray, pray. Forget all else and pray. Take care as the devil circles you in hopes of finding a sliver of an opening. You are locked tightly in My love but he does not know this and is bombarding you with life situations to keep you from being with Me. Prostrate yourself at My feet. It is pleasing to Me and the devil gasps when he sees My people standing in the form of My cross. They are an impenetrable barrier to the evil he wants to flow into their souls. He is losing ground. His angels are being confined to hell and cannot keep harming the world.
It is readying for the battle. He will face My Father, Myself, and My Spirit, My Mother and all the angels and souls of the just. He will spend eternity looking at what he can never possess. It is the last battle and you are to help Me prepare the just for the sake of their souls.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

Place Me first in your life. Bring My Mother to your table. She will continue My instructions as I am preparing for the second coming. Miracles are already beginning to happen. I have My emissaries poised to do My will. My angels will be sent forth with orders to bring all prayers to My Mother and she will intercede for the just. She prostrates herself before Me begging in all humility to let her go into the world and save souls. Her very presence instills peace and goodness. Her aura is larger than the world and her angels are many as they lay at her feet, anxious to do her will. They know she and I are inseparable. Her will is bound to My will. She is even now praying for you. Hear her. She will make her wishes known. Do not fear. I am always with you. My love is evermore. You are precious to My eyes and your prayers send sweet music to My ears. I leave you now but do not be afraid as you always have Me if you but call. Love to you and to all of your family. They are saved by your love of Me.

God

23) Mary Speaks: My daughter, my sweetness, it is the love of my Son that carries me through such tempestuous times. I will never, can never, turn my back on any soul, especially those who are devoted to my Son. Hear Him, re-read His words. See how His love penetrates the corners of your being. Do not give up hope but continue to pray in all sincerity for the conversion of the world. The evil one is trying to spread his cloak of darkness but prayers confound him and his cloak is full of holes, letting in the Heavenly Light which burns the cloak and flickers nearer to the wearer. He must keep moving as he is losing ground. Ask God to rent the cloak as He did the curtain of the temple. The world will hear the sound and look to the heavens from whence their Savior comes. Prepare, be watchful, pray and fast and ask God's pardon for sinners. He loves them all. Much motherly love, Mary

24) Take My message of love to others. I will care for your parish so that the outpouring of love and help into the community will rebound and return full circle. The parish will beam with light, so much so that travelers will be attracted to the glow. It is the Divine Light that will enter into the hearts of those who pass by. Offer prayers for the repose of the souls of the just. As the souls reach My Father in Heaven, they will open their hearts to parishioners so they may reach into the community and bring them peace and love. Rich are those who have Me in their bosoms. Bring others into your confidence as I instruct you. Have them ask for what you have so they may await My words with hope, love, and prayer. Offer thanks and praise for the good I will channel through the parishioners. My love to you and showers of My blessings on your family. Remember, I am always with them just as I am with you. Go take My words as you see the needs. Love,

God in the Blessed Sacrament of the Altar.

25) (I asked for a prayer to the Blessed Mother after reading the Mystical City of God, her autobiography as given to Venerable Mary of Agreda. The following is the prayer.)

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

Virgin Mother Prayer

Oh, most loving Virgin Mother, to you I owe so much. The goodness of my life I offer to you as service to your Divine Son. Do as you wish with this earthly body but, please God, take as thy own, my soul so that at the moment of death thou canst present it to thy Beloved Son, our God and Savior as one of thy own. Do not forsake me in this desperate request as I am already dead if you will not concede it. I humbly ask your prayers and sacrifices, that God finds so much more acceptable than my own, as intercessions on my behalf. It is only His love for you that would allow my soul the hoped-for happiness of the Beatific Vision. Do not forget me as my time approaches but with humble heart I ask you to intensify your pleadings to the Divinity of the Trinity in my behalf. It is with grateful heart I ask again for your love and blessings. It is within your scope of power to plead for me as I am so unworthy to ask on my own. Gratefully I pray in thanksgiving for God's blessings through your own Immaculate Heart. Blessed be the name of the Lord who has given this poor mortal such a holy Mother to follow and to imitate. Do not, I ask, forsake me in these last years as I try and make up for a lifetime of unworthiness but shower me with your tears of love and draw me, like water, to the Son. Precious in the eyes of God are those on whom your favor rests. By your charity and love, I ask you for your blessings on the final stages of my most impure and sinful life. It is only by the sacrifice of our Beloved Jesus, Our Lord, and God that I can ever hope for the Gates of Heaven to be open to receive me. Care for my soul, oh loving Lady, and present it to your Son as one of your own. I ask this through Christ Our Lord and Godhead in piety and sorrow of heart for the pitiful and unworthy gift of my life. My Queen, my Mother, I offer you the rest of whatever life I have left so that you may dispose of it in the most pleasing manner to my God.

26) I am yours for the taking. Do not worry so much.

You are doing My will and I will not abandon you. Care for the lost lambs and lead them into the sheepfold. Do good works. Caring for the least of the sheep brings you closer to My Heart. Do not give up. The devil is on the move and we must not give him a place to rest. He grows tired as he is meeting with more and more defeats. He lost the battle of slavery only a short time ago and he tries now to enslave the world with material things and ideologies that are not pleasing to Me. Take away all but the necessities of life and you will find Me there. Give up the extras and you will find Me there. Come to meet Me at the Altar and you will find Me there. Look into the eyes and hearts of others and you will find Me there. Open your home and purses to the unfortunate and care for their needs. Do not forsake Me now that the devil is being routed. Work hard to draw others to Me. Your example is a teaching tool – use it to the best advantage. If you come and pray often, the good will shine through you and others will be attracted to the light and want to please you and follow you. You will make a path for others to tread that will lead them home to Me. Make My Mother's prayer known. She will busy herself with My work and the world will reap the benefits. Watch for her, she is near. Behold she comes. She is reflected at My feet and I shall hear her pleas for you and for those for whom you pray. Pray that others do not succumb to the pressures of outside forces which are moving at the insistence of the devil who beats people into submission in hell so they will work fervently with him to influence the souls of the just and make them turn away from Me. It is so important to fast and pray and to do small invisible acts of kindness. Remember, they are not invisible to Me but burst forth in the Heavens like fireworks of light. Trust in your heart which you have given to Me. I will not desert you or leave you unattended. Be with Me in all things and I will lead you safely home. Please return again soon or meet Me in your daily prayers when you cannot come to receive Me in person. I am never far from your heart.

Lovingly, God

27) Come to Me, again, I call you. Do not be discouraged when you feel estranged from Me. You are not, I am always around you. Call to Me and I will answer in your being. I bring you joy and life. Use My words. Do not let up. Take My message to those who will hear. Do not be afraid. It brings others to Me when you give them My words. Once you have begun, I will take over in their lives. They cannot read My words and not be moved. See, you know it is already happening. Caress Me with your love and devotion. I will repay you many times over. You are bound to Me with the Cross of love. Bring others to Me by your acts of kindness. Do not stray from My message but keep it true to Me. It is in words specifically designed to be heard internally by those to whom I send them forth. Bring Me your cares. I will do as I have said. Trust

Me. I do not lie to you. I would not let evil speak to you so that you distrust Me. Why do you distrust Me? You must open your heart to accept the truth of My words, just as you have accepted My love for you.

There are many things falling into place because you have heard and responded to My will. It is only a matter of time before you see the fruits. Bring My message to others. They need the prayer to My Mother. See, I have already placed that idea in your path. Nothing happens by chance. It is all part of the Divine plan for you and for the world. You must earn your place in Heaven by doing good on earth. Watch your mouth. Do more listening than talking. I will be speaking to you through others and you must listen to hear My words. A chill will come over you if you are being threatened by the devil. Then you must bless yourself and ask My Mother to enfold you in her arms until he passes from your presence. Bless your home again and your vehicles. . . . Keep offering sacrifices and prayers for those around you. It is having such an impact on the devil's ability to function. Do not cease those prayers for others. They will mushroom and the circle of My protection will continue to enlarge. Come back again soon. Never forget I am with you no matter where you are and no matter when it is. I respond to your voice. Much love and joy in your obedience.

Jesus the Christ

28) (Prayer) What is it that You want of me and where am I to go? You offer the Heavens, but I am cemented to the earth. It is only through prayer and the consumption of the Holy Eucharist that I can flee this flimsy ground and find the firm footing of the Heavens. Prayer is my path, the rope that allows me to climb, a Jacob's Ladder of my own, God given, so as to offer a glimpse into Heaven. A taste of sweetness as the soul savors the sights and sounds and feel of the presence of God. The rapture that envelops me sends waves of tenderness and wanting through my soul. That You could love one so lowly so much causes tears of humility and unworthiness to well up. I hide in Your wounds as I cry out in sorrow for my part in causing them. My soul screams, "I love You, Lord, I love you, my God, my Love, my all. Do not take away the joy of Your presence despite my human failings. Where else could I go for peace of mind? Who else could love me as You do? Who else would wash away my sins and cleanse my sorrowful but immortal soul so that the gift of Your promised Heaven is attainable? Take away all, Lord, if it is Your desire, but I will die a thousand deaths if you would ever remove Your love. The emptiness and vastness of nothingness would swallow me. I beg you, my Lord and God, to continue to love me and bless me with Your presence. I give myself to You and ask that You do with me what Thou will.

29) (Prayer) Care for me God and love me. Your Cross is my salvation. It is the wood that gives eternal life to the world by the Blood that rolled down its furrows and saturated the ground below. Hope springs up in the dampness of the soil and penetrates the surrounding ground. Prostrated at Your feet, droplets of Blood cleanse my soul and wash it in the Blood of the New Covenant. I take and eat of Your Beloved Body, so totally given to me with a love only You as God could bestow. So unworthy a recipient I am of this wondrous and perfect gift. I humbly crawl to the very base, where the Cross rests solidly in the earth, in hopes that I can touch the Wood that carries my salvation upon its crossbeams. Your gaze penetrates my soul and I am immediately raised up with You. I can see the sorrow and pain in Your eyes. I am wounded by my own faults and the times I have turned away from your loving gaze. Do not turn from me now, when I am most in need of Your mercy. Fill my soul with Your graces so they may purify me and draw me ever closer to Your Wounds. Drown me in Your Blood so that it enters my body anew and tugs at my weak earthly body, giving it the means to attain Heaven. Without Your Body and Blood in my heart, I am lost and wandering aimlessly. It is You who gives direction to my life. It is You I adore and worship. It is You, My Lord, My Holy One, My Father, My Savior, My Love, that gives my life purpose. Continue to open my eyes to see the needs of others and give me also, I pray, the hands and body to do what you need me to do. What You ask of me is so little, when I lay here in Your Blood, and my soul is consumed with thoughts of all You did for me. I trust in Your judgment and turn my life over to you. It is so little to offer to One who did so much. How You love me! Oh God, who can stand it! It is overpowering. It is so beautiful. It sets my soul aflame and I grasp the Blood-drenched wood of the Cross asking forgiveness for my sins and the sins of the world. Oh God in Heaven, forgive us all for what we have done to Your Beloved Son - to one who has made Himself human to show us the true meaning of love. Bless us all God as we struggle to give back in some small measure for this Divine Gift of Jesus' life and death.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

Come to Me with open arms unfettered by the world. Your life and heart are in My hands. It pleases Me that you come and I am also happy to be able to speak with you. I can place opportunities in your path. You must continue to pray for discernment. Constant thoughts of Me are your safeguard against making wrong decisions. But if you do, I will see that you do not wander far from My path. It is not straight but has many curves. They are there to teach you and draw you closer to Me. You are experiencing My Love when the way is strewn with thorns. They are gifts of trials to purify you and prepare you. Offer them up to Me for your sins and the sins of others. I am well pleased in what you have done and I will lead you clearly on several of your other endeavors. The prayers . . . are designed to be prayerful meditations and so they are not paragraphs. Some are rhythmically pleasing to Me and are designed to be committed to memory. Others are thought provoking and give glimpses of the soul of the person reading them. These glimpses will open up windows for prayer and contemplation.

Prepare an offering for Mass as it will allow others to remember to pray for souls still living in the world. Their transition is crucial. I must have their souls. Prayers offered at Mass are elevated to My Father on the odor of My Blood. He cannot refuse to answer them.

“For the souls of the dying that they may experience a spiritual renewal to allow them to enter Heaven, we pray to the Lord.”

You must trust in Me fully. Bring yourself into My presence more often during your daily prayers. Make them sincere and I will answer you and lead you. . . . Your tears are like diamonds. Others will benefit by them. That is all you need to know for now. Go – pray often.

30) I want you to understand that I speak to you in your quiet prayer. It is difficult I know for you to remove yourself from your daily chores and come to find Me in your heart. I want you to know that it doesn't take hours of quiet time to call Me. I am with you always but I like it when you summon Me and call Me to your thoughts. I can offer you just as much with a simple "Our Father." Those two words are enough to pull you to Me so that you may receive My blessings for your troubles or undertakings. If you truly want to remove all thoughts that are not pleasing to Me, then you must always start your thoughts with Me in mind. Call to Me, a word or two is sufficient but you will need to take a quiet moment or two to listen. I do not shout at you but speak softly in the heart of your mind. You need that quiet to hear so that your will and body can respond. I am blessing you so that others will come. You are hungry for more. I will give it to you as you need it. Your frequent Communion is feeding your soul.

31) I want you to hear me. Think of Me when you need quiet. I will quiet your mind. That is all you will need. You will need only Me when the world distracts you. Remember you are still of the living. Your body and mind have need of earthly things. They get hungry, not just for food but for some time to just chill out and relax. Do not abandon your friends. It is one of the joys of living. Take time for them. The example I set in My life can lead you in decisions about friends. Remember that others are also under My care. They have My love. Pray that they will eventually join you in Heaven. Pray for them – and you may tell them that you are doing this.

Enough of that – now what else troubles you? The peace and quiet you seek evades you sometimes but use it as a blessing and offer it up for the souls of the dying. There is such loneliness when souls die without the benefit of people who pray for them. Look at others with love as you are not aware of their needs. I bring you peace and harmony as you go about your life. Listen inside your head and you will find even the simplest of answers for the little things that confuse or hurt you. Music, joy, love, laughter, fun, challenge, trips, talks, TV – I'm there for you. I penetrate every morsel of life you experience. Everything you do can be used to honor Me. There is such happiness over a little ejaculation – souls rise from Purgatory – they enter Heaven and begin to influence good on earth. You don't need to search for an understanding of this – or of many other things that are of God. Where there is My love, there is no need of (anything) else. My love is all surrounding. You can touch it. Feel it as it brushes your skin as a warm breeze. Like the light of a candle penetrates the dark, My love is a glow around each of My people.

32) Come to Me. Hear My words. They are like arrows of love piercing My heart when you read them and study them. Take them to others as you see the need. Draw yourself up in My arms for comfort as I will not abandon you. Never fear for your life. Your safety is My concern. My Father knows My wishes and He is ready to grant what you ask. Time is short now for My miracles to begin. They happen every day but so few of My people recognize them and even fewer show gratitude for the blessing of healing. I heal from the inside out. You cannot help but experience healing when you hold Me in your heart. Our hearts are united when I rest with you. Call to others and especially to the sick. Let them know that I hear their prayers and send them to My Father. Sometimes there are better ways to answer prayers and My people need to trust that I hear them and I am responding to their petitions. Blessed are they who place their lives in My hands. It is so important to give yourself over to God while still surrounded by your earthly body. God calls you to Himself on earth so He may reward you greatly in heaven. Do not concern yourselves with things of the earth. I am in control even when there are wars and famines. I allow these destructions as they are catalysts to enter into prayer. Blow out the cobwebs of doubt and smell the heavens which are opened to receive you.

Behold I am calling you and others see and hear the call. They want to follow but have difficulty divesting themselves of the pleasures of life. They will know who they are as they read the words I have given you. Do not take what I say lightly. I know you feel you are lax in doing all that I ask but I recognize your shyness and your humility and know you do not wish to be set apart from your friends. You may still share your goodness with them as they know it comes from Me.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

That is why I say others will see and follow. Would that the world could recognize this gift! What a great change would occur if all souls reflected My love and exuded God's goodness. My Father delights when you remind Him of His love for Me. He unites with you in that love just as I unite with you in loving our Father. That unity of love is the workings of the Holy Spirit. This is the aura that surrounds us and makes us the Triune God. Without love you cannot unite yourself with God. Can you see how love spreads when people are drawn to the circle of God? They are consumed by the fire and blessed with heavenly love that burns pure and cleanses all who enter into it. Purity of heart lights the flame for others.

My path is full of blessed thorns designed to allow you to savor the sweetness of God as they are removed by the Blood of the Cross. Just as the feet are cleansed with water, the soul is cleansed by the Blood of the thorns in life. Trust that you will always have Me to carry you if the thorns bear too deeply. I so love My people that I would carry them always if they only ask. Call out to Me. It is a joy to hear My name by My beloved people. I sit with you, I smile at you, I bless you, I eat with you, I attend church with you, I am with you as you cook, do laundry and dishes. I never ever leave you, not even for a moment. You bring Me joy as do all My souls. That is why I want more souls – I find such joy in them. Like a bud that takes its time opening into a magnificent flower, so it is with My souls. I bring them into sweet flowers of beauty. They can then reflect that beauty and others are drawn toward them. They can send out sweet smells and attract lost souls. As bees flock to the scent of an unpicked flower, so will others come to meet God through their union with the souls of My people.

No act goes unnoticed. No prayer left unheard. No wish not granted in God's own way and time. Take the time to smell the flowers of the souls of the just. Just as My Body and Blood ascended like myrrh to My Father, so your prayers and petitions rise on the sweet scent of your soul. I know mine and mine know Me. You are mine and I have memorized the sweetness of your scent. You can never be separated from Me. The uniting of the Trinity includes the souls of the just. A circle of unbroken love develops and spreads to others so as to consume the world. Continue to come and pray and seek My help.

33) I am so pleased to see you again. I know you missed me but I blessed you with graces. I told you, you are special. You are My child and I will not leave you or forget you. Your name is a beautiful name for a beautiful person. Do not be so hard on yourself. I have allowed these difficulties in order to fashion you in My image. I was rebuffed and crowned with thorns. It was in order to heal others like yourself. Carry Me with you in your heart as I am never far from you. Call to Me and I will allow you the privilege of feeling My presence in your being. Care for Me as I care for you. Each of My people are special. Do not stop praying. I told you they would follow. They are hearing Me because you have offered sacrifice and prayer. There is joy in Heaven. The battle, as I told you, is now. You will be refined in the fire of My love when I come personally to carry you to My home in Heaven. Bloom now, here on earth. Pray for those in most need of My mercy and mercy shall be theirs.

Why can you not believe in My promises? You see it happening and yet you doubt. You are thinking with your head and not allowing the power of My love to intercede for you. I gave you a lifetime of fulfilling your wishes. Why would I desert you now? Do not fear. I have not forgotten My words to you. Wait, watch, and pray. I leave you now but will return to give you instructions. Much love. Have hope, Your God.

34) (Prayer) It is with gratitude and thanksgiving that I come to you. You are my very life. The air I breathe is sweet because of You. I cannot stand the thought of a separation from You. Do not forsake me as I age in the eyes of the world but allow me to continue to grow in spirituality and contemplation so that we will be good friends when I meet You face to face. It is a simple prayer, Lord, if You will but stay with me now, I know You will be with me forever. Joy fills my soul with rapture at the thought of spending my eternity in Your home. Come to me often I pray as I finish my life here in this firmamental world. Emblazon me with qualities most pleasing to You. Refine my soul so as to make it a proper dwelling place for You. With You as the guest of my soul, I cannot be separated from You. Continue to care for me, love me, and watch over me. Bring me home to Your house when my time here is done. I love You, my Lord, my God, my all, with my whole being. I ask that you continue to love me, too.

35) Break from the routine and use your inner self to join Me in praising My Father in Heaven. Do not fear but have faith because your love will lead you and tell you of My wishes. You cannot contemplate the fierceness of My love for you. It burns inside you and would consume you if I allowed it. Bring your thoughts to Me first and pray over them. I will provide the graces necessary to make them acceptable. Bring Me to your heart as you go about your day and I will meet you there when you call Me. It is up to you how frequently we meet. I know you are subject to the decisions of others and they will consume your time. However, time visiting the sick, that is, your friends and relatives, is time well spent. You see, you bring Me with you and we make those visits together. I carry you in My bosom and you carry Me in your heart. The crystal reflects both ways. I allow your reflection to mirror My own. Your good acts are also Mine. You perform them through Me. Bring yourself – and therefore Me – to others. It is how I can continue My work in the world. Do not just be content to do this but look for Me in others as they also do My work. Think of how many thousands of hands I can control by carrying their souls in My heart. Look for My light in others and comment on the good that you see. It is time to recognize Me when you speak with others. They need to hear that I am visible in their acts of kindness. Such a comment will warm the crystal of their soul where I reside. The week ahead is a challenging one but we will be together. I will not leave you stranded. It is a joy to know I accompany you on your journey. I love you and carry you over the bumps and hills. I will be always with you as you travel. I love you too much to leave you. Your God and Savior, Jesus.

36) Listen to your heart. I am with you there. Do not speak until you have reflected on what I have to say. My Mother is your example. Be quiet and speak only as it is necessary.

37) (Prayer) Hold me Lord and come to me. I am but a worm who does not deserve You and yet You bring such joy to my sinful heart. How can I comprehend such beauty, such love and devotion? I deserve nothing and yet You give all. Why me, Lord, when others have so much more to give? Why me who is so lowly and uninformed. I cannot believe unless You bless me with the words of understanding. Protect me in Your holy arms where I can only plead for Your mercy. I cry out in sorrow for my failings. Why is it so difficult to pray? The world swims about me and I am awed by sights and sounds and then in a hushed voice You call me back to my center and take me to the mountains and feed me from Your font of mercy. I am again overwhelmed by Your generosity and Your caring. You know all. You repay with such quantity that I am left speechless. How I hope to bring You some small joy which in no way repays You for Your gifts to me. Take me, Lord. Use my hands, my feet, my mouth – all my senses. Make them Your own so they are always pleasing to You. Allow them to do Your work on earth so they may later enjoy the riches of the heavens. Oh, Triune Godhead, I worship You. I prostrate my heart and lay it at Your feet. You have every right to direct its every beat so that it works only for You. Bring me ever closer to Your dwelling place. Kiss me with the kiss of Your mouth until my heart breaks with overflowing love for You. Lead me forward Lord on the path to Your kingdom. I want to race forward but my steps are small. I place my footsteps in Your hands and ask that You guide me ever closer to You. Bless my path so it springs forth with good works of charity and blossoms in my love for You.

38) Meet with Me when I ask you. I will call so you can hear and understand. It will be an unusual meeting but you will know it is I directing your path. Come of your own free will so that My love will shower over you and peace will reign in your world for one precious moment in time. Care for the ill by praying for the relief of their suffering. Do not abandon your daily prayers. It pleases Me when you begin your day with Me in your mind. Look for ways to assist Me as you go through your day. I can be found in everyone. Names are My job. You needn't concern yourself, I will pull people toward you. Begin to share the prayers more frequently. A word for you is glory – glory to God – meditate on the glory made flesh and the glory of the heavens opened to receive your voice in prayer and song as the season continues to unfold.

I lead, I direct, I love. Never look down on others but raise their heads so they may experience My presence in their very beings. Light will illumine their souls and the meaning of the birth of Christ will be transparent in their person. A glow of warmth will penetrate and open their hearts to My call. I love you and I love the world. I love My people and I would come to live next to them if they would but open their eyes to My presence. Although I am with everyone always, they must train their hearts to receive Me. Continue to ask for My blessings. My Father is generous and He wishes to give in abundance, especially around the celebration of My birth. Parishioners' hearts are opening so as to receive His blessings. They will open their purses to the poor as they are made aware of the need. The parish is going to grow. I am bringing in younger families. Invite them into your heart and make them welcome in My church.

39) I am here for you. You have pleased Me by your constant prayer and longing. What a joy to find you here today! Come again and visit Me before Christmas. There are special blessings for you as a faithful lover and God has many things in store for you. I care for you. . . . Many travelers are in desperate need of My mercy and a simple prayer for them can open their hearts to receive Me. ... They are warmed by the Body of the Christ Child as it presses up against their hearts. I have them safely in My heart and will be pulling them toward My Father as the year commences. Go in peace My love and give . . . a hug from their Father in Heaven.

40) (Prayer) Bless me Father in Heaven for I am but a sinner. Despite my best intentions I continue to sin against You, my Lord and my God. Oh, it is not the horrid sins of murderers or rapists, Lord, but it is sin nevertheless, and You deserve so much more from me. I give You my heart, my mind, and my body and yet it somehow slips away from You during trying times. Then I must reach out into the nothingness and search You out again. I find my peace in Your forgiveness and Your longing for my soul. I cannot begin to imagine life without You and yet I still sin against You. Why can I not stay in Your Light when my mind turns away to other things. I must return again and again to ask for Your mercy and plead for You to forgive me. I am so unworthy of Your love, Lord, and yet You shower it upon me - even when I am at my worst. What a friend You are! What a lover for one so bound to the earth! How I relish Your presence in my heart! How I become ecstatic when you touch my soul with Your love! What a Christmas gift You have for us. Reaching out with those tiny hands to grasp our fingers and hold us tight. The curve of the smile upon Your lips as You gaze at Your Mother brings such joy and contentment into my heart - into the world. Oh, but to capture that first moment when Your Mother gazed upon You. The lonesomeness of not carrying You in her being dissolved when You returned her love with those small curved lips and outreaching hand. You grasped the air until You found her, Your mother and Your bride, Your love, Your very life-giving Mother. You knew from the very first moments of breath that she would follow You to the Cross. Your first sight - and Your last sight. Your mother - our Mother. Oh! God! What a Christmas gift for us all!

Take Me to your heart and hold Me close. I need your love and devotion. The world is about to experience another holocaust and we are preparing Heaven to receive the many victims of man's aggression and greed. Do not fear for yourself or your family but please – ask them to pray for the souls of those about to die at the hands of men – men who have given themselves over to the devil. Pray also for the souls of those who have such evil in their hearts. I can forgive them but they must repent of the crimes they are about to do. The battle is in the hearts of men. Each person should adopt an erring soul and offer their daily life for them. Each soul saved means others will not have to suffer horrible earthly torments. Pray as never before. . . . Bless yourself often. Make the sign of the Cross. It is the only hope for the world. My Cross goes in front of you to protect you from the slaughter. Ask others to pray. Give out this warning. You will quickly find the means to do this. Pray the Rosary as never before. Strengthen My Mother against the forces of evil so that she will stay strong and carry Her Child into the heat of the battle. Listen for the bells – the sign of My presence in the churches. Ring them often – call others to the empty churches – fill them – I will wait for them there. I bless you as you enter this difficult time. Reach out for Me and I will be there to extend My hand and touch your heart. Go . . . and carry My message.

41) I care for you and for the world. Do not go into mourning for I take the victims with me. We will go together to My Father as I once went alone to Him on the clouds of Mt. Sinai. Pray often but do not worry for those souls as I promise you, they will be with Me. It is the holocaust I spoke of before. I do not wish to frighten you but prepare you. You and your family are safe with Me. They cannot be harmed but I will be their light – a beacon in the darkness - the flame of the candle burning with the purity of love. I cannot be extinguished. I will begin lighting the fires of My love in the hearts of those desperate to receive Me. They pray for relief but only My love is their need.

Try to live your life one moment at a time. Savor each waking moment and offer it to Me so that your soul will be united with My own. As a human, My soul is divine as it is also of God. When you unite with Me the forces of hell cannot see us or penetrate. The light blinds them just as the sun blinds those who stare at it. But My light is a thousand times more brilliant than the sun. It cannot be pierced by earthly deeds. It will draw men like moths once they realize they need Me. I also pray with you to My Father. When we pray together, He must answer. Do all praying in My name and call Me to your side. I hear you now and I know you still have doubts. Do not concern yourself with them – they are human thoughts and you will always have them. Do not concern yourself with other than Me. I lead you down the paths that bring you into My light. I guide your steps and pull you ever closer and care for your needs. You are pleasing to Me when you stop your daily activities and make room for prayer.

The devil sees and tries to tempt you away. You have prayed during the night when he expects you to be sleeping. Angels minister to you as you surround yourself with their presence. They come when they are called and do your bidding. Make use of them. Send them. Give them to others. There are so many angels waiting to come to the aid of My suffering earth. Ask for their help and guidance. Add their heavenly power to your prayers as the world turns into an inferno of suffering. Pray that the water of Baptism extinguishes the raging fires as hell bursts forth from its boundaries and consumes the earth in destruction with unimaginable horrors and terrors. Pray for the water – pray for the reign of God. Pray, pray, pray. Love Me and pray.

42) Precious are you in the eyes of God. Break from the norm and bring your light to those in darkness. Pray for the souls of all who pass you during your life. A small prayer can have the saving power of a Rosary if said with sincerity. Bask in My love and find your solace there. It rains from Heaven in such glorious streams. Bask in the Light of those streams. Let the light direct you. Follow it when it calls to you. Carry My messages now to others. There is such a need among My people to see and do My will but they do not have direction. They know individually what they hope to accomplish but they need the power of group prayer to put their thoughts into practice.

... The tide is changing and a flood tide of love will bring fruition to the dry earth. It will spring forth with life. Watch for My sign. Listen closely for I will whisper My wishes to you shortly. It is the hearts and souls you are to feed. ... Pray for it (My direction) before you embark on an undertaking. . . You will know when it is agreeable to Me. Do not worry once you have chosen a path. I will then be with you to direct your undertakings. . . I will be in Your midst. It is My wounds that need to be nursed by good deeds and more souls. Blessed are the women who love much, with their eyes and hearts open to the needs of the community and the world. Encourage others to come to Communion so that I better can assist them as they search out the way to express their love. All will receive special assistance and recognize those needing instant prayers. I will be there to answer them although it will not often be in the way expected.

Continue your own prayers, devotions, and readings. I will open pathways of knowledge that will draw you ever closer to My center and unite you with the Light of Heavenly Hosts who surround you as you have requested. Blessings are poured out on you to prepare you for this mission. You are but a starting point. Others will take the limelight so that we can continue to meet. I will be your solace and your comfort. Always and forevermore we are together. I infuse you with a draught of My love and peace. Take it with you wherever you go. The more you give away, the more I will replenish. The well overflows and doesn't run dry. The more you ask, the more you receive.

43) Precious are you My child who yearns to know and do My will. I am sorry when you feel confused but I want you to come to understand what I ask through prayer, sacrifice, and penance. I have placed in you a trust and I will bring it through to fruition in My own time. Confusion is a result of the devil's influence in the world. I remove that influence when I see fit. That is why I tell you not to fear, I am in control but allow the pains of the world to draw people closer to Me. You see, as the devil does his work, I also do Mine. You, and others like you, will be doing more and more of My work as time flies by. Do not be stressed but go about in joy with confidence that you are doing My will exactly as I have planned. Do not stress either about other earthly things, they are in My hands. The suffering is always going to be in the world until time is over. The people in Haiti suffer much but they do it with love of Me. They complain little and they have nothing material and yet their souls are overflowing with love for Me. Their suffering is saving souls. There is a cloud of prayers ascending to Me not just from Haiti but from all over the world. Those prayers would not be forthcoming without this disaster. Can you see how this fits into My plans even though the disaster is caused by the evil presence of the devil? The good that will come out of this far outweighs the suffering of the people. Lives, souls, will be saved because of it. I have never and will never leave My poor. They bring Me such great joy. Many are even now expressing gratitude for what they were spared. The poor know Me and I know them. Never fear. I am the Presence of Peace in the middle of the horror and confusion.

Pray now to My Father and ask that He allow you to do

His will in your community. Blessed are they who hear My word and respond to My call. Do not stop until you feel in your heart that you have served Me as I wish. That information will come to you unexpectedly but you will know it is from Me. Pray that those for whom you serve come to meet Me in you. I will send messengers ahead of you to pave the path so you will not stumble over your words or your actions. Hold My words close to your heart while I open the hearts and minds of others. Your thoughts are My thoughts and so your deeds will be My deeds. It is in working together, divinity and humanity, that much will be accomplished. Spread the thoughts around. Get others thinking about how they can help you. Let them spearhead their own ideas and serve Me in their way. Pray for guidance as My directions become clear. You are on My path now and will experience special blessings. They will come from your own people – those whom you will serve. The circle is thus – you do My bidding, prayers of thanksgiving are raised to My Father. He pours out His blessings on those who pray and the good news spreads into the world so others hear and begin the circle again. As the circle grows, so does the devil since he must combat these efforts. Pray to My Father who keeps the devil from securing a stronghold in the circle. Eventually the circle tightens like a noose around his neck and he must seek other avenues of torture and torment for his victims.

Again, I say to you, blessed are those who suffer persecution and earthly torments; I am there with them, bringing them to My Mother for condolence and peace. It is your prayers and the prayers of so many others that keep the circle of life alive. Do not fear – I tell you that again. This is to give you peace of mind and to show you how My love is hovering over Haiti. The ripples of the water will flow toward other countries and a warmth will come over the most hardened of hearts. Al Qaeda is no more. You will see his efforts begin to dwindle in the next few years. He has lost much. Yes, even he has a soul and it is beginning to suffer for his actions. Pray for him, that he turns to Me before the end. Better to burn in fire until the end of time then to burn there for an eternity. You see, I do know mine and they know Me. I will make even the most hardened of hearts soften at the sufferings of others. Pray for My peace. It is a long way off but it is coming to the world. I, the Prince of Peace, will see to it. The devil will be conquered and will try to flee from Me. He cannot – his punishment is to be blinded by the Light which he will burn to see but will never see again.

Love Me with all of your heart. I need your worship and praise. I am here for you now and forever. Much love to you as you go about doing My work. Be blessed in My Blood and in the blood of My lambs. Your friend, Jesus.

44) (Prayer) Take me in Your arms Lord and hold me so that Your footsteps take me in the direction You want me to go. When You release me, do not leave me but show me what it is You want me to do. Give my body strength and my mind intelligence so that I can do Your will above all else. Even more, give me an abundance of Your love so that my cup overflows and fills others with Your love. Let me be Your hands and walk in Your footsteps. Pull me ever closer to Your Sacred Heart by allowing me the vision of what it is You want to accomplish through me. I can never be completely satisfied until we are at last together but I can be confident that You will not abandon me until that time.

When you love others and minister to them, you are displaying My love and it diffuses into the world. I will not leave the world abandoned. I have not died for one but for all. It is so painful to lose a soul. I am sending out workers to harvest the poor and the lonely. If the rich refuse Me, it only means I have more I will give to the poor. Take from Me. The more you take, the more I will provide. Give to others and I will bless you a thousand-fold and you will never be without Me. There is such a wonderful life I have planned for you, do not be discouraged over the little bumps and ridges. They make you stronger and more determined to do My will. It is going to take time to warm hearts so they are receptive to hearing My voice. Encourage prayer and fasting. Ask others to come often to daily Mass and to bring Me their cares and troubles. I have a good ear for listening and want to see them happy in what they do in My name. I care not for others that do not do My bidding but I will give special assistance to those who call on Me. Pray for those who turn their back on Me. I will not force them to serve Me. They must search Me out and come to Me on their own volition. The good will overcome them all as they find they cannot hide from My people who do My bidding. I care for them all but it is the faithful that have My attention and whose prayers I will answer. You are receiving direction and will know how to accomplish what I need done.

Behold I am with you always. There is no need to search for Me. Ask Me for direction and I will provide it clearly and succinctly. You pray to use your body only for My sake to do My will. Pray now and learn from what is already written.

45) Place yourself in My presence first. You already know you don't have to be at Adoration for

Me to speak to you. You hear Me and have always followed. You have an obligation to lead others to Me and also an obligation to follow Me. Do not fear the unknown – remember there is no unknown to Me. I will continue to direct your path and make the Way of the Cross for you. You can go forth with joy.

You be My example. I want you to encourage those you meet to place themselves in My presence often and to pray for direction. Battle orders are coming and you need to prepare for the war. Feed others with My words and assure them that I love them and support their endeavors. Do not think I have forsaken you but continue to search Me out if your mind is confused. I will not leave you stranded. Ask Me and I will be there. The answers will come as you need them. Do not fear that I will desert you. You are Mine and I want you close to Me always. Bring those souls to Me – pray in the car – on trips – pray that you can touch the most hardened hearts and bring Me those souls. I love you more than you can imagine. Bring Me – bring God – with you so can be a shining example for others. Remember that I have asked you to sacrifice.

Walk in peace as you follow the path I have laid out for you. Go in peace and love and serve your Lord as I have asked.

46) Meet Me with your eyes opened to the glories of the heavens. My love is everlasting and it had no beginning therefore it has no end. Come with Me as I take you to Paradise and you see what I have waiting for My people. Open their eyes to Me. See Me in the poor and suffering but see Me also in each other.

Circle the globe with My Mother's Rosary. Keep the prayers raised to the heavens. Warm air brings My touch to the skin. Rain cleanses the earth and washes away the sins of man. Believe in Me and I will do great wonders. It is all within My power and majesty to perform all sorts of works desperately needed in the world. Look for miracles at the hands of scientists and doctors. Wait for the spinning of the sun and moon and then watch the earth become illuminated in the glow of many prayers and sacrifices. Do not fear as I am with you and you are mine. These things will come about in My time and you will see them but not in your lifetime. You are part of My army who is first to advance in the battle. The world is about to undergo massive changes and only the prayers of humankind can protect the souls of those unknown to Me. I need those souls – pray as never before – that souls turn to Me in life. Carry My Cross to others and bring them My peace. The time and place are for Me to know. Advance My causes so that others may see and do likewise. Open their eyes to Me and I will rain on them and cleanse them so they open their hardened hearts. Do not forsake Me for earthly things but make time for Me during your waking hours and use the nights for prayer. Each day has the opportunity to touch others and bring them to My font of mercy so they will be saved by the Blood of the Lamb. Increase your time with Me when your life permits. Look for precious moments when we can be together. I will rain graces upon you and your household until it is time for you to join Me in the heaven I have prepared for you. . . . I do not forsake My own. There are levels to heaven just as there are levels to the soul. The gifts of wisdom and understanding determine placement for eternity. I will open your mind to reach others in the community and then you will be My hands and My feet. Pray often that you will accept what is being offered and do not fear the unknown but look for Me in the present. You have seen Me clearly in others and you will continue to know where you are working for Me. Go in peace, your pure heart has saved you.

47) In caring for others, you are caring for Me. Do not be distressed but come to Me for consolation and I will lead you forward on the path ordained for you. I have only your good in mind when you recognize your sins and find them horrifying. You must learn from these mistakes and strive for ever greater holiness as you advance in years. You must set the example so others will follow. You do not want people to look on you with disdain for your sins but to use your life to teach others how to follow Me in a world that has so much evil and sorrow.

Now is the time to pray and do penance. Now is the time to watch for the devil. He wants to make this his world because he has no power after the death of it. My world is full of flowers and trees and the sweet smell of life. He would make it a dark and dismal place that brings about the death of souls. There can be no life unless it is willed by My Father but He does not stand in the way of the devil – not yet. He expects His souls to fight for Him with prayer and good works. He expects devotion and loving kindness to others as a soul follows His path. Do not worry – again you are worrying. I will tell you what you need to know and when to speak of it. This is only a beginning; it is not something you can grasp until I am ready to offer you understanding. It is only through Me that you will live.

... Watch your tongue and I will assist your thoughts.
... Stay away from those things that pull you down and I will handle the ones over which you have no control. Bless yourself often and use the Sign of the Cross to protect your family when you visit.

You cannot imagine My love for your parish. There are rumblings in the rafters as it shakes off the past and opens wide for the future. I care only for the souls of the just as they will be My messengers and bring others to Me. I expect My army to march forward, sweeping away the dirt and sinfulness of the world. Do not be discouraged. There is much happening in the hearts of man. The souls of those Haitians are making their way to heaven and swelling the numbers. It is with such joy that we are receiving them. They are no longer poor but rich in their God-given robes of glory. They will assist their country as it struggles to return to life. Do not forget them in your prayers but use them to intercede when you ask your parish to care for the poor. They are always with you as are the rich. Encourage stewardship so that others may eat and see the good emanate from the parish. Do not be blinded by those who want only their agenda. You must push for charity toward all and I will see that it is provided. Let not your heart be heavy, you have much to learn but there is such joy in heaven at a willing and repentant learner. Continue your reading. I am speaking to you through holy writings. They are inspired and designed to be understood only as they apply to each reader. Pray often and bring your joy with you as you go about your day. Look at Me in the Sacrament of the Altar. Absorb yourself in Me when you kneel to pray. Leave the worries of the world to others. Just continue to come see Me and I will be your joy.

48) Justice will be served. I shall mete it as I see fit. Worry only about your punishment for sin. Leave the cares of the world to Me. Bless those who do My will and blessings to those who follow My commandments. Love one another and do not talk behind the backs of your enemies. They are also My children. I want you to rely on Me for your strength. I cannot tell you more until it is the proper time. Bless yourself in My name and cure the illnesses in the parish through prayer and sacrifice. Open your heart to Me and I will lead you through this troubling time.

I died for you and all. I did it out of love and compassion and troubling ways do not offend Me when there is no intent to hurt others. Be careful with your tongue. Be careful when you speak. There are those who are receiving My help and it would be My desire to see you stay out of it. Place yourself in My hands and I will allow you some incite to what is going on. The earth rumbles beneath you but you will find peace in My hands.

49) Come to Me. I am the water that washes away sin. You cannot hide from Me. I know where you are and I will seek you out. I want to cleanse you so that your soul is purified by the water and blood which flowed from My heart. I gave you all and now you must give to Me what I ask. I ask your time. I ask your love. I ask you to attend Mass so that we will be together on earth and then together in heaven. Do not look back on past sins. You are to look for ways of showing goodness. Acts of kindness, words of encouragement, place yourself in My footsteps. Follow My journey through Lent. Great blessings await those who spend time preparing themselves for Easter and the Resurrection. It is a sorrow turned to joy and I want you to suffer with Me so as to purify your body for more urgent plans. Do not think I have deserted you. It is in suffering that I am most with you. Care for My poor. Do not give up your prayer life but continue to think of Me often during the day and night. The darkness is coming and it will be My light that you must follow. I will illumine your mind with understanding if you read My words and follow them.

Blessed are the poor for they shall see God and know of the riches of heaven. Do not concern yourself when others do not follow Me. You may pray for them to also experience a renewal of spirit. Blessed be the peacemakers. They are My children and I lead them to My father and My Mother. They are well taken care of by the love showered upon them after death. Heavenly peace to all. Extend your hands and bring peace to your world. Open your eyes to ways of truth. For now, we are going to take time to learn of My wishes and how I want your earthly help. Keep coming to Me. Keep attending Mass. It is in Communion that we can best exchange loving wishes. Come to Me at night if you wake if only to say "hello" and that you love Me. Bless the children around you and pray that they become strong in faith. They have much to be concerned about and they will need to stay close to Me before they get older and lose hope. Tell them to always hope in God and to look for His light in all the dark corners of their world. Fear not, I am with them always and they are close to My heart.

50) Have I not shown you that I love you? You must remember that I am with you even when you are not at prayer. It is impossible to devote entire days to prayer when you are married. It is important that you seek Me out when decisions must be made or when others ask you to pray. I will not leave you in the humdrum chores of life. I have plans for your days and they are not always sufficient for you I know. Place your life in My hands and I will guide you to Me. Do not caress those who inflame you as they burn with fire of unhappiness. Caress and love those who are devoted to Me. You will always have people who do not do My will but try and convince you that they are. I am not concerned about the way you pray, only that you keep Me in your thoughts throughout the day. Bless others always in My Name.

Pray for swiftness in righting the wrongs of the world. Pray for showering of My blessings on the heads of political figures who are so in need of My mercy. Do not concern yourself with the lives of those who do not trust in My mercy. Come to Me and I will give you council. Care for your friends and offer prayers so they will understand My will. You are right to be concerned but things are beginning to turn around. There is an abundance of energy being expended by My heavenly angels. You must pray so that you become like a wheel with spokes reaching out into the darkness. I wish them to extend further as time becomes urgent. I wish to see them lighted with good works and wonder from above.

Plan now for your future as I am going to give you directions that are pleasing to Me. You will know My will and I will be pleased when you understand it all. I know you are in darkness and struggle to search out the light. Believe in Me and I will change the world. It is a delight to begin the end. I will haul many errant souls with Me. It is the last great gift from My Father for My willingness to obey Him. They will come in droves and I will gather them in like flocks of sheep coming home to roost in the arms of the Shepherd. Believe in Me and great good will come to your parish. I am letting you know of the difference your prayers are making.

I love My people. They are My joy. I would give My life a hundred times over if only one more would seek Me out and turn away from evil. It is here that I begin My quest for those who will do battle with My enemies. Watch and pray. Watch and pray. Watch and pray. I will return. I have promised it.

51) Hear Me. Take from Me what you need. I can provide so much good that you could never imagine it. Bless yourself often and try to come to Me throughout the day. I will hear you and you will know that I have heard you. Listen from now on with your heart. I am speaking to you softly in the caresses of My words. Break from the world at those times and find solace in Me. It is only for you I say this as I want to be able to come to you silently. Make room for Me and I will have a room for you in your soul where we can meet.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

Each person is different. Just like our bodies, each soul is different. It has different needs and is capable of different levels of prayer.

Today is a good day for contemplation on My wounds. It is a time of great graces. Mark it so you will remember. I have spoken only to you of this. Each day of Lent has special significance of My wounds. Today My left leg is badly bleeding with deep lacerations. The robe will stick into the deep recesses and become covered with blood. It will pull the skin with it when it is removed so harshly at the wood of the Cross. Pray for the healing of those who do not love My wounds. Pray for their souls. Take My pain today with you and offer up prayers that others may open their hearts to Me. Take this one day and offer it up for these wounds that they may bring souls into the light. Bring Me those souls and I will offer them to My Father who is all good. The Spirit is in the world and is opening hearts to receive Me. It can bring the world back to My Father if souls repent and listen to their hearts where I speak to them. Each person hears Me at some time in their life but not everyone wants to listen and heed My words. I speak only of My love but they are hardened and refuse the offering of peace. I am the King of Peace. I am the God of Love. It is so easy to please Me if they would only listen. Pray today that through the pain and brutal wounds of My left leg that people will come to honor Me and My Father while basking in the warmth of the Spirit. Come often and pray. Prayer is soothing to My wounds. Repentant sinners bring radiance and joy to My world. My wounds are painful but that is nothing compared to the pain of mortal sin. Mortal sins burst open My wounds again and again. My people are not listening and you must pray for the world so that an era of peace will come and cure the evil that permeates the earth. My Blood will pour forth anew as a healing salve and nothing will come between My people and Me. Lead them by example. Pray for them daily. Offer your own sacrifices. None are too little to be ignored by My Father and My Father who sees all will respond in power and majesty and the world will blossom and breathe forth new life. Tend to My sheep as you hear Me call. I will tend to you.

52) It is love I bring you. Never underestimate it. I go before you, clearing your path and lighting the way. Share My words as you must but do not wait to pray about them. Offer your life to those in need and come to Me often.

53) (Prayer) Fill me with knowledge Lord that I may worship You according to Your will. Bring me back again and again to the font of Your mercy. I am lost when you are not speaking to Me. I am floundering in the sea of doubts and confusion. I cannot function when you withdraw Your Light. Bring me back to the Light. It circles and flies but I cannot catch it without Your help.

Feed My lambs, feed My sheep. Cause them to come to Me in ever increasing numbers. Do not fret. I am happy with your efforts. It is My wish to keep you in darkness about how your prayers and attention to Me are being used for the good of the parish. I care for you and you know that. Shouldn't that be where you find solace in times of need? Brace yourself for changes. They are coming more quickly than you think.

Keep praying for My wounds and I will send a blessing to you for your family. Here is what I want you to do. Bring Me a rose of white on the feast of My Holy Blood (July 1st). Bring the rose to My Mother's altar so that she can see your obedience to Me. She will then intercede for you. Do you still not believe – not trust in Me? What is it in your humanity that makes you love but still distrust. You can begin to read the story of Anna's revelations (The Life of the Blessed Virgin Mary from the Visions of Ven. Anne Catherine Emmerich) and see how My Mother trusted in the will of My Father. The book is a book of trust and you will learn from it.

The time is ripe for the beginning of the end of time and for My triumphant entry into the lives of good souls that have been given spiritual renewal in My Blood. Fire and famine are of the past. The earth will turn on its axis for the last time when My Father sends Me forth again. Bless those who will be alive when it happens because it will be an experience that will set the stage for heavenly choirs to sing again of the glory and praise for My Father and the entire Trinity. Bring Me those souls and I will fill your cup with a draught of My suffering which will be bitter sweet for you. . . . Do come always to Me with your needs and cast out those doubts and busy your soul to touch My own. Do not think it will not happen. This is to test your faith.

You do not need to spend every waking moment in prayer but be there to hear Me when I call to you.

Pray as you go about your chores. Open your eyes and your heart to the needs around you. Do not think you are not being heard. I hear your every heart beat. Your thoughts are often directed by My Holy Angels. I have asked them to put up a barrier when you are in prayer so that we may speak to each other without disturbing others. You will find that time will be given to you for My needs. I care enough to send you help and bring you closer to Me. Do not fear as I will stay with you until you have completed the work for which you have been trained.

The Second Year

54) Hold onto Me as you walk through life. I offer the peace you seek. I am The Way to the Father. My Blood has made your way clean and it will not disappoint those who follow that path of clean, living water. Blessed are those who bathe in My side, poured to break open the doors of Heaven so that all may enter. Bless also the children, the innocent ones, whose blood floods through My Heart as they are deprived of their lives. They will worship Me in Heaven and see Me in My glory long before the sins of their parents are paid for in My Father's house.

Pull yourself ever closer to My Sorrowful Heart. Listen to the beat as it gives its last for you and for all mankind. My gift to you is eternal life. All you must do is choose to follow Me and give up your worldly ways. Continue to make time for Me and I will never leave your sight. Continue to come and spend time with Me and I will be at your side throughout eternity. It is a great pleasure to My Sorrowful Face to see you worship My sufferings, My wounds, and My final hours of life on earth. Pray to My Father that He looks upon My sufferings and takes pity on the world, bringing it ever closer to Him through My death on the Cross. Worship the Cross of Salvation and offer your own prayers and sufferings so that My Father, in turn, will lessen the punishment of the wicked world. He is angry. This is not the world He wanted. He sends His love in so many ways and yet people do not respond to it. He is the sun, the moon, the stars, the rain, the gentle breeze and the howling gale. He is the flowers, the night, the day. He raises up the trees and the mountains and oversees the valleys and the sunsets. The ocean obeys His commands as does the surface of the earth. It would take no moment for Him to dissolve the earth and all of His people would perish but He does not do this. He gives out so many warnings, catastrophic and as personal as a whisper and yet He is ignored by those who refuse to believe that He is the Divine Creator of the Heavens and the earth. He loves My Precious Blood, poured out on the earth and so He wants to be able to present it to Me, whole and entire before the end of time. Look for more calamities, for more miracles, for the sun to dance and the skies to sing. All this announces His powerful presence and His lack of patience with the Devil's Reign – which is coming to a close – we are speeding toward a great catalytic end that will shower the earth with graces, abundance of love and angels of light. Then will My Father be in power again in the hearts of all men. Then will He bring His Son forward to show Him the fruits of His sufferings. Then – oh yes then – will the world be at peace and the Reign of God begin. I have promised it, from the very beginnings of time, I have promised this joy of My presence in the hearts of all men.

Come join My angels and pray that My Father's wrath will cleanse the world of all evil. Let the Devil beware and hide his face. Blessed be God forever and blessed be His Holy Name. Keep it on the lips of all who wish to be saved. Bring Me souls – say My name when they refuse to say it and I will place it upon their tongues before they die. Fill the air with thoughts of Me and I will surround you with My protection and love. Bless the world and its people in My name. Bring them into the Sacred Blood as it flows from My side. The last insult to My Body will be the Saving Grace poured out onto a sinful world.

55) Do not give up your family for prayer. They are living prayers devoted to Me. Rest in My peace until the time when I call you home. I love you with My Divinity and you respond with humanity. It is most joyful in our union and I will not let you leave Me – even for a while. You have earned My favor.

56) (Prayer) Bless me Jesus for I am such a sinner. There is no hope for me except in you. My prayers are heard and You bless me abundantly. Yet I go on in my life as if I can compartmentalize You and pull You out only when I find the time. This is not what I want and I struggle to change it. I can only pray if You will open my heart to Your sufferings and Your death. You brought life for me when You died and I want to offer my life to You and yet that voice in my head still wants to be very specific about when this is convenient for me.

Please God, give me a heart open to You always. Do not let me forget You for even a moment or a second. Let Your Name be in my mind and on my lips as I go through my waking hours. Fill my heart with Your Love so I may see Your will opening up the eyes of my soul to those needs around me. You alone can bring me the joy of Your presence. You alone can bring fire to my heart so that it burns with love of You. Ask your Mother (Oh God what a gift!) to stay with my hands, my feet, my heart so that all my day is spent in Your service. Call my faults to my attention and give me the grace to change my sinfulness so that all I do reflects your love. God give me the wisdom to know Your Will and give me the strength to follow it as You wish it done.

Bless all those close to me and draw them ever closer to Thee. Do not forsake the children as they must struggle in this sinful world and search out the single path that leads them to Heaven and Your beautiful, glorious Face. I can only hope that You will be merciful to us all and take us in Your arms when we are ready to leave this firmament and move on to our real home with You. I beseech You to bless us on this journey through life. Do not abandon us, even for a second. We are so weak and the devil looks hard for an opening. Please God, send Your angels to surround us and keep us faithful to Your desires for us. Grant us peace and a resting place in Your high heavenly home. Come to us often on this sinful earth so that we have a taste of what awaits us if we but follow You here and now. Bless us all, oh Lord, my God. Bless us all, again and again and again. Without You the barrenness would overtake us and we would sink to despair. Claim us now as one of your people and provide the Light of Your Love so that we may not lose our way. Draw us up into Your Bleeding Heart as we celebrate The Eucharist. Give us the priests who will perpetuate Your reign on earth and pull us ever closer to You. God grant this in the name of Your Son, Jesus Christ, my Love, my Life.

57) To the ends of the earth I will allow My Heart to reach. Do not concern yourself with things that do not matter. Bring your worries and cares to Me. I am in control of your life when it comes to money matters. You must accept this as My Will. You cannot always know what is best for you but I Am Who Am and I know you and I want you with Me in eternity. Take from Me as you need and do not fear to ask when you have money concerns. Turn it over to Me and I will arrange to have you cared for in a manner pleasing to you and to Me. You cannot be of help to others if you cannot take care of yourself.

58) Place yourself in My hands and allow Me to raise you up so as to free your steps. They cannot touch an evil path when they are raised up to Me. Go in peace and love.

59) (Prayer) My Lord and my God. Blessed be the womb that bore you and the love of the Mother of God for her Son. And now it has been extended to all humanity. How greatly she suffered. How carefully she bore her sufferings so that others would not die of sorrow themselves.

I love My Mother even more than she loves Me. I love My people more than it is possible for you to believe. I do as My Mother asks. Pray to her untiringly as she will be your intercessor between you and Me. Her faith is unshakable. Pray for such faith. Her love is unstoppable no matter your sins. She pours forth graces into the world and lights up the hearts of all who receive them. Do not listen with your ears but with your heart. Take what you have and give it to her. She is the champion of the poor in spirit. Call upon her when you are distressed. Reflect on how she loved My wounds. Reflect on how she bore My pain in her heart. Reflect on how she continues to pour her love onto her people – My people. Pray that the dying repent so they may enjoy Heaven and the sight of My Mother. Rest your heart in My heart so they may beat as one. Bring others to Me and lead by example. Blessings to all you bless in My name. It is the beginning of the end. Pray for strength and keep receiving Communion. You are taking Me with you and presenting Me to those who do not believe. Watch and wait, the time is getting closer when the world will cry out for My mercy, if they do not pray and repent, even My Mother will not be able to save their wicked souls. Take care to continue to pray and ask forgiveness. My love for those who show mercy to others is unending. Grant the Light of the World what He asks and pray – make everything you do a prayer.

60) Blessed be the peacemakers. It is only through the eyes of a child that the world will come to know Me, the pureness of their thoughts, not yet corrupted by the wickedness of the world. Precious ears, open to hear and anxious to learn. It is sinful to ruin a child's purity and My Father will punish those who do. Call My Father's name, Abba, Abba, ask Him to protect the little children. Take thoughts of Me with you wherever you go. I care only for your soul. Your body is of the world but your soul is of God. A glorious soul will enter into My Kingdom. A tarnished one will have more to suffer. Bless those who suffer in this life and pray they suffer in patience and understanding. Not all suffering is for the sufferer but it is for those who need it most to allow them to enter Heaven. The devil has such devious ways of worming his evil into even the hearts of My faithful. Be watchful as he would be so pleased to find an opening in your soul. Walk My walk and follow the path I have placed before you. I continue to light the way.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

Look for the needs of others and ask My help as you try to reach out. Continue to come to Mass and Communion. Carry Me with you when you go about the day. Look for My love in the sky, the wind, the rain, and all of nature. Sin has destroyed My perfect world but it is My world. It is My creation and every living plant suffers imperfections because of the devil's influences – but they do not answer to the devil's call. They love Me and if you listen with your heart you can hear the chorus of their voices praising God and asking Him to bring about the salvation of man in the breaking of the Bread of Life. I caution you to step carefully as the enemy is closing in. Keep Me uppermost in your thoughts. I have told you that you are safe with Me and I will not allow you to be swallowed up. As long as you lovingly consume Me, you cannot be harmed spiritually by the devil. As long as you stay in My arms, you remain in the cradle of safety. Your devotion to Me is a source of great pleasure. Wait and watch. I can do all things if you but believe and trust. Blessings are tumbling out of the Heavens. Watch and wait. Pray and do penance.

61) I am reaching out My hand to you if you will but take it. Doubts and fears are punishment for sin. Adam and Eve experienced doubt and fear immediately after their sin. They hid from Me as though I couldn't find them. I stay hidden in this world but yet I am visible all around you. Reach out to Me in the depths of the souls of those around you. Use prayer to pull Me from the hidden recesses of their beings. My people lose hope so easily. They expect, as do you, that it should all turn out well. I did not come into this sinful world but to save souls. I came to raise them out of the wickedness of the world and carry them to My Father's house. The world as you know it will disappear and the heavens will brighten with the light from the souls of the just as they will be illuminated with the Light of Christ, the Redeemer of the world. I am the Light of the World. The darkness in the soul is from original sin. Sacramental graces are cures for sin as the graces purify by the fire of love what has blackened the souls of all My creations except for My Beloved Mother. Her seed is from Adam, the perfect man before he sinned. She is the Ark of the Covenant promised of old and purified by My Father in Heaven so as to be the perfect example for My people. Ask for her blessings upon all you do. I honor her every request. She is your intercessor with Me. Because we are together, she is also in your heart. Look there for guidance. If you ask her for help, I am right there with her. We hear you together and I respond to her wishes. She is over My Church on earth and she suffers from the evil that licks around the edges of it. More prayers and sacrifices are needed. A sacrifice can be small and yet have a resounding effect in Heaven. It is like a cornucopia, it begins as a small grape and then tumbles out full of ripe fruit. Consume the fruit of the vine and become the cornucopia. Let graces pour forth in such abundance that the world recovers from the presence of the devils. Pray for peace – peace of heart, peace of mind, peace of spirit, peace in the home and in the world. Love one another. Peace immediately follows love.

62) I am bound to this earth through the advent of the world. My Father has decreed that I should redeem all mankind. Although not all have accepted Me, they have all been given the opportunity for salvation. They come to Me and ask when they have needs. They do not come to love Me and keep Me company. I am a good companion as My people travel through life. Once they are baptized, I am with them like the Holy One of the Ark of the Covenant. They have only to reach inside to find Me.

I am tired of what men do to offend Me. It is My wish to punish the world and at the same time bring My people to live with Me in Heaven. My people worship My Father by worshipping Me. The Spirit moves many souls as you write. They will come to know Me in the breaking of the Bread of Life. Blessings abound for those who pray. Care for those souls who are spiritually empty. They wander about in their tents of sadness and never take the time to look outside of their own silly lives. I will be coming when they least expect it. They have been forewarned and it will be up to them to present their souls to Me with an explanation of how they lived their lives. Do not take My salvation for granted. The eye of the needle is the way to Heaven.

My people love Me and visit with Me. They come to My churches and say prayers in adoration in the silence of their hearts. They grow old in My presence and it pleases Me to care for them. I wash their souls as I once washed their feet. They are cleaned by the blood and water of the sacrifice on Calvary. The mystery will continue as the understanding of it would take the very life-giving breath away.

Here is My heart. Carry it with you. Kiss it often with the prayers of repentance. Give it strength by coming to receive Me in Holy Communion. Give it grace by feeding it from the Rosary. My Mother's Rosary surrounds My Sacred Heart. She continues to shelter Me in her motherly love. She has only to nod in your direction and I will oblige by giving you the knowledge you need to finish your life in a holy and blessed manner. Come often to build up blessings in My House. Never come because you are obliged but because you hasten your steps here to spend time together.

You have not been misled. Trust Me. It is the key to miracles. Blessings are flowing but they must be accepted or they will fall away like the seeds on shallow ground. They will not grow and be fruitful unless they are watered by faith, blessed by hope, and fertilized by love. Continue to come and ask Me for what you need. Even when your answers seem muddy, pray for clarity of vision before you speak or act. I can only offer but you must be willing to accept. There is much to be gained through suffering. My people suffer to alleviate the pains of My death. Suffering brings Me souls. Can you now see the path? It is opening for you.

63) Blessed be God on whom you can depend. Blessed be His Son who does the work of God the Father. Blessed be the Holy Spirit who encircles all with love and knowledge. Blessed be the Mother of God who reigns in splendor and governs with kindness and love. Take what you need from all and use it for the betterment of the world. My people cry out looking for a Savior. They see My Son and worship Him from afar. It is important to bring those who are ignorant of My Son to the table of the feast. Trust in your prayerful instincts to follow and do what is being asked of you. Trust in the words given to you in the gospels. Trust in the suffering Christ who is consumed with the fire of love. Bring My sheep to the altar. Instill in them the knowledge of the life of the risen Lord. Bring Me souls – take them from their comfort level and help them to see the image of their God. He has risen and will suffer no more. He rejoices over each soul dedicated to His needs. He loves those who give of themselves and toss aside all worldly needs. Bring those souls who are lost and need the companionship of the Mother Mary to pull them into her arms and offer them the love of her Son as atonement. He has but to gaze on them and their hearts will melt into the love of the Church for those who are faithful witnesses to the Christ.

Blessed again, I say, are those who serve others. The least shall be first. Take the lowest work I offer and it becomes a gem in your heavenly soul. Your eyes will feast upon your God when you offer your life in service to others.

Blessed again are the words of the prayers when they are said in humility and love. Pray often and think of the love being showered upon you. Take from Me as you need but give it back in the form of service. Time spent in My house is always a cause for celebration in heaven. Worship, praise, service, and love – these are the keys to the Kingdom of Heaven. Lead by example so that others may see and follow. Trust in God to lead you into the path that will bring you home to Heaven. Believe and trust – the rest will come.

God is love and you are of God. Use that blessing of love to inspire others to sanctity.

64) Behold the Lamb, the blood of salvation has spread throughout the country. The anger of My Father is unleashing itself in ways the world cannot imagine. Pray that He passes over your little house. You also anger your God when you open your mouth against others. This is not leading by example but it is defaming the Lord through slanderous words. Fight these attacks by the devil and bring your soul and your mind to the words of My Son, your Savior. He alone has the words of life.

Cancel and chart your course now as I endeavor to send you into the next phase of your work here on earth. Toss away your fears and doubts and replace them with joy and enthusiasm. Keep up your daily prayers and come to meet me at church as time provides. You are busier than you know with the Lord's work. Care for those you meet lovingly. Do not open your mouth as much but touch, smile, show love in your actions and by your prayer life.

I cannot now give you direct answers as you must come on your own to understand your unusual calling. Cures will happen as promised. My time and yours are not the same. Take My words to those who ask devotedly. Wash the stains of sin from your eyes and mouth and use them to aide My poor. Lessen your earthly possessions – not in the ways of the past but by using what you have for the service of the Lord. It pleases Me when you are touched by those suffering from earthly torments. Pray for their relief. . . . Trust in your works. They seem small to you but they are bringing Me souls daily.

Can you not hear the Spirit? Can you not feel the Circle of Love? You are safe with Me. Look around you for the signs of My love and caring.

65) . . . My lambs are calling to Me and I do not respond. They must look deeper into what motivates them to ask for My help. Your great country must return to prayer for answers and help. My Father flicks His anger at the wicked ways of the world. He is going to set things up for the second coming. He is blessing more people by giving them knowledge of things that will begin to change the world and give it back some of the beauty of paradise. These are God given inspirations and are to be used to draw people into the Light of His mercy. Do not try and put a time frame on this but recognize that My Father's hand is pointed directly at the United States. They have strayed away from His path and He is greatly disappointed, but do not fear. The people will rise up in faith and love. An outpouring of love into communities is happening as you write. Look around you. There are good, Christian people, full of love for you and all humanity. Even those whose lives stretch them into other areas, they are also working toward improving their souls. I have spoken to you before of the needs of your parish. You have the means of reparation if you will come to Me and confess each time you find yourself enmeshed in situations which cause contention. I am sending graces through My Mother to those daily Mass attendees so that all will radiate and draw more to daily Mass. Look for a rainbow of colors to come into the sanctuary and bring My blessings throughout the Masses. See the colors in the Monstrance and watch for the signs of peace in the hearts of others. Conflict and the resolution of it can be a trying time. Come to Me often and pray for peace. The Dove of Peace is outstretched over your church. Feel His presence and watch how the hearts of others are opened.

66) Peace be to you. The skies are opened with the tears of the angels. Blessed are those who work for peace. I am with them now and leading their thoughts along the lines that will eventually bring them together.

Mary, My Mother, comes to you in a special way today. Why look for signs when I am here beside you now. You feel My presence in your heart. Take courage. All is not lost. . . . God's will is going to conquer sin. The righteous will find My face but the unjust and the wicked I will destroy. Pray for peace – not just peace in the world, but peace in the homes of so many erring families. The good people are starting to use their voices to do My will. I am there with them. The world did not hear Me while I was on earth but they will hear Me now. Just as a few were chosen then, a few will be chosen to lead the fight for peace. Conflict always precedes peace in the world.

Courage child, your faith is still in the mustard seed stage. You have much suffering before you can grow.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

Keep up your prayers, I am delighted with your wishes to be better. I am hopeful you will continue to beseech Me. I love it when My people fall at My feet begging for help.

67) I am the way, the truth, and the light sayeth the Lord. I am he who brings light to the dark and opens the mind of the most hardened of hearts. There is much sadness in the world. My people cry for justice but justice is not forthcoming. Bring your prayers to Me when you are needy. I hear them all but do not respond except in ways that are best for the souls of those who worship Me. Precious souls, holy souls, loving people come to worship at My table. I enhance their spiritual life as they receive My body and blood.

Come often to see Me and I will not abandon you in your need. I am comfort for the dying. I am a beacon for the lost. I am love with arms that reach out and warm your soul. I am your teacher who does not lead you astray. I am hope for the lost and those struggling with life problems. I am the beauty of the universe as yet unmarred by man. Could you ever count the stars? Then do not think there is a limit to what I have to give. Blessed are those who believe in miracles. My light will illumine their souls and they will rest in My heart – already aflame for them.

Trust in My Father. His anger is tamed when you say the Rosary fervently. He cannot resist loving you when you pray to the Blessed Mother. She is His finest creation and He loves her every movement.

Pray, too, that the Holy Spirit will re-enter the world with the same fervor as on Pentecost. The world will blossom with My heavenly graces again. Souls will be won over and whole nations will turn from their pagan ways and be converted. Christianity will prosper and grow as it consumes country after country. Mark My words as you read them over. They represent the direction of the future of the world. The calamities will come to an end. Wars will cease. Hope will rise up from the ground and swell up into My people. Bring your cares to church for Me. Do not spread them into the community. Again, you must remember, I am the way. I am the truth. I am the light. I am who am. I am the Lord your God. Carry Me to others.

68) Bring Me your cares no matter how many. We can discuss them and you will understand what is in My mind for your work here on earth. I am beside you as you go about your daily tasks. Come to Me often during the day. Take time to hear My voice as it murmurs in your soul. Cast out the doubts and know that I am hearing all you are saying. My will does not conform to your will in some matters.

Fasting is important but you must also take care of your earthly body as well as your spiritual soul. You are of both the earth and the spiritual world beyond your current sight. The darkness will descend on the earth but nothing can blot out My heavenly light. Souls illumed by My body and blood flood the world with the light of salvation. Cast out also all seeds that lead to greater sins. Awareness is the key to avoiding the temptation to sin. Be close to your angel as you go through the day. Your angel is My Mother's first line of defense against the inroads of the devil. He lurks about and licks the dryness of those parched by temptation and sin. He is deceptively tempting many into eternal torment. Sacraments flood the world with graces. They come for the receiver and overflow to needy souls around them. Use caution when you are among people so that you will not destroy but build up. Trust in your heart as you know I am there. Care for those who find difficulty in speaking well of others. If you lead by example, they will come to see how the world was meant to be. Trust in yourself too when you pray and I will always be there to pray with you. Together we will ask our Father for the gifts of the Holy Spirit. Know that it is how you receive what you need. Ask Me, we ask the Father and He sends the Spirit. Fortitude is coming, relax and know your prayers are being heard. Heaven stirs with your prayerful requests. Prepare yourself for answers. Prayers are always answered.

Bless those around you and you surround yourself with positive energy which gives way to good deeds. How beautiful the world if everyone went through the day asking God's blessings on each other. Prayer floats on heavenly vapors like incense in the church. It rises to God and dissipates into the rest of the world. Much prayer is needed and blessing others is a start in that direction.

I live with you. I breathe with you. I care for your every need if you but ask. I am the Father of all and My Son brings you to life with Me. Take the blessings of the Spirit and show how they are working in yourself. When they are visible, others follow. Prayer is the answer to all questions and it is the key, along with good works, to your place in heaven.

69) (Prayer) Here I sit feeling abandoned and lost. There is nowhere to turn unless You provide direction. My life is in Your hands. Please allow my soul to stay there also. I have nowhere to go except to You. Nowhere to hide from Your love. Night falls and daylight does not come. Shadows creep about and longing for You increases. There is no place to run and my shelter does not let me enter into the peace of before. Grant me light so that I may behold Your glorious face. The love of Your glance evades me and I wallow in sadness and sorrow.

I sit here in Your presence and gaze upon Your very body and yet I am empty inside. Fill me up again and again, Lord. Excite my soul with Your words of comfort. Place me at Your feet so I may again kiss the ground on which You walk. Bring me to Your presence and carry me through the day. Caress me when I sleep and hold me when I wake. I swoon at the thought of You and I gaze upon You, so still, so lifeless, and yet so full of radiance and beauty that can only be found by fully surrendering to You. You are my life, my breath, my only hope for salvation.

Look upon me kindly and remember me when I die. You know my face, my whole being is known to You. I am enamored by Your constant care and I long to be with You. Bring me safely through the night and open the curtains so I may see the light again and feel the warmth of Your love.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

70) Quickly I come so that you may have peace. Solidly I hold on to you and protect you from leaving Me. Your cares are My cares. Your life is a jewel if you but hear Me and follow Me. Sin no more. Care for those who are not yet of My Father's house. Stepping stones, leading others to know Me and rejoice that there is so much love to be found hidden in the recesses of their own hearts. Trust in the Lord and be brave of heart. There are things to come of which I will involve you. Speak only as I tell you. Hold it inside of your heart and pray about it. People will be placed in your path and the path will become illuminated so that you can race speedily toward the fruition of My goals. Leave your cares behind and trust in Me. You will always be alive with My love. Blessed are the poor in spirit for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. See the path before you?

71) (Prayer) Here I am Lord, lost again and searching. Looking for You and only sometimes feeling Your glance. Take me to Your world where my path will always be Your path. Let me see the sweetness of my heavenly Mother's face. But if that is not Your will for me in the near future, let my life be devoted to You. Send Your angels to carry me and keep me from sin. Bless my family and our homes. Care for us as we age. Shower Your love and take us home to You when You are ready for us. Do not abandon us Lord. Teach us Your ways.

The gift of Your continued presence physically before my eyes in this precious sacrament of Holy Eucharist received in awe, Your very own body and blood, are inconceivable and yet I believe, I experience, I open up to the graces You bestow on so lowly a servant. You carry me through life. Please help to keep me from displeasing You by sinning. Bless my tongue and my thoughts. Direct my hands and my feet. Grant me, please, the graces needed as life tosses me into places and situations that are occasions of sin. Help me Lord now so that when I step over the boundary into a new life, my soul will be already in Your arms.

72) (Prayer) Here I am Lord. I come in hope and love.

I speak of love. There is joy in loving. Kindle the flames of the fire of love. Take what I offer. Carry My message by your actions. Break bread with the lowly, the homeless, the unemployed.

(Prayer) Take Me Lord to fly with You so I can no longer hurt You by sinning. Body and Blood, soul and divinity, heart of my heart, life of my life. Oh, God do not hide Your face and voice but pull me into Your presence where I can experience the pure joy of union with you. Bless this weak earthling who suffers from being of the earth and struggles to transition into what is desired to become of heaven. Cast me not out but toss the net to me and pull me into the safety of the boat where those who love and worship You await me. Oh angels, cast your light upon me so I may not walk this earth in darkness. Open my eyes to the real presence of the Lord. Here I see Him in the Sacrament of the Altar, the full presence of the mystery of the Body and Blood. Before my eyes I see and believe. I adore and worship. I am ashamed for the sufferings I have caused and I look for graces to keep me pure in this life.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

73) (Prayer) Pull me Lord. I am so stuck in the mire of this world. The distractions are many and the opportunities to serve You seem hidden or unreachable by so lowly a servant. It is only in the smallness of My life that I can hope to please You. It is only in the absence of love that You would leave me. I want Your love so much and yet I shun times when I could be with You. I do not devote all my time to good but often look for pleasure in earthly things. I want to please You and yet I so often end up pleasing myself. Can it ever be any different? Can I ever find You in others? Can You, will You, open my eyes to the suffering around me? Not in far off places, but here, right where I can see and help. How do I do it? How can my life be more useful? You must light the way. Direct my steps. Hold my hand. Enter my thoughts. Open my eyes.

My eyes caress You here present before me. I sit here in silent worship. Are visits enough for You? I think You want this and more. I would flay my heart if You would but come and allow me to do Your will as You lead me on to Your own heart.

Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth; blessed too, those who love the meek and weak of the earth and care for their needs. Touch, hug, love, make others feel needed and wanted. Look at your feet – destine them to walk in the way of Christ. Look at your hands – destine them to assist as did Christ. Your heart will be opened to receive a portion of My own heart. This can only multiply like the loaves and fishes. The more you give of yourself, the more you will have to give.

74) (Prayer) Here I am Lord, wrapped up in my own mind again. Blessed are those who visit with you and listen without their own minds and wills jumping in to disrupt thoughts from You.

Care for those who are the least among you. Suffer with Me by suffering with them. Council those who are leaving Me for the world. Bring them back by prayer and good works. I Am Who Am, right now in front of your eyes.

(Prayer) Open my eyes Lord to the beauty of the people around me. Open my eyes to their needs and help me to bring them another step closer to You. Send me forth into the world so that I may find myself after death in Your arms. Hold me, caress me, kiss my head, so much I ask so boldly from the weakest and poorest of the earth. I hunger for Your love. I pray that You will bless what I do and look upon me kindly. I want so much to abandon all for You but there is a lack of trust – a weakness of my human spirit that talks to me unceasingly about more and more instead of less and less. How do I quiet this earthiness for godliness?

It is in surrendering yourself to Me that you will find your soul at peace.

(Prayer) I picture my heart open so that You may step inside and lead me.

75) Forget the past defects and work on today. Help those in need if only by a prayer. I am in your heart because you have pleased Me. I care for your worries and help you to overcome. Precious in the eyes of the Lord are those who bring Him joy by their good works, prayers, and petitions. Do not get yourself too upset by the things around you but come to Me with your heart and we will put our hearts together in love and joy of companionship. We walk together in earthly things and I carry you onward toward My Heavenly Father. Receive Me frequently and pray always for the grace of a happy death. I await your soul with open arms. Our love unites us now and forever. Do not fear the unknown. I will care for you always.

76) (Prayer) My eyes tear and my body experiences an elevation of joyful longing as I contemplate the depth of Your love for me. The blood that pours forth from Your wounds washes me clean and refreshes my spirit, bringing it ever closer to You. The path becomes illuminated and droplets of blood lead me to the Cross. It is here I find peace and joy. Your love conquers all my fears and eases all my sorrow. Your Holy Face, so pale and anguished, looks down with so much love that I am ashamed of the times I sinned and disappointed so loving a God. Bring me home to You, Lord, when my earthly life ends. Carry me in Your arms across the threshold into the joys of Your Heaven.

I shut my eyes and physically imagine You reaching out for me and drawing me into Your loving arms. As You press me close and kiss the top of my head, I tremble at the wonder of My God made man. I want to live and breathe and do only for You. Tears well up again as I plead for You to forgive my sins. I slide through Your arms to kiss Your feet and cleanse them with my tears of remorse. Such an imperfect life lying here at the feet of my God, begging for mercy and yet all the while knowing You have long ago forgiven me of sins. You continue to bless my life with Your presence – oh yes – it is You there acting through the people You place around me. You teach me, You give me gifts, You answer my prayers. My grateful heart runs to You again and again. Father in Heaven please . . . ; Jesus, I need . . . ; Holy Spirit I ask . . . ; Oh, Mary hear my prayer . . . ; and You never tire of my humanity in asking. Who could not love such a God? Who could not rejoice in being so loved?

Bend an ear. Hear the humanness of my heart beat for you. Boldly step forth with confidence that I will not leave you. Listen to Me through others. So many of My people are lonely and need to be physically touched.

77) (Prayer) You fill me to overflowing with love for You. Who could not love the giver of such wondrous gifts. Your love permeates my being and my spirit rises up in joy and wonder at the goodness of My God. You bless me abundantly and shower me with graces. My soul leaps in hope and longing for the gift of Your presence. Your spirit washes over me and my soul rises to heights of ecstasy and longing. The depth of Your love is fathomless and I wish to wallow in the very pit of it. In all my sinfulness You forgive me and reach out to welcome me. Blessed is My God and only He do I adore and worship. It is You, the one, the only, the beginning and the end. You are my Amen.

Peace be to you My beloved. I wish only to bring you to heaven and introduce you to My Father as My child.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

It is for you I suffered the inhumanity of My passion and death. It is for you I begged My Father to forgive.

(Prayer) I hang my head in shame at the sins of my world and beseech You to spare me from more temptations and more sin. The activities of the devil are many and the temptations and opportunities for sin are great. You alone can offer protection and it is with gratitude that I can redeem myself through Your blood.

78) (Prayer) I look upon You Lord and know that You are looking at me too. You know of all my little maladies, the hungry rumbling stomach, the sore back, the chill in my body, the tired legs – all those little daily aches and pains. You know also the heaviness of my heart at the recent losses of people I have loved. You know of my joys and the pleasures of the past couple of weeks. You know of my appreciation for all the love You have showered upon me with the people You place in my life. Yes, You know me well.

My poor pitiful attempts to thank You pale at the wonder of Your gifts. You answer unspoken prayers and penetrate my thoughts with what it is I need to do. Oh yes, You call my transgressions to my attention in such a kind but revealing way that a knife stabs my heart in sorrow for them and my soul cries out that it will work to avoid those sins in the future.

With all of this I still sometimes feel a vastness of loneliness and walk about looking for ways to please You. Where am I to go? I ask over and over. What is it that You want of me? How do you want me to pray? What is pleasing to You? Why is my heart so restless? It is only because I have put my trust in You that I can manage to hold myself together.

Sometimes it is as if You speak to me plainly and I rejoice to hear and follow. At other times Your voice is in the distance and garbled by the wind and fog around me. When Your peace comes upon me, Lord, it is warm as a blanket. It envelopes me and warms my body with an overwhelming sense of belonging.

Brush away the cobwebs and begin to live your life as if I am coming for you tonight. Prepare daily in joy and happiness as if I and the Kingdom are only moments away. Press the grapes to make the wine and let it water your children and your family. Praise goes farther than contention. Bring your smile and personal joy – water their lives with what I have given you. Come often to Me during the day and ask for a clearer path. It will be illuminated at your first desire.

79) (Prayer) Blessed be my God – the God of all peoples. Blessed be He who comes in the name of the Lord. He and He only is My God. I place my trust in Him.

Oh, Lord, this flows so easily from my lips but it is so difficult to do when confronted by life's many distractions. I open my heart to You time and time again and then shrink back as soon as I am challenged by events over which I have no control. You are my life, my Savior, and my God. I believe in You. I adore You. I bow down in worship and love – until life doesn't go my way. Then I become the impudent child and beg and plead and coerce until I am spent. You reach out Your hand in comfort and I see my human weaknesses and beg You to fill me with trust in You. You have my good in all You do for me and I want to trust in You completely.

I feel Your warmth and love when I receive You in Communion. Oh, thank You for this mysterious gift of Yourself as You take me, even if for only a brief moment, into communion with You.

When we are in communion together, I speak freely into your heart. I am able to caress your worries and cares and rejoice at your love for Me.

Oh, Lord, that I could carry that moment with me forever. Instead I leave the church behind and, although I carry You all day, I sometimes allow the day to be poorly spent. Assist me please in those weak times when I am tempted to say or do inappropriate things. Quiet my tongue and allow me time to reflect before I offend You. Halt my steps before they walk away from You and turn me back so that I am always reaching out for You.

Blessed are those who are the least of my brethren. Help me to find them and encourage them. Give me the tools to know how to help them. Show me the way, Lord, show me the way.

80) Take from Me what you need. I open My heart to you. It continues to bleed for the conversion of sinners. I draw My hope from My daily communicants. They are My army, My first line of defense against the devil. Pray that their numbers continue to grow. Allow the breath of the Spirit to descend and enter into your heart so that you will be strong and take my message to those less fortunate. Cry out for mercy as the world descends into an obelisk of fiery hell. I am not leaving my people but they are about to be purified. The fire cannot harm them while they hold Me in their heart. Take care to love the suffering as they will be destitute and have nowhere else to turn. Break away from what does not please Me. You do My will as I ask but I need you to bless others and reach out more clearly to those who lack faith. It is a call to action for My close friends. Your direction is still not clear, I know, but believe and trust that I will make the path straight. You must trust in My ability to do as I say. I cannot take more than you have to give. It is like snow on the mountain. It remains only as long as the cold. It must melt when it comes upon the warmth. It cannot stay cold when the sun reaches its rays to the tops of them. Just so, those whose hearts are cold will find they must melt when the Son of Man nears. They cannot refuse His loving warmth. The barren cold earth will blossom in the warm wet ground and the day of the Lord will dawn like no other day. Suns will appear on the horizon and I shall come in My glory between them. Give thanks always to My Father's passion for His people. Many will be saved and come to know the Christ as their God. Love to you and your family as you enter this joyful Christmas season. Go with My blessings and return soon. Love, God

81) (Prayer) Oh God, how I love being with You and spending time in Your presence. I love helping on Your altar and preparing it for the beautiful birth of a Christmas season once again renewed in our hearts. Your love for us is unexplainable except through what you allow us in faith. Trust is also a difficult piece which You ask of us. I come to you tonight with a heart willing and wanting to serve you. Can you lead me please in the direction that best follows the path you have laid out for me?

82 (Blessed Virgin) I cry out for mercy and yet there is none. I lament the death of a soul that has left me for the underworld. You, children, must pray and never cease asking the mercy of God on those who would be lost. Look to the heavens from whence your salvation is coming. Do not delay but pray that you will be able to handle the onslaught of those who would do you harm. I want to protect you. Come enter the safety of my mantle. Do not stir from it as there are those who would welcome a chance to pull you from my safety. We must bring all souls to this safety. The devil cannot hide from the wrath of God. My Son will triumph and lead the souls of the just to freedom – His freedom – freedom to love each other as He has loved you. Trust in His words and do not turn your back on the least of those but continue to work through words and prayer so that those lost souls that wander about you can come into the light. Trust in your God-given instincts that you must step forward and make yourself known. Blessed are those who suffer for my sake. I am with you – remember you are never without me. Use the words I have given you. Pass out the prayers. It is the first step for conversion of many. Tell others to pass them out too. Spread them about like rain in the fields. It will nourish the souls of many and bring them into flower. Do not hesitate, begin today.

83) Carry My cross. Work for Me. Bless those who are distant from Me. Care for My wounds by kissing the ground of the Cross. It is a symbol of My love for you. It is not a real figurative item but a vision of how I want the world to come to My aid. People need to see how they have been saved. They must offer sacrifice at My feet. Place their offerings at the base of the Cross in order to appease My Father who will give graces through My Mother. The graces spread like My blood across the surface of the earth. All in the path are saved by the multiplication of the graces. The font is never empty but the more it flows, the more there is.

Pray for peace and understanding. Look to the heavens for your growing number of signs. It is all before the eyes of My people and yet so many are still blind to the truth. They live their lives in such sorrow when they could spend them in unity with Me. Catch the many souls as they fall from grace and pull them back through prayer and sacrifice. Do not abandon them because they make fun of you and ridicule you. Watch closely and you will see others who are receiving My message. I want to make (My church) a haven for lost souls. I have been sending special graces through the intercession of Mary, My Mother. Look at her now. She pulses with light. Know that she loves you and is poised to show herself to the many who love her and pray for her intercession. What is it you wish to see? Love is not movement. Love glows in My people. It is reflected in their faces. I send them to you and place them in your path. They are precious in My eyes and live in My heart.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

(Prayer) Lord I am destitute and starving for You. I want to trust You completely and abandon all of earth so as to be open only to You. My feet are not cooperating but remain earth bound. I pray that I am doing Your will as You intended and that I am not blinded by these things that are not of the earth. Each grain of sand does not escape Your eyes. I find I must believe that You know the ground under my feet and so You can clear the path for me as I try to follow You. Let me run to You. My God. Do not let me be mistaken in the path I take.

84) The time is now. Quiet has descended. Listen to Me with your heart. I am speaking to you while you study my presence on the altar. Do not lose your way with all of the distractions of the world. Make room for prayer and reflection on my wounds. Study my wounded body and see what I have offered to My Father in restitution for your sins and those of the world. Pray for the influx of graces so that the world may again experience a renewal of love and caring. We must work together to route the devil. You must continue to pray to keep your home the haven that it has become. Pray, read scripture, reflect, speak to Me, to your Blessed Mother, to the saints. Do not let an hour go by without some recognition of the holy souls that surround you. Look for their influence and emulate them in your actions. A heavenly abode awaits you. Love Me and all else will follow.

85) It is never wrong to speak of Me. I want you to take Me with you as you go about your day. You cannot care for My souls if you do not interact with them. Learn from them as you learn from Me.

Remember, I am as present in others as I am in you. Cast your nets into the void and you will see that, even in the nothingness, I will fill the net and you will have catches for heaven.

Do not spend time wondering what I want but have patience and wait until I place the opportunity before you. Gold does not melt when it is first placed into the fire. It requires time. So also My souls. They can feel the flames of My love but they are not yet molded into what I wish them to become. Hear the sound of My voice in your heart and trust your instincts, driven by prayer, and use the opportunities as I point them out. You are not in this mission alone. My disciples were always sent out in pairs. I personally paired them up and pointed the way. It is through prayer that you will find the path most pleasing to Me. Drop your concerns and allow Me time to work in others. Speak only when I tell you. The world is not saved by conversation but by prayer. Start your day in My presence and do not leave it as you enter the rest of the day. Carry Me with you in all you do however menial. I can direct you and keep you going in the direction I have plotted out for you. Caress the little moments we spend in unison as that is where I draw you back to Me for refreshment. I am the water and the bread that is your sustenance. Keep coming to Me for your daily life-giving.

86) Finally, you have sat with Me to hear the help I have to offer. . . .

87) Did I get your attention? I do not want you to think that I am only here for you to honor and praise.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

I am here to help bring you to My Heavenly Father. He looks down on you with such love and devotion. This is why I continue to do His will. He loves those that I love. He wants you close to Me so that I can present you to Him. Together we care for those who suffer and we ask you to do the same.

Bless those who pass you especially those whose faces you see. Remember, I want them all. I am pleased with your life. I want more though. Your life has brought you to this point and it is going to take you closer to Me if you will say “yes.” Do not fear. I have told you this before. Simply let Me unravel your life before you. As long as you are agreeable, I will lead your every step. You see how much I care for you and how much trust I place in your hands. Do not feel overwhelmed as I am only going to send you what you can handle. Your life is a blessing for those who love you in heaven. Your family watches your every thought as do I.

Caring for others . . . is not always easy I know. Many do not have the insight or the prayer life or even the knowledge of things they should be doing here on earth. Many are going through their days lost in the world and searching. You are touching more lives than you know. Keep coming to Me here – we meet in perfect harmony and peace. You are in a safe place in My house. I will take you home when you have finished your time preparing your soul for heaven. It is truly a glorious place and you will be so happy.

Take the time to enjoy other souls. Be the spirit that moves them to come closer to Me. There are blessings to be given to all you touch as I answer your prayers in so many different ways, but I ALWAYS answer them. Build up your trust in Me and turn it all over. Go in peace to love Me and bring My love to (others).

88) Do not fear, My child, your faith has grown under My tutelage and it will continue to expand in depth as I work in you and through you. You have not disappointed Me as you are listening well and responding through your actions and your prayer life. I wish to express My pleasure in your evening Bible readings. It is a comfort to many in heaven as they listen to you as you remember the early days of My people. As you can see, there were always struggles and hardships but they brought about My plans for the world although at the time people could not understand why I would allow such things to happen to them. I loved them and they trusted Me even when their suffering was severe. I love all of My people. I have never, can never, stop loving My people.

You are paving your path to heaven with good deeds when you ask for My guidance and try to follow it.

Those paving stones make the path smoother for those who follow you. They are bricks made of obedience and love. The path needs to be straight so it is easier for those who come after you. I walk the path with you and place the smooth stones myself. Each stone is a reminder of your faith and obedience. Sometimes I ask you to carry a stone and you will find difficulties in your life at those times; however, those are the stones most prized on your walk.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

... continue to seek advice from your heavenly Father. He will shower graces upon you in that time of need. He will not allow you to miss a moment when others will be receptive to thoughts of returning to Him. Trust in your faith to allow you to know what to say, how to say it, and when to say it. Continue your usual schedule of Mass, prayers, and readings. Others must see that you ... seriously practice what you will be preaching ... You can do this by example rather than words. Others will take it in and begin to experience peace of soul. I have told you, your house is a safe haven and I will not allow it to be filled with putrid thoughts and actions. ... Trust Me. Pray for those who are about to die tragically as there are many unready for death. Again, I call to the world through their hearts and souls so they will begin to experience healing through sorrowful prayers.

89) (Thought) I am supposed to watch for those things that pull me from your presence.

Watch for moments when you are not planning on sinning but are not respectful and kind. What did you do to another that I would not have done? How did you act in My presence? Your humanness can be an occasion of great graces but you can also use it as an excuse. Open your eyes to others to avoid sins of omission. Pray that you receive graces to pull you into the safety net of My love. I love you continually and want you closer to My heart. There is warmth there. Use the analogy of warmth. You cannot give away My warmth, the heat of My love, if you do not first search it out for yourself. Warm air radiates out and up. So must your prayers and good deeds. When I come to you, I warm your soul with My love. So you must reach out to others and warm their souls. Continue to pull Me into your conversations. Let others view our relationship by the way you speak. Trust that I will place the proper words into your mouth. . . . do not stray from My chosen path.

Catch the air of holiness as the angels and saints descend to the world in droves to bring Me souls. Fill your day with goodness and love. Pray throughout the day for illumination and guidance. Ask the Holy Spirit to send you signs that will point the way to My will for you. Do not be discouraged but pull yourself through these times of indecision by keeping your thoughts on My love for you. The nature of humanity is to pull away from unhappiness and pain and to look for pleasure around them. This can be a very good thing. Find pleasure in My people and in My world. It is truly in order and things are as they should be for this moment. Progress is being made in securing heaven for a great wealth of souls. Pray that the hand of God rests lightly on those you love. Shelter them by your prayers. Come to Me often in Holy Communion and I will bless you abundantly with the knowledge of My will for you. You will follow and rejoice for the opportunity. Trust in Me and I will provide. Trust in Me and bring your prayers to My feet. Together we will move the world closer to My heavenly abode. Do not fret or stew about your place in this order. All is going to be perfectly clear before too long.

Love to you as you continue to be devoted to Me.

God The Trinity.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

90) (Jesus) I have come to you today in a special way because of your willingness to grow in the Spirit. Do not concern yourself so much with worldly things but bring them to Me and allow Me to take care of them for you. Never think that I am ignoring your prayers. They ascend with the sweet incense of sorrow and longing. Never feel abandoned as I can never leave My sheep unattended. I bring the flock together so their sweet prayers ascend in the sweet essence of hope. I hear the cries of My people all over the world as suffering deepens and hearts are turned to Me for mercy. It will be a terrible year for some but it must be done to turn the souls of the lost and floundering back to their God. Do not concern yourself with their physical welfare but pray for the repentance of those who have drifted away from Me. Release those who owe you from their spiritual and real debts to you. They are My own people too. I have taken them under My wing and they are warmed by My bleeding heart.

Open your eyes to the beauty of those around you. Call on Me at every moment and pray for the soothing of the anger of My Father. He has conquered the evil in the world and has set about the purification of souls and families. Look to the heavens from whence His voice comes. Watch for the signs of miracles through nature. The healing of many who are needed to serve Me will astound the world.

An influx of vocations will stun the world. Churches will spring up in remote corners of the world and the number of converts will flourish and the world will come to life – a new life – one that will take the cloud of darkness and allow the Light of Christ to reign supreme in the hearts of men. Carry your heavy crosses with light steps as the graces gained will be like the stars of the heaven. There is no lack of ways to gain grace as My Father opens the gates wide to the store of Heavenly riches. Now is truly the time to ask for favors that will bring souls back to Me.

(The Father) Pray earnestly for this endeavor. It is souls I want. The balance of power is shifting in the world. The freedom to pray and worship My Son will bring even more souls.

(Jesus) Place your hands in Mine each time you find yourself confused and in need of direction. Then listen – you will know what you are to do.

91) (Jesus) Do you see how I take care of My people? I will not abandon them and I especially care for them in their hours of need. Angels are always ascending and descending with news of the world. Each one of us has a special angel ready to care for us. I have given this special heavenly messenger so as to keep you and to care for you. They are always beseeching heaven in your behalf. They are charged with protecting your soul. Sometimes a soul may only be ready for heaven once in their life. Angels may step back at that moment and allow death to happen. A longer life may have meant the loss of that soul.

I have asked you to write so that others may read and believe. It is because of this that you may not always understand what you have written. Of course, you know when I have directed a message to you personally. Perhaps you would like a prayer for the sick and the elderly.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

“Dear heavenly Father, I ask that you send your Son to directly visit _____ and intervene in his/her/their healthiness. He/She/They are in need of care both physically and spiritually.”

(God the Father) There is a certainty that My Son is aware of their infirmities but a prayer from you will bring down graces that are instrumental in both the healing and sometimes the acceptance of the infirmity. Never think that I ignore the prayers for the sick and suffering. They are receiving a draught of My love.

(Jesus) I . . . will protect you from the onslaught of evil that is rampant in the world. The evil is being put to flight and wants to pull as many souls as possible into the abyss before My Father silences it forever. My Father did not forsake Me as I hung in My last agony on the wood of the Cross. He heard and answered My prayer just as He does today. I earned those souls with My last breath as I willingly did as My Father commanded. I would do it all again for even one more soul. This is a love that is all encompassing. This is the love that is pouring into the world through the graces earned over the centuries. This is the love that is rousting the devil and he is responding with desperate measures, all of which are backfiring on him as the people turn away from him to ask for My mercy. Precious are the moments to Me, the Father's last gift for My last earthly breath. Do not fear as these times are all part of My Father's plan. The devil's strength is waning and he is having difficulty holding onto souls he thought were in his power. They are rejecting him in large numbers. Neighbors are reaching out to neighbors. Prayers are being said for many who do not know that others are praying for their spiritual safety. You and so many others are assisting My Father in this plan. Everything is in order and the world is about to undergo a massive movement toward love and respect for one another. The number is increasing of those longing for the peacefulness of resting in the knowledge that God loves them. You also shall experience this peacefulness that comes with turning yourself over to God and submitting to His will. God loves you. Say it often: "God loves me. God loves me. God loves me." Then clear your mind and feel the warmth of heavenly love.

92) It is my desire to have you answer my call to suffering. I have begun the process and you will know that it is a gift from Me. Do not fear as it will allow you to continue in the path I have chosen for you. If you can believe in Me, you will then take it with you as you descend to the depths of hell and back again. Why is this necessary, you ask, but I tell you it is for Me to know and you to trust. I cannot make a mistake and so you, who are aware of this, know to believe and trust.

This is to be shared only as I specifically tell you. Suffering in silence is to offer the Lamb part of His own blood so that My Father is most pleased with the continuation of the sacrifice. Do not fear, little one, as I go before you so that the path is well marked by My footsteps. Look for them and see the many signs I will send you. Never fear the future. You are walking in the palm of My hand. My Mother knows to care for you and so you may gaze into her sorrowful face and know that you are united in your sufferings. I am also sending graces so that much of what you ask will be granted. I will not allow others to hurt you or harm you in any way. Your prayers ascend like incense and the pleasing odor has reached far into the heavens. Call on those there as you feel the need but never think I have abandoned you.

... There is much work to be done and the time is now to begin. Rest in My comfort and in the love of My Father for those who wish to do His will. Pray always for the salvation of souls as that is the product of the war with the devil. I want them snatched from him. Let him grasp the empty air as the souls disappear before him. Your life and prayers have accomplished this. Now it is up to heaven to place the end results where they are most needed. Saving souls is what I am doing with the help of all of My loving followers. I am enlisting the aid of all in heaven and on earth as the army stands strong against evil and routes the devil and his followers. I, Christ, will lead you in the battle and My triumph will be heard as the universe explodes with the power of the heavens and the glory of your God. Blessed are those who hear My voice and follow My commands. Woe to those who continue to find pleasure in the earthly store of false riches, the treasures of heaven so surpass those passing treasures of the earth. Come, follow, I am lighting the way before you. Bask in the illumination and step into My footprints.

93) Now is the time to act. It is the beginning of the end of time as you know it. The clock may tick away but it is My time and I slow it and hasten it as fits My needs. Use the light of the world as your clock and use your time wisely. Meet people as if you are going to spend the rest of your life in their presence. I am in those people. I want them for My own. If you take them to your heart from the first moment and give them a taste of My own longing to be in their hearts, then I can better serve the world through you. Catch the heart of Jesus as it enters others through you. Bring the flame of love to life until the world is warmed by My intense love. I can come most easily when I am already there. It is the radiation of your caring, interest in, looking out for, and praying for others that is the crux of My movement toward perfect harmony. The eyes of My people are being opened in love and respect for the differences and the similarities. I am going to show them the love that awaits them when they listen to Me and act on My words. Place your life in My hands. I will lead your every step. Keep the calm in the midst of the storm. I am always with you. You cannot sink if you are holding tightly to what I have given you. Blessed are those who hear My word and keep it. Blessed too are those whose lives reflect My own. Travel is an opportunity to bring My loving heart to My people – those you may see only once will remember and want to search Me out to have the peace your presence will bring them. Keep Me foremost in your heart and I will show Myself to others through your eyes. Reach out and touch and souls will be cured of their inability to see the wrongs they have done. Your blessings in My name have opened the eyes and hearts of many. It is a joy to experience your efforts at bringing souls to Me. How will I thank you? You have only to ask and it will be given to you. Ask in faith and love and My merciful heart will not be able to refuse your prayer. Take this to your heart and hold it there where we are always together. Our hearts are combined when you reach out and give the gifts I have given you to others.

Blessed are those who walk in My footsteps as they are already blessed by My heavenly vision of love. . . . I will be there to support you and place the proper words in your mouth. Go with confidence and peace that all will be well. Your faith in Me is going to be tested but you are going to hear My voice clearly before the end of this time in your life. I love you and you will be able to feel My presence any time you call on Me for help. Passionate love is My gift to you and your family.

The Third Year

94) (Ash Wednesday) And so it begins again, fresh and in its entirety, a time to renew and repair, a time of longing and sighing, a time to reflect on God's merciful love for His people. Bring others to the table set by the Lord so they may taste of His goodness and feel the warmth of His love. Bring the souls who thirst for safety and long for a place to rest. Catch the phrase that is all consuming when I ask you to watch and wait for My coming. Put on your smile and wait in hope and love. The expectation is long and you will only see the beginning. I do not end but I begin. It is a new life for a fresh Lenten start. Pray for the souls who are not in sync with My heart and there are so many. I need to have you pray that they come to feel My love and understand the need to return to church. I am pulling them into My heart every time a devout Rosary is said. You will be amazed when you see the real power of the Rosary. I have only to hear it begun to know that souls will be coming to Me that otherwise would have been lost.

The doors are flung open to all the churches as the world sinks to a new low of suffering. Humanity will rise up in glory when the people who have died looking and longing for their freedom have attained their place in heaven. Their prayers will resound as one voice – they will continue to work for their families from heaven. They are an army from all religions who have now come to understand the triune God. They are devout and overjoyed to see how

I am working in their countries as this violence will finally lead to a peaceful coexistence and then to a lasting peace. Christianity will return to its rightful place and the churches, whose doors were flung open, will receive the multitude into Baptism.

This is the future of the world. It is in My vision and I can see the final results. Time is only a limit to those who allow it. I am coming when the world least expects it. With a multitude of angels and saints that will surround and sing and give praise to My Son as He assumes His rightful kingdom and calls His faithful to His bosom. Pray that the time during this preparation will be a time of fasting, repentance, and soul-searching prayer. The more you pray, the more I will remain beside you, hearing your every thought, wish, prayer, and feelings. It is not to be feared, but to be joyfully expectant.

95) (Men's Retreat) – Today the Lord has made special for your parish. My Father is coming in a special way to spend time with the men . . . He is powerful and almighty and they shall hear him and learn of the ways they are to emulate Me. It is a time for remorse and a time of sorrowful repentance. Expect larger crowds at daily Mass and adoration as hearts and eyes are opened to the needs of the world and how each individual can save souls through prayer, repentance, and fasting. You will see how others join you in this and work on preparation for soul searching.

Blessed be those who have spent their lives coming to Me faithfully but just as blessed are those coming to Me for the first time. I have always been with My people but I am becoming more and more visible in others so that all may see the need to rely on Me for their spiritual salvation. My love is all encompassing. My arms reach out to gather in the many souls of the just. My people are given precious moments to repent and choose life. The heavens rejoice to receive the souls of the just. They are like diamonds coming to be placed in the settings of heaven. Each has their own brilliance and light as they become filled with the breath of God. The beauty is felt and seen.

Come to me often as this is where you receive the water of life. This is where you are nourished and cleansed. This is where I can open your heart and your eyes to the beauty of love and life in the Spirit. You come to Me now and I will come for you when you die. I will be with you forever and your happiness will be complete. Rest in peace My little one. You are doing all I have asked of you. Someday in the distant future you will see and understand what an important role your little writings have played in My plan for the salvation of souls. I come to you now in thoughtful words. It is to prepare you for the things that are to come. I need you to trust in Me and to turn your life and heart over to Me. I will nurture them and keep them ever closer to Mine.

Blessed are they who believe and do not see. They are those who suffer much in silence but they are also those who are close to Me in their life on earth and I am preparing special places for them in Heaven. It is with a grateful and loving heart that I spend time with you today just as you are spending time with Me. Trust in Me. Believe in Me and blessings will come when you least expect them. It gives Me great pleasure to surprise My own little children with the gifts only a loving Father can bestow. Watch, wait, pray, repent, and fast. I am coming for you.

96) (Prayer) I adore You oh Christ and I praise You because by Your suffering and Your ignominious death on the Cross You have made payment for My sins along with those of the whole world. I pray for Your leniency in my hours of darkness. I pray that I can be of some small service to You in exchange for all You have done for me. I ask for Your blessing as I continue this journey through life so that I will spend eternity with You in Heaven. Come to me now and refresh my soul so as to illumine it in love for others. Open my heart and mouth to the prayers that are most pleasing to You. Let me be full of hope and trust in Your promise of salvation. Attend please to my little faults so they will not become great sins of anger and despair. Oh, God, You love me so and I am so worthless. My soul yearns to hear You say You want me and yet I cringe to think You suffered so much for me. Let me be full of remorse and so be willing to suffer for You. Press me to Your heart so that I hear the beat of it and want to put my own in union with Yours. Take me to Your house and let me live with the holy family so that I might emulate their love for all good people and their method of prayer for all who are drawn into evil ways. I love You, my Lord and my God, and I wish to follow Your path although difficult. I pray for the strength and the graces to achieve here on earth what You have designed for me. Bless my poor attempts at praising You and spreading the good news of Your *second coming. Help me to be a part of paving the way.

Show me how Lord. Lead me.*

Open your eyes and see the wonders of the world. Do not be disillusioned by the sufferings of so many. It is a time of preparation, a time of upheaval, a time to rejoice, and a time to lament. I am truly coming and the world must be in readiness. Suffering is a way of preparing the world for the new advent – the time of hopeful waiting. When I send suffering and misery I also am offering another chance for redemption. When you see souls in pain and physical need, pray that they turn their pain toward My Father and offer it to Him for their own salvation and that of the world. Soon the world will see a sign that cannot be denied. It will cause the repentance of many souls who will become enlivened with the Holy Spirit. The word of God will be on the lips of many who did not know Me but who now reach out to others to tell them of Me. There will be souls who die to themselves so as to live in Me.

I am with you on this Lenten journey and I am also with you in a whole new way in your upcoming travels. Do not fear all will come to pass as I have told you. Go now in peace and love knowing I am travelling beside you. I accompany you heart to heart.

97) (Adoration Medjugorje) Behold I am here with you now. You are among those chosen to spread the word of the Adoration here in Medjugorje. Take this back with you, that your God is coming to you. Encourage love and also praise as I respond to both. I am all mercy and you need only ask to receive. It is a time of miracles and there will be much to remind My people that they need to keep Me first and foremost in their lives. I will be coming to each and every one in My time and they must be prepared.

98) (Adoration Chapel Medjugorje) Wash your hands and soul of all sinful undertakings. You cannot proceed further if you do not keep yourself pure. A simple life makes it easy but when your life is compromised by others you are not always free to do as your heart tells you. Do not be discouraged little ones as I do not abandon you or back away but I enter into you more fully and allow My light to shine through you. You must keep pure for this to happen. Try to emulate My Mother and you will find peace in her heart as well as My own. If you think of Me in the Eucharist, it will always bring you peace. If you come to Me as often as possible you will replenish the joy and spiritual blessings will multiply. Do not fear, I will be laying the path for you. You are among good Christian holy people and My presence is guaranteed when you keep such good company. This is a time for holiness. You must begin to fast in earnest. The time is coming when you will be happy to have that fasting to offer up to Me. It is changing the world as you have My undivided love and caring.

Keep a smile on your face and a Rosary in your hands. I can always be found when there is a well-attended Rosary nearby. Break from the norm of life and begin to follow the path I have illuminated for you. Preach when you are given the opportunity. Press your lips to My Cross and transfer the humility and sacrifice and make it your own. Bless the little in today's world. Teach people to attend Adoration and ask My Mother to show them how to pray.

99) (Day of Apparition in Medjugorje) Do you see how I desire to have you ever closer to Me? My children must gather closely to Me as the hour of darkness closes in on the world. Pray unceasingly that the hand of My Father will save you from catastrophe and bring you instead to the hem of My garment. The Rosary is a strong weapon and you must use it continually. Likewise, the reception of the sacraments will spread grace into the world. It is My desire to be with My people, to lead them firmly and courageously during this unsafe time. Bring Me all your fears and your concerns. Learn to expect miracles and watch the sky for signs. Show Me your devotion through prayer and sacrifice. Many things, no matter how insignificant they seem to you, are sowing the seeds for a good harvest for My Father. Do come to be with Me often and watch and wait as things begin to happen for which there is no explanation except that My Father is at hand.

100) It is with a happy heart that I come to you today. It was a time of growth for you and you continue to please Me through your desire to change into the saint as I have hoped for your soul to come to Me at the time of death in purity and longing. I cannot expect all to do this but you please Me and so My Father is also pleased and in His great all-encompassing mercy has allowed these messages to help you as you enter the last years of your earthly life. There is still much suffering in the world and you can watch for it to continue. It is a cleansing, not of just the suffering souls, but a birth of new life to those left behind. They turn to Me in great numbers and call My name. Each one is heard individually and answered as is seen fit by My Father in His great love and mercy. He hears their prayers and pleadings just as He heard My own. Do not underestimate what He will do when responding to so many prayers. His love will win over even the most desolate of souls. Trust and continue to hope through prayer and longing. The world is not done. The time of purification is upon mankind. The world will blossom again with the fruits of Heaven. Taste and see the goodness of the Lord. The sun will rise on a new world and the Son of Man will gather up His people and they will become of one faith. All will recognize Him in the daily breaking of the Bread of Life. All will pray to His Father in unison. Great is the power of God and great is His love.

Watch, wait, stay ready as the moment is near when God calls to His own and asks for special services. Be open in mind and heart so as to hear and heed His call. The hour is upon us when all the world must turn from sin and face the Son of God as He descends again in glory and the power of judgment. My Mother, Mary, has been the source of such faith and love. She is coming to soul after soul. She is willing to use her influence with God the Savior of the world. Just as the Savior heard her request at the wedding feast at Cana, so will He harken to her pleadings for the Blood of Christ to enter the wedding feast of love and pour Himself afresh of His mercy allowing it to flow freely as the blessed wine at Cana and so fill the hearts of even the most hardened sinners. The eyes of sinners will turn upwards and scan the Heavens as they begin to see and feel the good news.

Love with your whole being and watch, wait, and pray. The love of the Lord is raining down upon this earth and the bowels are opening up to receive it. Just as the seed in the earth needs water, so do the hardened souls need God's love to open their hard shells and allow the living life of God's love to spring forth and glow as they grow in His goodness. Pray, wait, watch – your God is close at hand.

101) (God the Father) So, how are you feeling? I know you are feeling closer to Me and I want you to recognize it and thus be grateful for answered prayers. This is a time for prayer and fasting. Charity is not even as important as prayer and fasting. I need people who will devote their time to Me as the world moves toward the coming of My Son again. He shall show Himself in all His glory and the world will turn to Him. Those who are sinners will be blinded by His light and will crawl the earth searching again for the sight of the Lord. Do not fear this as My Son is all love and mercy. He has borne such unspeakable suffering in order to save souls, that I will not abandon Him by allowing those blinded by the light of His illuminated glorious body to be lost. It is for the souls of these that you now pray and fast. Your fasting is linked to the very suffering on the Cross. It is now more important than any other Christian work you do except for your presence at Mass and your reception of the sacraments. As the world of Christians voluntarily joins in prayer and fasting, the promise of the Cross is realized and hardened hearts are softened so as to accept The Word of God. Hearts will be opened to receive the love of My Son. This joining, this communion of hearts, is the hope for the world as it moves the goodness of God across the earth to even the most remote of peoples.

There are stirrings already from unexpected people as Christianity becomes the focus. Watch and wait in patient hope as the world moves closer to God. Nations will unite in their efforts to abolish evil as prayers and sacrifice waft their way to the heavens. Angels are entering through the open gates – gates that open due to the many people who look to the heavens and beg for world peace. Know that I answer all prayers and that once people begin to see their prayers answered, they will become more fervent in their holy lives. Keep asking for what you want and need. This is a time of answered prayers. God's love is circling the hearts of His people and they are given special graces to carry out His work.

Pray, fast, take Communion, confess – but remember to ask for what is important to you personally. I am with you, I am in you, I walk beside you. I feel your pain, your joy, your sadness, and I also feel your love. We are as one. This is true for each person alive but few know and understand; however, this is about to change. The world is being cleansed of evil and My grace is entering into the world in such quantity that change is going to be noticeable in even the Muslim and agnostic peoples. . . Watch, wait, pray.

102) (God the Father) Pray for the Church. Pray fervently and devoutly as it opens its doors to the poor and the destitute. Pray that the people of God open their hearts, arms, and purses to receive the many souls who will flock to your shores in desperate need of the basic necessities. Cry out for help – petition the heavens – make a loud clamor such as all Heaven will hear and respond. This is a day of reckoning, a day seeped with holy mystery but a day when the Heavens open to allow the flood of stored graces to flow, like an ever-widening river into the sea of people hungering for God.

Taste and see. Taste and see – the goodness of God is an overwhelming force. I will attach Myself to My people so they will radiate with peaceful allegiance to Me. Their actions will be blessed and their arms and hands will act as one. They will never want for peace of soul again. Their hurts, their sorrows, their infirmities – they are My own. Cry out to the Lord and beg for mercy for those who have not yet turned to Me. Storm the Heavens – let the essence of your prayers ride the flood of graces back to the source of all. As these prayers reach the Heavens, as the clamor becomes great, as the hum of all humanity reaches My ears – then will I send My Son – then will the glory of His suffering be fully revealed. Then will the world cease to turn away but they will joyfully face those final days and years with outstretched arms and longing hearts. Then will those who have never loved or seen the Lord or felt His presence be able to taste and see His goodness. It is unfathomable to consider how great a moment this will be. When all the souls of the just, all who are united to the heart and soul of My Son, turn to worship their Redeemer, My Son, the Christ, and then will Heaven ring out the glory of the risen Lord. Blessings are going out continually to hasten this redemptive moment – God's love, My love, the hope of the world – all will see and understand.

Continue your prayer life and your fasting. Look for opportunities to suggest these methods of obtaining grace to others. Blessed are My faithful people – they are My lights in the darkness. They are opening up the curtain of evil. As it splits like the curtain of the temple on Good Friday – the saints will walk the earth. The heavens will be released. Good will conquer evil – the world, God's world – will again purify itself in the Blood of the Lamb of God.

103) You have come to know the Lord in the breaking of the bread. You have come to know the Virgin by her holy and immaculate heart. She is the Mother of all and is to be treated as such. Do not abandon Mary or you will then lose the Son. She is your pathway to Christ who is in the Father. She is of the Holy Spirit and they rest together as one. She cannot be separated from Him.

Open your eyes to see the illumination of the souls of the just. Open your heart to take in the lives of the needy. It is not of the poor I speak but of those who have been searching for God in physical miracles and find only the spiritual God of their souls. Open their hearts to know I am with them in suffering and in death. No cure of body is not an indication of My lack of caring. Indeed, it is just the opposite. I am offering even greater rewards. A share of My suffering for the dying and those left behind will bring more people to the table of the Lord. Graces are earned through prayer and sacrifice. An offering of a loved one is the most complete sacrifice you can give. My pain is the lack of people willing to suffer. There is no suffering in Heaven. Souls are met by an army of resplendent saints and angels accompanying all.

There is truly an opportunity for Heaven on earth if we bring our Christ with us. Come and raise your heart and eyes to the Lord. Give thanks. Ring out the bells! Sing praises to the heavens! God is among His people! Flock to the Altar of Redemption and kneel in adoration as the King of Kings is preparing the world for the second coming. Rejoice and be glad! Alleluia! Alleluia! God is with His people! Alleluia!

104) (The Blessed Mother) What a glorious day this is! It is the anniversary of my marriage to Joseph. Special blessings are given to those who celebrate this feast and who are blessed by my Son in a good Christian marriage!

You are right to do what you can in silent penance. It is ascending to Heaven where it is received by glorious voices of praise to God. Your offerings join the ascent of others and a pleasing odor greets the Lord. He is looking more favorably upon the world and is sending graces into the hearts of many to spur them on toward greater sacrifices. Do not abandon your fasting entirely but continue it as you are able without calling attention to it. ... Blessings to all as we finish this month of May.

Mary

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

105) I cry out to you in joy but also in sadness. There are many who chose not to be saved. They have rejected Me and refused to leave their earthly kingdom so as to prepare themselves for My Father's Kingdom. Oh, what a Kingdom it is! It is the most glorious of places in which those who follow Me in their human earthly life will inherit. You cannot now know how much joy there is for those who ascend directly from earthly death to their rebirth in the heavenly Kingdom. Never think or cry out about the things of this world. They are passing in nature. You cannot remember tomorrow the little discomforts of today and yet there are those who dwell on them. Blessed are those who offer to Me those little discomforts. They are putting their souls at My disposal and they shall not be disappointed. I am who am. I am the God of your fathers and your God. I give out My blessings as I see fit. Those who please Me in their earthly life will find special places reserved for them in heaven. I will bless them but also their families. Remain faithful to Me now and your reward will be great in heaven.

Take the time to look around and see the quietness I have prepared for you. This place of worship is a favorite place for rest. It swarms with the souls of My people. They kneel around My table in awe and worship Me as their God and King. They circle those who come to stay with Me and return with them to the world in order to keep them ever close to Me.

I am your all. Abandon yourself to Me so that I may raise you up on the last day. You cannot even speak of My love for these people who come to see Me week after week as I stay here hoping for more but delighted in the recurring presence of the few.

106) *(Prayer) We adore You oh Christ and we praise
You. Because by Your Holy Cross You have redeemed
the world.*

By My Holy Cross, yes, the world is redeemed, but by your own daily crosses, offered up in union with My own, souls are saved and the world is brought closer to My Father in Heaven. It is the ultimate goal of life to bring yourselves to Heaven, but it is even greater to bring other souls with you. By your example, by your love, by your prayers, by your very life, you continue to be given opportunities to bring others to Me. A small prayer for a soul in need is heard and it resounds in Heaven. It provides an opening for the souls of Heaven to do good on earth. They await someone on earth to pray for another so they may assist with the answer to the prayer. It brings such joy in Heaven when there are those still struggling through their humanity to reach the lofty goal of a heavenly abode. Pray to the saints and ask that they intercede. It is one of the gifts that Heaven brings to those living with God. This intercession is heard by My Heavenly Father who is all goodness and all just and all righteousness. He answers each prayer in the manner that will bring the most holiness and wholeness in that the souls become one with Him.
Touching the lives of others for the better is a great gift. It can never be extinguished when love is the precipitous factor. Bring all your requests and lay them at My Father's feet through the intercession of the saints. How can He refuse to answer the pleas

when they are from His loved ones? Begin today to call out to the saints. Begin today to place your concerns in their capable hands. They have come through the harshness and the darkness of earthly life and have received the rich rewards of eternal life. Their rewards continue to actively bless those still traveling through the dark times of the human world.

Darkness overshadows all on earth for this time you live in, but the glorious resurrected souls of heaven continue to make their way through and bring light to the darkness by carrying with them Heavenly graces and special blessings. Do not be discouraged, all is well despite the doom and gloom surrounding you. Look to the heavens for your relief. It is there you will see the advance of the Savior and peace will come to earth once more. A steady rain will announce the return of the Son and the illumination of His Heart will dry your tears and those of the whole world.

107) (Prayer) Come Lord Jesus, come. Enter into my being and grant me the privilege of being one of Your own. Take away my sins and free me from the power of hell. Bring me ever closer to You so that I may have Your blessings upon my death. Even though my life is but a pitiable offering, I hope in Your great mercy and plead for my very life so as to be with You for all eternity. Do not forsake me in my final years but give me the faith to continue on this journey toward a heavenly goal. Bless my hands, my eyes, my ears, my mouth, my heart. Allow them to do Your work as it is pointed out to me. Let me respond to the needs of my brothers and sisters when I hear and see their wants. If you choose not to physically heal those for whom I pray, please, I beg, give them peace of soul and the courage to offer up their sufferings for the souls of those who have not known You or who have turned away from You.

Blessed be the name of Jesus. May He walk beside me and all of those for whom I pray. As we travel together with Jesus at our sides, let others witness this great gift and offer them the gift of knowledge so as to want to emulate You through our own good works. Bless these poor endeavors and breathe life into our works of charity. Pardon our errors in judgment and consider our humanity and thus our neediness for Your guidance and love. Care for our souls that are chained to our mortal bodies. It is only through Your caring and Your leadership that we can hope for the unity of our soul with Your Mystical Body in heaven. Oh death, hasten only if our souls are purified and ready to enter God's Kingdom. Oh – what a glorious thought – a Kingdom! It awaits us once the chain of life is broken. A Kingdom – our desired home after the body and soul separate. How good is our God who has promised so much to such unworthy creatures. How much love He showers on us and how ungratefully we receive it. Let us spread the good news that there is a place after death where we can be content in the bliss of a Godly Kingdom.

108) (Prayer) Blessed precious Blood of Christ enter into our veins through the reception of the Holy Eucharist. Be our life-giving breath that comes from on high. Enter into our mind so that the stream of Your Blood flows with our very thoughts and gives us sweet desire to be ever present with You. May we become Your lamps here on earth, fueled by Your Blood, glistening as a beacon in the darkness of the world.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

Burn in our hearts so the desire to follow You and come to You is foremost in our minds. God, You are our light and our hope. We can only pray that we will rest in You for all eternity.

Care for My little ones. They have much to suffer and must be strong. It is a chastisement that the world needs. They will come to know Me through My merciful chastisement. It is necessary for the world to experience the power and the glory of God. They have turned so far away from the light of My Face that they live in the shadow of darkness. The evil one lurks about and tempts them. Calling them forward into the dark with his wicked fingers laced with money and worldly treasures – all that he offers is worthless. The treasure you seek is only passing. One must look within and find the light and then turn away from the shadows and come into the heavenly light as it makes its way from face to face.

You must not attempt to stop the suffering of the masses as that is their pathway to heaven. It is strewn with thorns but the blood they (the thorns) cause is like the gold of the sun. It cannot be counted in its worth as those wounds are presented to My heavenly Father in atonement for the materialistic world. Welcome the opportunity to suffer in My name. Call out to others to join in the cleansing through suffering. The world is slowly turning back to the Light. There will be rain to wash away the impurity and flood the underworld so as to keep the devils incapable of coming to earth to fight the New World and the eventual Second Coming of Christ. Watch the sky and see the new star arising. A blessed day is about to dawn when all will again look to the heavens from whence the Son of Man, arrayed in splendor, comes to claim His people for His Kingdom. Fear not, He is all good, all powerful, but all love. His mercy endures forever and it is the world that will benefit as the serpent is crushed. The chasm of hell is to be sealed over forever while the bodies and souls of the just will be glorified and come to know the true heart of God. Blessed is He who comes again in the name of the Lord. Blessed are they who await with lighted candles and see the glory of His Face as He turns and blesses His people and invites them to join Him as the world becomes new again.

(Prayer) Come Lord Jesus, be with us now and forever. We await You in joyous anticipation.

109) (Prayer) Please Lord, bring me the contentment of knowing I am doing Your will.

(Mother Teresa??) Praise God all you on earth. Praise the heavens from whence He shall come. Love others and attend to their needs. Smile, be happy, and wait on others with love and patience. It is to the least of your brethren that you should be most attentive.

Those who have no spiritual experience are most in need of your example. Give to them by example. Sacrifice the crumbs for the rest of the Bread. Be aware of others inner thoughts and interrupt them only as inspired by God. They must see God in your face. Give them this and they will long to imitate you. They will want what you have. Time is of the essence as souls are being lost at a great rate today. Give your all so as to save souls. Do not look back but continue to journey forward as you reach out to those in spiritual need.

(Read The Apostolate of Smiling)

(Prayer) I thirst for You, Lord, and I know, if I can satisfy Your thirst, I can quench My own. I believe in the infinite power of God to claim my life for His good. I place my life and my soul in the warmth and comfort of Your hands and ask that I can come to fully mean it when I say: "Do with me what Thou wilt."

Prayer, praise, sacrifice – it is the essence of eternal life. Feed My lambs. Feed My lambs. Feed My lambs!

110) (Prayer) Come, Lord Jesus, come. Bless us as we struggle in this sinful world. Keep us safe from the enemies who keep us from life in You. I beseech You to grant lives wrapped in good deeds and caring for others. Bring an end to the Godlessness that permeates the minds of so many people. Help me to bring people closer to You by deeds and example. Do not let any small infraction of my own be a means of sin for others. Take my mind and heart and all I say, do, and think and fill it only with Your will for me. I love you Jesus My love and I want to carry You with me always.

Give some thought to the rest of your life. Do not flounder in the mundane but reach outside of yourself and make contact with those less fortunate. Bear your sufferings in silence and offer them up for the change of heart in those who have drifted away from Me. It is necessary to pull in those who knew Me once. They will, in turn, bring in those who have never had the opportunity of knowing Me. I speak not just to you but to the entire Catholic Church. We must see a return to the sacraments. We must see an acknowledgement of God in the lives of all people. My flock is scattered. The world is in need of shepherds. All can be shepherds of my sheep. I long for one flock. The divisions are unacceptable and so there is much need of prayer and sacrifice. Watch to see how single souls can affect the lives of so many. Pray that those with access to the many medias begin to act responsibly. They have much influence and prayer and sacrifice will open their minds and give them courage to speak out in My name. People long for a sign but they must be a part of the sign which is a return to Me and an opening of minds and hearts.

Ask people to be open to listen with their hearts. Suggest they spend a minimum of five minutes in silence and just ask Me to come to them in those few moments. What a change there would be in the world. "The five-minute God reach." There is no prayer involved. No particular religion. Just humankind reaching out to God by spending five timed minutes with a cleared mind and waiting, waiting for God to speak.

111) (Prayer) Precious Blood of Jesus pour down upon us and cleanse us of our sins. Bring the world closer to Your heavenly face and curl us in Your arms as we struggle to remain free from the long grasp of the devil. Wash us in Your Blood as protection against the evil that is rampant and call us by name to be one of Your own.

... Blessed the child whose mother prays for his wellbeing.

There are miracles in the world of which you are unaware. Do not be downhearted or discouraged as I am actively routing the devil. My way is not your way as you cannot envision the good of which I am capable. Do not lose faith or be sad as your prayers and the prayers of many are ascending to heaven. The roar is nearly deafening and My Father, in His great mercy, has turned His heart once again toward His people. Trust in the mercy of God. Trust in His kindness and continue to boldly approach the altar of the Lord with your many requests. He is My Father and your Father. He desires to make His children happy. He delights in their offerings. They come up sweetly and it is most pleasing to Him. Watch, wait, pray, and give thanks. The soil is fertile for planting and the seeds are being sown. God will soon be gathering the harvest.

112) (Prayer) Blessed be the Lord who made the heavens rain the gloriously anticipated clouds of water. Wash us Lord as You wash the earth. Send the dirt and filth of our lives deep into the earth so that we may be pure of heart and soul and sparkle with the very essence of God. What glory You show in our world. How little we do to deserve such a gift-giving God. Bless us Lord and teach us Your ways. Let us always be drawn up to You like the waters of the earth. A drawing up and a raining down – such a beautiful way of being one with You. Continue, I beg, to bless this sickly earth of starving souls by reigning over our lives and purifying them so as to make them a more acceptable offering to You. Oh, how we need Your presence here and now in this difficult time for America. This is still Your country Lord. Please help us to bring it back to the beauty of soul that it once possessed. Ask Your Mother to spread her arms around us and gather us to herself and thus to You.

Have you no thought to how pleasing you are when you offer up your small sacrifices? Have there been no times when you did not find Me present when your inner soul went in search of Me? I never leave My people but I am constantly pulling them toward Me. Lock your gaze on Mine and feel the warmth. My arms and hands are reaching out to My people. They are feeling the strength of My call. They will rise up as a single voice and insist on being heard. God is! I am a part of the very fabric of America. I am a part of you as much as your flag. Patriotic hearts must be full of the love of God. Pray for America that it sheds the old wineskin of deceit, fraud, and godlessness. Pour the new skins with the wines of Cana. Drink freely of the God-given wine of freedom and insist that your nation return to its biblical heritage. Encourage the children to write letters asking that God be returned to their schools. Suggest they pray especially for those children who have never been introduced to spirituality. Children are the way out of this difficult time and they must be given the chance to change the world.

113) (Prayer) My heart is full and yet heavy Lord. You are my rock in the vast sea of churning water. I cling to You as my only hope of salvation. The depths cry out as I want to sink to oblivion and give up the fight and yet the rock is warmed by the sun and presents me with the comfort of knowing You love and care for me. Oh, Lord, I cry to You the day and the night through. I ask You to lead me but I can only cling to what I am already given through Your mercy. Bring me to the shore of Your ever-living Body and Blood. Bring me through this life of difficulty and struggle and plant me firmly and deeply in the center of Your Heart.

Hope is what I give to you. You must hope in Me. Follow Me into the Monstrance. All of My life is there. See My example and the example of all those saintly souls who have preceded Me. My Body and Blood – the mystical Body and Blood of the church - I cannot be separated from My people. Look closely and you will find we are all here present in the Monstrance, no longer just a wafer of bread but the very core of Christianity. Those who love you and who rest in Me are also looking out at you. See and feel their smiling faces as they join you in worshipping Me. Your visits are so pleasing to us all, here present on the altar of sacrifice. How many of those who visit with Me here in the silence of the altar of adoration will soon be looking out as others come to continue the life of prayer to which they are called.

Be encouraged as there are rumblings in the world as the people rise up against the masses of impure hearts and illicit language and ignorance. My many deeds for My people of the Old Testament have not been overlooked in the time since the New Testament. You have only to look at Me here in the Monstrance to see the eyes of the loved ones of the Body of Christ as they look forward to the conversion of the world. It is a time of purification. The world will blossom again and peace will descend like a cloud. Come, give glory to God.

114) (Prayer) Pray for me dear Mother Mary. Ask your beloved Son to grant me the graces needed to open wide the doors of heaven to receive my soul. Grant that He wants me with Him and ask Him not to refuse me due to my many shortcomings. Life is such a trial that one wonders if they can really choose to continue on the more difficult path of prayer and service. Take, please, my hands for your use but also take my soul and form it into something that is pleasing to you. You are so giving and so caring of this one who is so unworthy of your attention.

Call out to Me in your distress. My constant help is at your call waiting only for you to ask. Do not feel you must wait for Me in silence of heart but allow your heart to fill and overflow with your love and devotion. Caress your friends as they are also searching. If they can feel My presence by your kind and caring gaze and words, then they will spring up with hope and longing to be with Me. My love encases all and I will not allow My sheep to scatter aimlessly. If you care for My sheep, you care for Me. Gather and feed them. Protect them through prayer and example. Show them My love through your love. Await with them My second coming. Look forward with joy and anticipation. The glory of the Lord is coming and the world must be ready.

The suffering and death of so many, while horrific and sad to those who stand only to watch, is a means of bringing grace to those corners of the world. It is a purification so as to offer a pleasing odor to the Lord. He, My Father, is taking care of those starving for food but also those starving for the safety of their souls. I gather them to Me as surely as I gather My well-nourished flock. Each has a purpose in God's plan and each shall be sated with heavenly food.

115) Pray. Prayer and penance – a call to holiness. A piece of Christ Himself. Look to the heavens and see Him come. Look to the faces of others and see Him already here. Watch and wait. Warm your heart with the knowledge that it is warm in the love of God. Call, call out in wanting. Seek the Lord and you will find Him in the eyes of those around you. The mirror of the soul is expressed in the eyes of others. How then could one not follow Christ?

I come today to ask a favor. Fear not, I will never ask for more than you can give. You are always free to refuse, you know. I will be saddened but not offended. Each favor is a call for holiness. It is a request that will pull you closer to Me in soul and in body. Carry My Cross to others. Let your light shine . . .

116) Come to the water for cleansing. Open your eyes to the beauty of the strength of the Lord. Cry out and His protection will be offered to you. There is safety in His arms. Rest in His peaceful arms and study His loving face so full of love for you. You must reflect that love and offer it back to others. The world is in such need of prayerful love for one another

As I open My arms yet again, I feel the rush of prayers ascending. So many prayers that I cannot help but be moved by the love of My people and their earthly needs. But there are other prayers as well, those that touch My Heart in its deepest recesses, those are prayers of longing to feel the nearness of the God of their fathers. There are prayers for love and health. There are prayers of parents for their children. There are prayers for peace and an end to the many warring battles of blood thirsty tyrants. The prayers for peace in families are those that most wound My Heart so lovingly. Bring Me all your needs, your wants, your dreams. I want to hear them all. Cry out in your sadness, your loneliness, your pain, and ask for My mercy. Let the cry come from the entire world. Raise your voices to Me in loving prayer. Beg Me for your safety through My protection. I AM LISTENING! I AM HEARING! I AM ANSWERING! – you will not like the way I answer perhaps, but it is the way I need to answer in order to save more souls.

Do not fear the earth – fear only God. Do not run for earthly safety. Run to God who offers the only hope for a sinful world. My prayerful people need not fear My wrath. My prayerful people must intensify their prayers so as to pull others into the safety of My arms through graces earned by penance and sacrifice. There will be a peace only if enough people turn to God. I will not destroy the world but I will cleanse it and destroy the havens of the devil. I will bring on destruction and devastation as has never been experienced by man but fear not. It is a cleansing. During times of need the peoples of the world turn to God. I see their faces and I hear their voices and it pleases Me. When the winds of change have subsided, the world will sparkle in the newness of the eyes of God who will look over His world afresh with how people respond with love and help for one another. Barriers will be broken so all men will see each other as equal and they will no longer see differences. Watch and wait for the change. It is a glorious time to be alive. Rejoice it is the power of the Lord.

117) (Prayer to the Holy Spirit) Come Holy Spirit come; awaken the power that is ours when we seek to do Your will. Bring forth our light which is the truth only God can give to us. Help us to understand so as to draw others into Your light. Give us the wisdom to know how we are to live our lives in a way pleasing to You. Give us courage and lead us into battle armed with Your strength. Protect us in the shelter of Your wings and encourage us when we fail. Your love empowers us and gives us hope and peace so we are made aware of our needs in the light of what You have forgiven us. Allow us the freedom we need to bring You the love of others. Pull us into the light of the Trinity where You reside in splendor. Care for us as we struggle in this world filled with the terror of sinfulness. Let us store up Your light during the day so we may be a beacon of faith when darkness comes. Do not let us disappoint You with our human foibles but let us live our lives in exemplary example for others. We ask You this in the name of all the glorious Trinity. Multiply our faith so we may be a fountain of good deeds and let Your light plunge into the darkness and dispel all fear. Break up the hatred of so many and replace it with eyes open to the Glory of God. Bring us into the light of salvation and do not let us slip through the cracks that are filled with envy and deceit and hatefulness. Control our tongues and our thoughts and fill them only with things of God. Do not leave us orphans but lead us to Jesus and thence to our Father in Heaven.

Ecstasy, elation, bliss – one can only dream of what You have in store for us. Reach out Your hand so we may grasp it as the world whirls in the throes of the final times when it clashes with uncertainty and evil spills out – only to be devoured by the prayers of the faithful. Oh, Holy Spirit, Your mistress is open to all Your desires. Allow her, Your Mary, to crush the beast and give her the answer to her prayer, a world full of peace and love, a holy world that is in her safety net. Give us an abundance of faith as we await in anticipation and wonder, like the children of God that we are, meek and humble and childlike. Your children await Your coming in glory.

118) (Prayer) Bring me to You Lord where I can see Your face and worship You in the illumination of Your countenance. I come to You weary of the troubles and ungodliness of this earthly abode. Oh, there are many pockets of goodness and those people, Your people, work and love diligently – trying to spread Your word and allow the tired world a glimpse of You through their lives of steadfast devotion to You. Bring us all Lord, into Your light. The earth seems shrouded in misery and unhappiness and still man tries to repair it all alone – while You stand by – ready to bring the world into Your light. What fools we can be! You have given us all the tools to put our trust in You – but man still plods along without accepting all You have to offer.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

Give us the hope, the love, the sanity needed to return to the feet of our Father in Heaven and, like the little children we are, beg and plead for the return of the world as God intended it to be.

Oh, silly man, the answer is there before your eyes, where it has steadfastly been from the beginning of time, but do you even blink to clear your eyes and so to see the majesty that surrounds you? Pray that eyes are opened and hearts resound with the beating of sanity and sanctity.

(Prayer) Come world, yes, Lord help us to bring it into the light of Your kind face.

Who are you to question My ways? Who are you not to trust in My judgment? I know what is best for My people. Not just best for all but best for each one individually. I have never and will never leave anyone who struggles to stay close to Me. The world is unsafe for those who do not believe. It is a dangerous ground when you leave room for the devil. Close the gaps where he can slip in and cement them with prayer and the sacraments. Graces flood into the world and it is responding. Nothing that is beneficial is received without a cost – either personal or through society as a whole. Expect that there will be trying times ahead but it is a chance for graces. The world did not allow itself to be swallowed by sin overnight and so the transition into light is a lengthy cleansing as the old snake skin is removed and new wine skins are made available. Reach out for them with vigor and cover yourself with the protection of Christ Jesus.

119) (Prayer) Oh Lord, my God. You are the creator of all. What blessings You continue to bestow on such an ungrateful and uncaring people. You do not abandon us to our folly but plod on with us, raising us from the muck of humanity to a lofty position under Your protection. How do You keep giving when we continue to beg for more and more? Your mercy has no end. Your willingness to give is so overwhelming. You care for us. You love us. You want to stay with us forever. We, the scum of the earth, cling to the hope that you will never desert us in our folly. We turn away again and again and yet You never tire of pulling us back to You. Help us Lord to be worthy recipients of Your never ending love. Help us to return that love to You in the way we treat and respond to others. Draw us to You Lord. Let us feel Your heavenly touch on our souls and hearts. Keep us carefully insulated from the works of the devil until You call us home to You.

Blessed are those who spend their life doing good to others. Blessed are those people who dedicate themselves to My purpose, who put themselves at My disposal, who listen when they pray and then carry out their lives as if each day were their last. Come home to Me now and I will carry you home after death. Carry My Cross now and I will give You great riches in heaven. I care only for your soul and you must then care for the souls of others. Act! Do not fear the consequences. Let Me be the one to deal with them. Remember, you are mine and I will always be caring for you. Fear nothing except the doing of nothing when there is good to be done. Watch and wait but be busy with My work as you do it. Your feet must carry you into those places I wish them to go. You may not always feel comfortable doing My work but rest in the knowledge that I am with you. I am with you. I am with you -- and you are with Me.

120) Glory to God and peace to those who do His will. Praise to God in the heavens and love and honor to those who follow in His path. Wait for the Lord. His coming is going to bring life back to His people. He is the wonder of all and you cannot, as humans, imagine what He has in store for His followers. Carry His Cross and you have opened the door to the glories of heaven. Look to the sky from whence He left and from whence He will return. Cry out in unison so as to make the world resound in welcoming our Savior, God and King. Oh, what a generous and kind King! We have only to give ourselves over to Him and allow Him the opportunity to use us to do His work. Cry out in songs of praise. Let your voices be heard throughout the universe. Glory to God in the highest and peace to His people on earth. Songs of praise rise to His ears like soft clouds and He is comforted. Give back the goodness from whence it came and you will be showered with graces and love. You will be warmed by the very clouds of praise that you have delivered up as they descend upon you and encompass you with the knowledge that God is with you. Blessed be the name of the Lord. Blessed be His Kingdom forever. And blessed be His followers, those who do His bidding and answer His call.

121) (Prayer) I come into Your presence Lord full of hope in You and Your love of me. I so desperately want to have the faith needed to carry me through such heart rending and trying times. It is only by Your love and the knowledge that I carry You with me in daily communion that I plod on and survive. Bless me Lord, bless us all. Only the hope of a heavenly kingdom brings much anticipated joy to my soul. The future holds only what You wish for me, therefore, I have nothing to fear for Your love is never failing and You see to it that I want for nothing. I turn myself over to You so I can do the best possible work. Take me Lord and use me to Your full advantage. Do not leave me to fend for myself. If You leave, all is lost. But, oh, when You are with me, I cannot fail to feel Your presence and Your love. Bless me lord. Bless this poor tired world. Open my eyes and heart to reach out for You in others. Let me see their needs and respond in a Christ like manner. Bring me to my knees when I experience Your loving touch. Carry me through the next few weeks just as Mary carried You over the long road to Egypt until You were safely there.

What joy she would have experienced in bringing You back home again. To show Your maternal grandmother how You had grown in wisdom and love and promise. Her feet skipped along with You in anticipation and yet in dread knowing of Your mission. Help me to head into the turmoil and the unknown with that same hope and love experienced by Mary on the journey back to Nazareth. What a homecoming!

I love you child. My own heart pours out for you time and time again. The world suffers much – the agony of birth – the ecstasy of rebirth – all part of My Father’s plan. I call out to My people and many hear Me but there are still those who turn a deaf ear to My pleas. I will not stop calling them and you can help with your own sacrifices. Offer it all to Me and I shall continue to shower blessings upon you. Never think I have left. I reside with you now and forever. My peace will continue to descend until the world gives up on the hatred that has ruled it for so long. A lasting peace – a place of such love and joy that it is not possible for you to now imagine. Trust, hope, love – love shall conquer all and I shall have My people.

122) (Prayer) Oh Lord, how I have missed our quiet time together. How I want to feel again Your true presence in my soul. I have been so aware that You have never abandoned me, even for a second and yet it is here, in front of my Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament with the light of the Holy Trinity that I experience my true rest. My guardian angel worships in awe beside me. It fills me with joy to gaze upon my God. What a gift You have given us. You are actually here with me. I touched You, worshipped You, and consumed You in Holy Communion and yet it was You who consumed me. You who has made me a living part of You. I adore You, Oh Lord, my God. What overpowering joy flows over me and trickles down my whole body as my soul absorbs Your graces. Graces I do not deserve but which light a fire within me so great that I am never the same when I walk out of church. Oh, the beauty of this world You have given us, so undeserving we are of such generous gifts. Yet again and again I return for more and You continue to pour Yourself in me until I overflow. Would that I could abandon this body and be washed clean once and for all. Instead I plod through the day making feeble attempts to please You and often failing miserably in my humanity. You give me Your all and yet my faith is so fragile. So this is why I come. I come to refresh my soul and so my spirit again soars with You to special places in my being. I come to renew my bond with You that was established at the time of my Baptism. I come to sit with You and just "be" without the multiple disruptions of daily life. A visit – just You and just me. A gift so magnanimous, a gift so incomparable, a gift so full of love, a God given joy of being able to sit in Your physical presence. The Ark of the Covenant opened for all so that we might gaze upon our God and meet Him face to face, spirit to spirit, love to love. If I extend my hand toward You I can spiritually feel You grasp it and pull me into Your arms. Oh, the warmth. Oh, the softly beating heart of my God next to my own. Oh, the tenderness, washing away my fears, soothing my anxiety, welcoming me home.

123) (Prayer) Come Holy Spirit come. Enter into my bosom and spread Your wings of love throughout my soul. Let me rest in the comfort of Your wings as You fill me again and again with divine graces. Push me ever onward toward my goal of heaven and an eternity with my Triune God.

My love for you is unending. Your prayers ascend as sweet fragrances of roses. I cast My net wider and wider to pull in all of your family and bring them into the light of My Heavenly Father. They are especially blessed this year at Christmas. Your prayers are taking a toll on the devil and he is leaving the homes of your children as they ready themselves for the spiritual rebirth offered to those who celebrate My coming. Look into the eyes of My Mother and find the peace, hope, love, and devotion you seek. Cry out to Me in joy and I will hear and send even more blessings your way.

Listen carefully to the voice of your soul as it works miracles. Act on the voice as I instruct. Always prayer precedes action so keep yourself always in My presence through prayer so you will always be ready for action. A look, a glance, a smile, a word, a touch – all are My instruments and I give them to you to use for Me as I tell you. You know what My presence feels like in your being. It is your barometer for when I need you to pay attention and look for ways to reach out to others.

I know you care for your family a great deal. I know you put them before Me when time is a constraint. It is My wish that you are first a mother and a wife. Do not fret when those obligations keep your time in church with Me to a minimum. You can find Me in your soul and in the souls of others. Touch those souls with joy. Smile at them and give of yourself. The more you give, the more I will fill you up. Your well will not run dry as long as you come to Me in prayer and longing. I stay in your home as you have seen time and again. I travel with you. I never leave your inmost being.

Christmas is a time of many miracles. Ask My Mother for your needs as she is given many extra graces for disbursement at the time of the Nativity of My birth. It is her delight to give them to My people.

124) Offer up to Me today all your sorrows and everything that makes you uncomfortable. It is through suffering that the world will turn to Me and it is the job of My elect to offer their own sufferings with My own and so bring more souls to the Father. It is earthly suffering which will have an end. There is no suffering in heaven, only happiness and joy. The more you offer to Me now, the more I will give you in heaven. My Blood was My offering to the Father. My Flesh was given up willingly and joyfully as it was the means to save souls and give them the way to enter heaven. Peace is My everlasting message. I came to divide so that peace could eventually come. Here on earth I did My Father's will and He has returned My love. I can accomplish much with the help of your prayers and offerings of all you suffer, from the little annoyances to the great heartbreaking sufferings to the last physical breath. All can be given over to make the souls of the lost turn away from evil and begin to walk in the Light.

If you care for others now, I will give you such happiness after your earthly death that you will cry out in amazement and love. I never tire of giving. It is such a pleasure to bring My own to Me. Carrying small daily crosses brings Me joy and it takes you to new holiness heights that are unrealized until we meet face to face. Bring to Me all those sufferings and annoyances. I will add them to My own and together we can change the hearts of those discouraged and searching. We work together, each with their own sadness, and offer prayers to My Father in heaven that the earth will experience a rebirth, just as it did after the flood, a new beginning, a new spring, a new life in the world as My Father intended it to be. Evil is faltering and losing ground. Just as mankind thinks the world cannot possibly turn in its tracks back to God, there I am in the midst and evil flees. People are reborn in the spirit and begin to treat each other with kindness and love. Their hearts experience a rebirth and the world blossoms. My people will rejoice and see some of what I have planned for them in heaven. Peace, peace, peace, finally a world at peace.

125) Pray for peace, the peaceful reign of God. Pray for lenience, a lenient God at the time of chastisement. Pray for souls, those who would be lost except for your prayers. The need is urgent. The time closes in. Do not get comfortable. It is a time to be anxious for sinners. It is a time to weep for the fallen. It is a time to pray for mercy. The clock of time ticks away and closes in on the last days of time itself. Prayers are like incense. They are pleasing and soothing to God. Do not miss an opportunity to pray for souls. Live as if you will meet My Father in the next few moments of earthly time. Trust in My Father's love and mercy. He rewards the just and they are right to trust their very souls to Him. Without His love no one could be saved. With His love all things are possible.

126) Open your eyes to the beauty around you. The world was meant to be enjoyed. Do not limit yourself by staying inside but get out and be among My people. They are lonely and searching for a kind word, a smile, and acknowledgement of their worth. Bring Me to them and thus bring souls to Me. They cry out in their despair and rely on others to keep them from falling prey to the devil. Never underestimate the power of a sincere smile or a kind word or touch. Bring those interior thoughts to action by letting others see your love of God in the way you conduct yourself in every day matters. Do not feel I have abandoned you as you go through your day. It is in the very mundane things in life that I shine forth and others can feel My presence through you.

Wait for nothing if it feels as though I am speaking through you. Carry Me with you always and you will know when you are to pay attention to My signs and inner longings. Be My hands. Be My voice. Be My presence as you walk through the journey of life. Travel My path. Keep Me company and I will be your constant companion. The river of water runs through the world and it is intended that humanity wash themselves clean and drink freely so as to always be ready for Me to scoop them up and carry them to My heavenly home. Live as you joyfully await all the endless tomorrows in My arms full of love and readiness to extend My help and graces for you to attain an even higher place in My heaven. You cannot imagine what awaits My faithful people.

127) Catch your breath. Clear your head. Consider all you have been given. Do not beat yourself up with a few bad days. You have had worse times and better times. Life is expected to be full of ups and downs. What is important is that you continue to look for Me in all those times of your life when I seem to you to be most distant. I like to be called. I like to be asked to shoo away the angels of the devil. I want you to recognize your need for Me and the fact that I am always present in your being. I am physically and spiritually available to come to you and minister to you as you have ministered to Me by your life, prayers, and hours of devotion. Dig deeper into your spiritual store at those times of frustration, anger, and depression. Remember all of those earthly negative things will pass away at the moment of death. Your prayers are always heard and answered. Your needs are always met. You are rarely aware of how much I am directing your life. If I wanted you to be doing other, more challenging, more physically demanding, and more comforting work for Me, I would place it in your path. Do you not think you are pleasing to Me? Do you not think I am giving to you in gratitude for your time spent with Me? Do you not think that your prayers are not saving lives? Feeding the hungry?

Ministering to the sick? Maybe you would like to consider more richly how you pray. Maybe you might like to remind yourself more often during the day that I am there beside you and inside you. Tick off the many times throughout the day that you say Hail Marys. Tick off the times you say a quick prayer for another. Tick off the times you gently touch another spiritually or through a kind word or gesture. Do not be discouraged over a few moments of anger and frustration. You will find that more pronounced the more you come to grips with the effects of aging. See how others have turned their inabilities physically to outgoing, caring, and concern for others. Take note of the small things others do for you and be grateful and accepting of their kindnesses. You will never be empty of all that allows you a relationship with Me. You will never be empty of My love but it will continue to grow and fill your heart. Your life is a blessing to you because you will spend eternity in heaven but your life has been and will continue to be a blessing to others who are only finding their way through the prayers and resulting blessings you have given to them. Settle into My peace and My presence when you find yourself slipping into frustration at day to day events. I also was angered by the cold-heartedness of the Pharisees because they did not consider the feelings of others but cared only for their self-importance. Throw out self-importance. Take the back seat. Pray for those in the front seat that they may become effective leaders. All men can be changed for the better and that is done through the prayers of others. Never, never underestimate the importance of your prayer life. Never, never cease to pray. Come to Me in prayer and I will come to you as you ask. I am always with you but I will come to you in an even more special way when you ask. I delight in being asked. I love you and love to answer your heartfelt prayers.

128) (Prayer) Oh Lord, that I might spend the day in You. That I might live as if the world knew how You live in me. Allow me the pleasure of serving You and doing only Your will. Direct my path and teach me Your ways.

It is in the little things of life that I shine forth so brilliantly. The ways of My Father are so magnanimous that you cannot imagine how His power is transforming the world. It is turning, turning, turning away from evil. You cannot see into the hearts of others but He can. He directs them and sends them to Me for refinement and for a chance to prepare themselves for a heavenly reward. Take My wounded hand and let Me lead you from this life into the next. Do not fear for I am guiding your every step. Bring your smile to those unfortunate people who have forgotten how to look with joy upon the world. Care for those less fortunate and do not judge them. That is for Me. You must rely on Me and understand that I am taking care of each person individually. I am grace and I mete it out generously.

Bring Me your cares and leave them at My wounded feet. I will take them on for you so that you will be free to do My will.

There is a current running through the earth that is about to spring forth in a way such as has not been experienced before. The world will be shaken and those unbelievers will be forced to reconsider. Look for signs. Now is the time. Now it begins. Watching and waiting is over. God is among His people. You know this to be true. You have felt it. I am – who am – I am – you – I am – she – I am – he – I am – all. My blessings will flow in the river of current, bringing goodness and love into so many hardened hearts. Eyes will be opened to My glory and those who have been lost will be found. My sheep are returning to the fold. My sheep are coming home. Open the gates of your arms and prepare to receive them. Await their return with joy just as I await your weekly visit here with Me in the tabernacle of your heart.

(Prayer) I love You Lord, fill me through and through. Make me, mold me into Your image.

Take from Me what you need and I will replenish it seventy times seven-fold.

(Prayer) Oh Lord, reach out and grab me. Do not let me fail in doing Your work.

... You are already doing My work.

(Prayer) I praise You. I bless You. I long for You to open my heart – to let it break with fullness of love for You.

I carry you with Me wherever I go, just as you carry Me.

(Prayer) Oh Lord, I am so overwhelmed by Your love. Press me please to Your heart. Grab me and hold me. Never let go of me – ever Lord – ever.

Over and over I tell you, you are mine – and I will not be separated from My own.

(Prayer) Pull me, Lord. Pull me tight. Raise me up to the heights of Your joy.

Experience My love as I caress you. My Mother and I surround you. Absorb her goodness. Take it with you and give it out to others while it remains still undiminished in you.

(Prayer) Oh Blessed Mother, shelter me when I disappoint my Lord.

I wash away your iniquities and bathe you in My blood. Silence is your prayer. Use it to stay close to Me. Do not presume or stew about the thoughts of others.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

(Prayer) I want so badly to accept this gift, Lord. Teach me to use it for Your greater glory. Let me experience in those moments the presence of the goodness of Mary.

129) Come to the water. It is flowing freely and you are to drink from its freshness. It fills you, satisfies you, and offers you life. Come to the well. Come dip your bucket into the deep recesses of the well of My heart. Allow the bucket to overflow onto the earth, onto My people, and thence into the ocean where it spreads into the corners of the world. Come, come taste of My goodness. Come take away with you My love and protection. Come, come, come. I await you in anticipation of how much good I can bring to the world if you will but come and fill yourself with My love.

Take, take with you all that you will need. Take more than you need so you may give it away freely to others. Take of My love until you are saturated like a full sponge. Drip My love onto others as you go about your day and watch how they blossom. Take of Me and you shall never want. Take of Me and I shall be your guide throughout your life. Bring others to Me by leaving them with some of what you take from Me. Drip the waters of life from your every pore.

Open, open your eyes to My glory. Open your heart to receive Me. Open your arms to receive others. Open your hands and give your all to Me.

Pray, never cease to pray. Sit in silence in front of Me. We will pray together. Sit in front of Me and we will talk, converse, tell each other of our wishes and our needs. I need souls. I need love, I need prayers to be offered up in love with true devotion to My Father who holds the fate of the world in His hands.

Watch, watch for miracles. Watch for an opportunity to spread the word of God – the love of God – the hope of God – to those around you.

Care, care for those who are so spiritually needy. Care for those less fortunate in life – for those who have continued to refuse Me. Show them what they are missing. Direct their path. Point them in the Way, the Truth, and the Light. Love them. Most of all love them. Look for Me in their eyes. I am there.

Choose to do My will daily, hourly, minute by minute.
Choose to follow. Choose to love. Choose to reach out in total abandon to Me. I have chosen you and you must be an instrument in leading others to choose Me.
I will provide you with all you need but you must take the first steps and follow where I lead you. You must bring My message to others. You must follow the path
I place at your feet.

Step – take those first tentative steps and I will make your legs strong and sure. I will be the solid ground under your feet. I will be your Rock.

130) Blessed are the children. Bring them to Me.
They are the future, a future more hopeful than in the recent past. If they will follow in My footsteps, if they keep on My path, if they remain faithful to My teachings, the sun will rise on a whole new world, bright in the graces that will come showering down.
It is the task of this generation to pray, to do penance, to show by example, to lead the little ones so they will follow Me. Question not My offerings to them. Allow them the freedom to love Me in their own way. Question not My intentions – they are always geared toward what is best for each individual. Call upon Me for the children. I will hear and answer you.

Ask yourself what else you can do for the purpose of spreading My work. Answers will come when you least expect them. Life is shorter now. You need to be finishing up some things in order to prepare yourself for other things – things more oriented to your spiritual needs. I will send a messenger when the time is ripe. Why do you doubt? Cast away doubt and await. Cast away those inner rumblings of distrust . . . Crawl to Me when you are most concerned. Call to Me when you feel lost and lonely. I have not abandoned you and you need only cry out to Me for assistance. Work for Me and I will work for you. You pray for others, now pray for yourself. The offering of incense of soul is pleasing to Me. Give me your all and I will return the gift a thousand-fold.

131) You are one of My most faithful followers. My path and your path do not cross but are one. We walk together, you and I. Our garments brush against each other. The love transmits itself outward and reaches even to the vastness of the seas. Worries are not for you as you have learned to trust in Me. Blessed are your offspring to have your prayers ascending daily to Me. Blessed too are you for your faithfulness to your prayer life. As you come to Me more and more you will feel My presence in your daily life. It is one of My blessings to you. You are given the gift of a spiritual life beyond that which others only hope for but are unwilling to set aside the time. You have given your life over to Me and I will take it greedily into My very heart. You must continue to pray as that is your strength. I cannot begin to convince you that all those little distractions are just that – but you will come to understand how little that takes from your desire to have a meaningful prayer life. You are still of the earth and there will always be necessities that come between your desire to be united to Me and what you must handle as you end your time on earth. Do not be anxious to join Me. There are many graces to be gained by waiting. Continue to trust Me in all your life decisions. Keep the silence until you ask for My help in response. Never fear to speak of your relationship with Me. Remember the Biblical lines – “but what did you come to the desert to see?” You are coming to see Me and more, not just to see, but to adore, and praise, and love, and do My work. Yes, you come to work for Me. There is a smoothness now in how your words are taken, mulled over, and then acted upon by others. I am leading . . . through such as you. You are watering the grass that feeds My flock. I have given you ample water to continue to do this. Smile, touch, hug, and say kind things. All of this is how I can be seen in you. Answer each question with a smile. We can discuss it later if you wish.

132) Perfect contrition is not possible for you on earth. That is why there is a purgatory after death for those who wish to atone for their sins. There is such a desire to please Me when one meets Me after death that those who have not finished atoning for their sins wish to toss themselves into self mortification and stay there until they are purged of their guilt. It is not

I who punish them but they punish themselves and offer it as sweet incense to Me. I come for them and show them My love and slowly they accept it and become Light. It is with great joy that I receive them into the world of heaven; a vast endless world of love, filled with beauty such as can never be imagined, more beautiful than the most magnificent blossom on earth. Sacrifice on earth alleviates the guilt and thus the need for purgatory at death. My sacrifice suffices for the guilt of so many but it is essential that My people also sacrifice – join Me in atoning for the guilt of themselves but also for the guilt incurred by others. Individuals, yes, all are responsible for their own sins but My Father in His goodness allows others to suffer for those more troubled souls and thus speed their entrance into heaven.

Carry your crosses My special little ones. Carry them with dignity and pride and do not let them overwhelm you and trip you up. You do not carry all the weight for yourselves but you shoulder it for those in need of forgiveness, for those who have not yet found their way to Me. Perhaps a soul comes to Me right before death and asks for My forgiveness after a lifetime of sinful pleasures. They have no earthly time left to atone. In His Goodness My Father accepts the weight of the crosses of others to assist this person. Like Simon, they carry the cross of the dying Man and so lighten his load of guilt as he meets with Me at death.

No suffering is ever lost. No pain is ever too small for an offering. All is sweet atonement and received with loving appreciation. As you suffer, look to the Cross for your salvation. Just as you look to the Cross, others look to you to perpetuate the good that comes from suffering. I have set in motion the reason for such dramatic suffering. As you grow to imitate Me, you learn to accept all that is placed upon your shoulders in this life. It is only a heavy, unbearable weight if you do not turn your face to the Crucifix and place it upon My shoulders so as to allow Me to offer your suffering with My own to My Father. He receives it with such a sweetness that atones for the hurts of mankind and graces pour out on the world in gratitude and love from My Father who is all good and all love. Peace, peace, peace – peace to a world in flux.

133) I come upon you and bless you. I enter into your very core where you and I can always find each other. I am your strength when you are weary. I am your solace when you are sad. I care for your wounds as you pray to relieve Mine. I walk with you in your every step so you do not twist your ankle on the stones. I am your constant companion. I am your safety net when you fall. I am here to pick you up, to brush away the dirt, to soothe the hurts, to comfort you in all your afflictions. I will never turn My back on you and I will hear and answer your every call. I am your constant companion. I am your God but I am also your friend. Look for Me in others and rejoice when you find Me. You will know when these moments occur. See how quickly your table of friends responded to My openings – those God given thoughts placed in your head for sharing. Yes, I wash your feet too. I humble Myself and with great joy I cleanse your feet.

JESUS SPEAKS – THE FIRST THREE YEARS

I was cold too. Identify with Me when you are cold. Peter warmed himself by the fire while I was being scourged and crowned with thorns. I had lost all ability to keep Myself warm. I was naked. The pillar was so cold. The floor was cold and slick with My cold blood and pieces of My skin. The warm blood oozed from My head wounds but quickly congealed and matted My hair as it met the cold of the air that night. I was miserable but I was also joyful because at last I would be able to offer Myself in total for the sins of My people. My people are you, your family, your friends. My people are every face you see in traffic, on TV, in the movies. My people are the voices you hear, the songs that they sing, the music that is played. All these are done by My people. The cold was an easy offering knowing how many of My people would be able to enter the gates I was preparing to open. Such love My Father has for Me. Such restraint He showed by allowing Me to suffer. All for you – all for My people – all for the centuries and millenniums of My people. Come join Me in My suffering. Offer it all up, conjoined, to our Father in Heaven. His love oozes like My own blood and warms the world as it gushes forth as a fountain of graces, purifying as it flows and leaving behind a beautiful world. Yes, do not give up hope, the world is in flux. My people are being forced to make choices. Much prayer is needed in order to foster the right mind set to make the proper and spiritually correct decisions. The world turns now but it will not turn forever. Only Heaven and hell are forever. Continue to pray and fill Heaven and earth with My people – those who will turn the world toward My Father. It is a time of decision and a time to direct your attention to the will of God. Blessed are those who do My will and pray for a peace that will permeate the most hardened of hearts. Blessed are the peacemakers – they are My special people – they make it easier for others to come to Me. They lay the groundwork so that others may follow My path. They remove the stones and sweep away the dirt so that My footsteps are exposed and can be followed by the masses. I am their shepherd and I rejoice in leading them home.
