Jesus Speaks – Year X

The decree of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith, A.A.S., 58, 1186 (approved by Pope Paul VI on October 14, 1966) states that the Nihil Obstat and Imprimatur are no longer required on publications that deal with private revelations, provided they contain nothing contrary to faith and morals. The author wishes to manifest her unconditional submission to the final and official judgment of the magisterium of the church to which she humbly submits.

Mantra: Let go and let God. Let go and let God.....

Here I am Lord, I've come to do your will.

Jesus Speaks Year X

The Tenth Year

361) March 27, 2018 – ICC Adoration – Oh God, how afraid I am that You will cease Your beautiful words in my head. How I cry out in silence at the very thought of abandonment. Oh, how I think of Your abandonment by Your Father at that last moment. How the world ceased to be blessed and how You hung abandoned by Heaven and Earth. But Your Mother, she never left You. She never turned her head. She was there – her body wracked in pain so intense she was relieved only momentarily when her earthly body went limp from pain and passed out. She fought to recover and return to her station at the foot of Your Cross – a place she had dreaded from the moment of her fiat – of her hearing the words of Simeon in the temple – of her flight to Egypt – of her loss of You in Jerusalem. She knew as she followed You around for three years, ministering to You and Your disciples. She never once ceased praying, asking that this terrible punishment for sin be born by her and not You but ever acquiescing to the will of God. How blessed the world to have Your Mother as an example, as a friend, as a Mother to us also. How blessed this Mother of Yours and mine – and because of her – how blessed am I to call myself her child. A sibling of You, my Lord and my God, my Brother, My Love, My God, My Jesus. Do not forsake me now as I stumble into old age. Do not abandon me to the wolves of the world who try to devour the last vestiges of my life. Pray with me. Stay with me. Keep me company in my loneliness – in my weeping moments, in my pain and solitude. Come Lord Jesus, come, and take me home.

Jesus Speaks Year X

362) What a gift You have given me to give to the world. How blessed Your love made me and how fortunate that You continue to love me and give me hope. We are so confused sometimes and look to You for direction. My blank mind fills when I am with You. It overflows with thoughts of You. How much I look forward – with some anxiety of the unknown – to Heaven and our meeting – finally to see my author of life face to face. Do not abandon this small child to the earth but transcend her skyward into Your arms. I know I am already in Your Heart. Please Jesus, take care of My beloved husband and deliver him safely from this latest battle for health. A long- happy - healthy - life together. My daily prayer to You since before I can remember.

My love, consider it done.

363) – In the Spirit of the Holy Eucharist resides the path to life. It supplants all other thoughts with the beauty of the Risen Lord. The Spirit of the Eucharist descends and touches in a special way those who come to visit. A power is distributed which cannot be removed. The love of God permeates the hearts of those who visit in such a permanent way that it can never be removed. There is a safety offered by visiting the Eucharist that carries forward into every aspect of your life. There is a relationship that develops, allowing two-way communication directly between you and God. Opportunities are presented in your life that allow for special graces if you open your eyes and your heart to receive them. The world becomes so much more beautiful as you begin to hear the whisperings of nature as they join with you in praising God. All living creatures, all loving plants, all the gases of the air, all the solid rocks and soil, all the waters of the earth and what lies beneath them – all join in a cacophony of joyous praise to God. The heavens open and the stars dance and radiate beauty such as cannot be fathomed by the minds of earth. The pulse is deafening as all raise their being – their very existence – their matter – their purpose – and praise their Creator and Master of the Universe – their God! Nothing can be silent around their magnificent benefactor. Nothing can sit idly by and ignore the Master of Creation. Everything responds in a deafening chorus of joy, happiness, love, and gratefulness, and praises God, sending Alleluias pulsing into every living breathing body. Those deceased also join from their heavenly afterlife and offer in a special way all they possess for God to make use of it through them so that earth will become more Godly – more holy – more beneficial to all.

Turn – turn – turn – on every side to see the Glory of the Lord, without whom you have nothing – nothing – nothing. Pray, pray, pray, offer your breaths for the Glory of God. Offer your hands to Him to do His work for Him. Join your heart with His – pulse together and feel the exuberance as it takes over your body and soul. God is here! God is alive! God wants Me to love Him – entirely – completely, spectacularly back – just as He loves Me.

364) I adore Thee O Christ and I praise Thee, because by Thy Holy Cross Thou hast redeemed the world.

The day is coming when the world will awaken from its slumber of innocence and will recognize the horror around them which they have caused. Oh, the gnashing of teeth and the grinding of hands that will occur when the full force of their actions descends upon them. They will see the far-reaching agony which grips the world because of their hatred and foul actions. They will beat their breasts but help will not come. They will beg and plead for mercy but it shall not be granted. They shall lower themselves into the grave but death will not come to relieve them of their agony. They cannot die as a light will follow them forever – a light they cannot grasp – a light that calls to them and they cannot answer. Oh, their pain and grief at being outside of the light. A light that pierces but does not satisfy their longing to see God. The day of reckoning! The last day – the end of time – fear itself is not enough, the earth will quake, tombs will open, heaven will receive those who lived for God and hell will boil over with those who did not.

My own people are the salvation for some of those souls. Their lives of prayer, sacrifice, fasting, and sacraments will save so, so many. My people's open arms and hearts will cure many of their sinfulness and defiance of all that is good. Every prayer saves! Every little good deed salvages a soul. Every little sacrifice touches a hardened heart. My people save many. It is a continuation of the Cross of Christ – which never stops giving, loving, praying, praising, and longing for the glory to come – life with the Father – the God of the Universe – The Almighty – The One – The Most Powerful – The Omnipotent – and yet your God and My God – Our Christ himself prays. "Oh God, My God, why have You forsaken Me!" His Son – and yet mystically also Himself – recognized the Oneness of God the Almighty Father of all. Pray always. Always. Always. Do not waste a moment of time when you could be praying! Make your entire life a prayer of salvation. God Himself will direct the fruits of your life to those who need salvation.

365) Thank you – my whole being worships and adores to the best this earthly body can. So difficult to be trapped in a mind and body that is so limited at giving You praise and love. So impossible to express the gratitude that burns in my heart. So in love with You. So in rapture at Your love for me and so inadequate at expressing my joy to You. Just when my heart is so full that I can almost touch that beautiful place with You of peace and solitude, all thoughts seem to pop in midair and I come crashing down to earth again – but even that has beauty because I know, I understand, I rejoice because You are still here with me and I begin the waiting period all over again. Such anticipation – such joy in Your love – such overwhelming happiness stirs in the waiting – waiting – wanting and waiting.

366) Blessed is My Mother among women. The gifts she is giving the world can be felt in the wildest regions and corners of animalist society. There are no bounds for her love and she touches all and reaches out to the most destitute of sinners. She struggles to bring harden hearts to My Heart. She gives Me these gifts of previously lost souls that she has won over with her motherly and loving ways. Your prayers, your presence at Adoration and the Mass, your sacrifices – all are greedily taken by her and used as weapons against the evil of the world. She is a tyrant for good and battles daily with evil. She is a magnificent warrior who does not quit her post. She is an army unto herself who takes on the most ardent sinner. She is a pillar to hold up those floundering on the brink of destruction. This gentle, loving, beautiful woman – this woman, My Mother.

Use this, her month, this lovely springtime when the world is fresh and new and life wells up from the earth, rejoicing that My Father has delivered them to the world – the trees, the flowers, the grass, the buds of promising new life – this then is her time – her month – blessed those with May birthdays – they are special people who have been infused with her spirit of new birth. Pray to her, honor her, ask her to intercede for the world. She loves to be asked – to have some request to bring to the heart of her Son. She delights in helping My people. She is My Mother. She is your Mother. She is the Mother of the earth. She is the Mother of the universe. She is the Queen – the Queen of Heaven. Bow to her Queenship and ask that she remember you to her Son – the King – Christ the King.

367) Blessed those incarcerated for they have only time. They have time to set their souls aright in the sight of God. They have no earthly concerns for food, water, shelter – only concerns for their immortal souls. Serenity is possible for them even in their bare essential circumstances. How I love to visit with them – to tell them of how I also was tied and bound and held against My wishes. I wanted them to know I also suffered much – but for them – not a wasted suffering – a real purpose – to suffer for others brings great joy in heaven. Many graces are poured out and I Myself visit those people. I can't stay away – My love draws Me to their sides time and time again. They are never alone – but sometimes they long for so much more and it does not come. Blessed those who reach out to My imprisoned people. Those who bring them good tidings of My love for them. Those who need My love and the warmth of knowing how much I care for them. I bled, suffered, and died for them. I had holes hammered in My flesh for them. Thorns pierced My head for them. I gladly wore the horrid, bleeding stripes of My beating for them. My feet, swollen, bleeding, cut and bruised – all – all – all for them. How I love all but, oh, how I love them! Tell them – encourage them to ask Me for anything – peace can be theirs for the asking. Contentment for their circumstances can be theirs for the asking. All I ask is to be loved in return – I am imprisoned with them – right beside them – if they grasp the air – I am in that air. Do not forget this – I will Myself to enter into their lives in such a way as to make their souls jump for the pure joy of it. Their lives are not wasted when they turn their suffering into joy. They can place all their disappointments, all their sadness, all their sighings for what might have been – place them in My wounded bleeding hands and I will make of them the finest jewels and they will transform into graces that shower down on all Mankind.

These – these My people can be a people set apart by their very lives of suffering. They are blessed because they have all that time to turn over to Me for the good of the world. How I love these My people! How I long for them to find Me there – right beside them. How I saw them from the Cross and took pity on them. They have opportunities for graces unlike all others in the world. They must not waste this opportunity to be of service to a sinful world. They must accept this challenge to holiness. This challenge to offer all for others. This challenge to be My beloved disciples.

I walk with you, My brothers and My sisters. Together we can change the world. Do not lose a moment if you can offer it up for a grander purpose. Do not sit idle if you can pray. Come to Me now. Be with Me now and I will always, I promise you, I will always be with you. Just say My name.

368) – It is a lovely morning for you. The rain has ceased and the earth sparkles in freshness of wet leaves. Stillness pervades the air. Leaves that just yesterday bounced from rain drops are now quiet enough to be a still-life painting. Birds are not yet up but snuggled deep in their nests as the sun works to peek through the overcast sky. A blest morning and an equally blest day awaits you.

Commented [KW1]:

369) Blessings to you on this day of Adoration. Thank you for coming and spending time with Me. It is only through such devotions that the world will be revived. It is only through the prayers and good works of My own that souls shall be saved from the pits of hell. Welcome – welcome into My arms – into My heart – into My life of longing for you. Do not leave Me for worldly pleasures but come to Me for sustenance and I shall provide all you need.

Enter into My heart afresh. Bring your soul and mind and I shall refresh you. Cast aside the cares of the world, they are as transient as the clouds, here for a moment and then gone with the first puff of wind – never to be assembled again into that first singular shape. My love is the only constant in life. My love is all you need and it is all you really have. Do not forsake it for earthly fame, fortune, and friendships. I direct your life when you ask, pray, and come to Me. I love being a part of your decisions, of your conversations, of your spiritual life. I love you! The universe cannot contain My love. The more you take, the more it overflows into more. There is no limit – no bottom – no time when you cannot reach out and find My love surrounding you. Blessed are they who reach for My heart. They are not disappointed. They are not left alone. They are never without Me. I am there always. I surround you completely enveloping you in love and protection. You are safe with Me. Do not fear. I am coming for you when your time on earth is complete. Such a fickle thing is time – it tries to convince you it goes on forever and that you will have all you want of it. Time is not infinite, you have only a small fraction of it when you live in time and even during your time, you have such a minuscule area where you reside. Make the most of it.

370) Come, pray with Me to the heart of My loving Father. Together we will ask all you have petitioned for. Graces abound and so do miracles if you have the faith of a mustard seed it will be so.

371) My God you are My very heart and Your love pierces my soul. Help Me to remain in You so that You will forever remain in me.

Jesus Speaks Year X

Did you come for consolation? Have you no shame in asking for peace and harmony? Have you no pride that you beg for special favors and blessings? Ah - this is why I am here. I want to hear everything you have to say. I want you to shower Me with prayers and hopes and dreams. I want you to desire Me so that I remove all your faults. They are like flowing dandelions in the wind when you ask for Me to remove them.

You struggle to decide the proper course for a reprimand and then wonder if you should just let it pass over you. Such is the struggle of good and evil. However, a proper correction can be acceptable when presented with the right attitude but not everyone wants to have their faults pointed out to them so gentleness and kindness must be your first concern. Do not linger on the faults of others but look inward toward making improvements on yourself. You are chosen. You are blessed. You are a child of My Heart. Together we move forward as we have since you were a mere child at play. Together we move from youth to maturity to old age. It is the nature and expected progress of everyone. This forward movement, this acceptance of grace along the way. This subtle push to become a better person. This pull to love more deeply and to pursue Me in all that you do.

Aging is such a gift. The knowledge gained is envied by the young. Your acceptance of others as they are is important but equally important is your example for them. You must lead by example. Perfection is not possible on earth but striving for perfection in your spiritual life is a virtue that must be sought. This is why it is so important for you to visit with Me. I can replenish your soul and settle your anxieties. I can allow you the peaceful presence of My Heart as My eyes gaze upon you writing at My table. Yes, My table overflows with all you need, with all you desire, a cornucopia of love – all you need to do is come. Come to the altar. Come to My banquet. Taste and see the goodness poured into you from My overflowing heart. Feel the peace, joy, and longing as you settle into My presence.

372) My Lord, My God, My Love, My All.

Come to Me sweetly child and make your home in My Heart. Open yourself completely to the future I have planned for you. We are inseparable in sickness and in death. I will never leave you and you have only to think of Me for Me to come hold your hand. Peace is My offering as is My love. Nothing can uproot what has been sewn so deeply. Call out in happiness and joy and whisper softly when in pain. I rejoice and am at your beck and call. Do not fear the unknown but rejoice in knowing it is better than the world you know and love. It is the fulfillment of all your desires. It is already your home; you must only die to enjoy it. Come now and let us spend time together. Here, now, and soon in heaven. Will yourself into My presence and ask of Me what you desire.

He, My Father, forgives sin because He loves much.

373) – We are one. You and I are one. Never to be separated. Sickness, health, and before and after death. My heart and yours rest together. We beat as one heart. You are entrenched in Me and I reside in you. Toss your cares and anxieties into the blowing wind and let them drift far from you. Do not concern yourself with tomorrow as I am the physician you need. I bring health and healing. I hold your hand. I hold your head. I hold your life. I choose to do this freely because you have come to Me with needs. Rest in Me.

374) You come before Me now in anticipation of meeting Me and listening to My voice. You will not be disappointed. I am always here but in a special way at Adoration. Come now – enter into My Peace.

I am sorry for dozing, Lord, but the quiet of this place brings me to a state of rest.

I care not that you doze – My disciples, St. Joseph, the Blessed Mother of all the world – all needed sleep sometimes. Do not feel guilty. What is important is that you came.

Caress My words and let them encircle your heart. Hear them with a fresh ear and with your inner being. I am here for you. I do not come into the world because of a need but because I am needed. I come to love and I ask you to love Me in return. I do not need your love but I want it. I want you to be grateful. I want you to search for Me. I want these things so I can give you more of Myself. My love pours out in fresh libation every time you approach Me. My love comes with no strings of need but of hoped for response from you to love Me in return. Your love allows Me to shower down great blessings and it clears away the dirt and grime and freshens your soul while opening your heart. Your love is paramount to our deepening relationship. You are happy when you rest in My love and I am overjoyed to allow that rest.

Life bounces along at its own pace. Here a good day, there a sad or painful one. Aging reaches down to the newest baby and snatches it ragtag toward adulthood. Some pick up better skills during those formative years than others. Some reach out but others turn inward. Some sleep while others can only stay awake – afraid they will miss a moment – skip a time when they would be learning – listening instead of dozing – but no one can be constant in this – so life goes on – days become years and soon there are memories in place of growth. It is then necessary to hone inner growth – a recognition of soul over body. A transubstantiation of sorts – a metamorphosis – a turning – ever turning inward so as to blossom with a sweetness that ascends to heaven and heaven then calls this soul – this flower – home.

375) Cast me not out Lord when I question and look for answers but continue to enlighten me and show me the true way to adore You. Help me to understand the Way of the Cross so as to better relive it in my own life. Lead me forward on that journey and allow me to follow in Your bloody footsteps. Give me courage and stamina to persist to the end with You. Let me be there in suffering at the foot of Your massive Cross and let my life be a way to lessen that agony if only for a fleeting second of love rising up from the earth at your bloody feet. Fill me with love, oh, Lord, My God, so I may bear Your sufferings too and offer it back to You. Give me an open heart and a mind with wisdom enough to grasp what You went through. Help me to understand and to offer

*You a life of repentance for myself and for all mankind.
Let me bring you souls through my prayer life and let those souls blossom and bring in ever more souls to Your fold. I love You, my Shepard, my Leader, my God, and my Lord. Take from me what You will and give me the courage to persist.*

Oh child, what you ask is easily granted but remember I need you for other things too. You will need your health for a while to finish your current projects for Me. Do not be discouraged – an answer is forthcoming that will please you and take the burden of publication from you. Print up what you would like in the meantime but do not fret over the rest. This new book will be shorter but you will enjoy all it offers. Take your time in piecing it together but do not cease your prayer life and certainly do not cease coming to visit with Me. We are inseparable in life and will be after your earthly death.

Concentrate also on your family and continue to press them into regular church attendance.

Go today and bask in My love.

376) See My beloved how I allowed Myself to be tortured and punctured for your sins and those of the world.

(Jesus Prays) "Look Father on Me and see how I love My people. Please Father – accept My every prick, puncture, and pain and agony as complete reparation for the sins of Man, now and until the end of the world.

Jesus Speaks Year X

Let the hatred of them in their sins be tempered by My love for them and allow them the Divine privilege of attaining forgiveness and the right to enter into Our Heaven. Bless them Father in their wretchedness and see through their sins. Look deeply into their hearts and you will find they are innately good but only misled. Love them, Father, as You love Me. Desire their conversion and give them this opportunity to spend eternity worshipping You and glorifying Me while entrenched in the love and majesty of Our Spirit."

"Bless Me Father in My Agony by giving Me this request. When I have finished – when I am again all Yours – when I re-enter Heaven, leave open the gates for those who have loved – for those who have fought to follow Us despite the sinful world. Bring them in Lord – let them follow My path to You. Love them, Lord, as I have loved them. Call to them – tell them to look at Me in My suffering – tell them to follow My example – to be willing to suffer all – even death – to receive life eternal. Keep open the gates of Heaven, Oh God, My Father – look upon Me in My last hours of life on earth and grant this, My wish, for all Mankind. Life, Oh God, My Father, Life in Us!"

377) Such an inattentive soul I am today Lord, my mind rolls around and around, constantly moving about worldly things and not at all concentrating on Your beloved voice. Center me in You, Lord, for this short hour, when I can feast my eyes on Your Body, and call me away from worldly thoughts into the realm of Your peace. Amen.

Jesus Speaks Year X

[Jesus sings softly over and over almost like He is humming a lullaby.] Feast on Me – Feast on Me. Rest your eyes and Feast on Me. Cleanse your soul in My sight and Feast your eyes on Me. Calm your inner being and rest in Me. Rest your weary head and know the beginning is near. Enter My peace with open arms and rest your eyes on Me.

Blessed those who desire rest for the worn and tired of this world. Blessed the homeless, the starving, the lost and the lonely. They shall feast on Me like no others. They shall find My arms open to receive them and the table set in plenty, overflowing with new faces wanting to be with them and show them the joys of their new loving home.

Blessed those who walk the world with no place to call home. Those who wander and hide and barely survive, eking out an existence where there is none to be had. Moving fearfully from one place to another. Keeping hidden and trying to survive. Oh, how these are My people. Oh, how I want to give them rest. Feast your eyes on them because there I am in their midst. I am their comfort when they turn inward. I am their hope when they are feeling hopeless. I am their protector when they are feeling vulnerable. I do not desert them, they stumble and My heart catches them and enlarges their place in My Kingdom. They shall be blessed with a cornucopia of plenty. Their thirst and hunger shall be sated. Their bruised and battered body shall be glorified.

World! Take note of these people. Their suffering brings you of plenty to salvation. They suffer for you!

Jesus Speaks Year X

Do not ignore them! They are witnesses for you! Their cries are for you to hear! Open your ears! Their plight is for you to see! Open your eyes! They are for you to see and hear and respond with kindness. Pray for them. They are in pain for you. Look at them. They are dying for you. Feel their loneliness, their homelessness, their life of insecurity, and know they are your salvation. Yes, Feast your eyes on Me!

378) – What is your thought child? Where is your heart today? Is it in the realm of My poor? Or is it wrapped up in worldly things? How can you be at peace with Me if you are not at peace with yourself? Ah, but this is about to change. You are entering a new phase of life: sad and happy, tiring and exhilarating, busy and calm, disturbing and settling.

Make Me known child.

Turn your attention to letting the world into your joy at knowing Me. Spread the word – let it out and see the response. Be ready for your world to turn upside down. It is My path. Do you trust Me? Do you love Me? Do you want to evangelize? Bring the world to Me through this Word of Mine. Give it to the world.

379) You have come in confusion and sorrow today asking for help in the remedy. Your memories flood like tears of unhappy moments of loss of trust of forgotten love, of times of trouble in your marriage. You have forgiven many years ago but your memories you cannot erase.

Jesus Speaks Year X

Remember all those vacations for just the two of you he arranged. Begin to remember and list them in your head. Talk of them – those times full of love and passion. How he waits on you, dotes on you, does as you ask, remembers all those significant dates. How he loves your family and puts you first.

Remember the warmth of his hands – those big warm gentle hands – how he curls around you to warm your feet – your legs, your whole body. The gentleness of his touch when he reaches for you. The depth of his love you have never doubted. That he puts you above all else you know.

He prays with you. He drives you when you ask and even if you don't. He lunches with your friends and never refuses if you ask.

He works for you – spending his life so you could be free to choose to work or stay home. The depth of his love is immeasurable. Give that back to him. Awaken his passions in a new way. I await you both with arms opened wide and no recollection at all of past imperfections. You shall both rest in Me and your homes are already prepared when your work on earth has ended. Your legacies will live on and you will be remembered often by those you leave behind. Your course has been a good one with few diversions. I have asked for your love and I have received it. You have asked for Mine and I have given it. You are now just "cleaning up the edges."

380) – Ah, I see you want more. A chance to continue our conversation. Yes, you will come to see all I have spoken of – your dedication to these projects of mine is not without its reward. Nothing on earth is permanent – it will all eventually form into a matter so above earthly understanding that even if I speak of it you cannot grasp or understand. But know this, it is of Heaven, it is of God, it is the culmination of life in the Spirit. It is joy beyond comprehension. It is where love abides in fullness and charity and justice and the benefits of living a good life.

Write down what I say: (Jesus sings to the tune "Where Charity and Love Prevail")

- Where Charity and love exist
- There in the midst am I
- There hearts are gentle, souls are kind
- And love is ever found.
- Here am I, your King and God,
- Upon a throne of gold
- And there you are up next to Me
- In beauty undisclosed.
- Come sit with Me and share My light
- And do not fret the world
- Because it soon will be undone
- To bring you to My Throne.
- Oh, come to Me with joyful heart
- And hear My voice a right
- No more the darkness to confound
- No more the long dark night.
- A blessed place will soon unfold
- And happiness prevail
- As God discloses to His own

Jesus Speaks Year X

- The place He has prepared.
- Forever home, forever blessed
- Forever not to roam
- Forever here in Heaven above
- Forever by the throne.
- Forever by the Throne.

381) Perfection – Heaven is perfection – all is in order – all is visually and spiritually in order. All senses are satisfied, yes, but the inner soul is more than satisfied. Were that soul not in Heaven it would burst apart with the joy and goodness that fills it. The mind, the eyes, the ears, the senses would all . . . nothing could last were it not that God desires it so.

You are rushed today child. You want to get so much into the day as your family calls to you for their needs. You have but one necessity – Me – and those in your life who most need you – as long as you have Me – they are taken care of in a manner suitable to their life needs.

Feast on Me. Feast on Me,
Rest your soul and Feast on Me.
Come to Me with open arms
And rest your soul in Me.
See with your eyes – hear with your heart
Open your mind and Feast on Me.
Come of free will. Come of love
Come Feast your eyes on Me.

382) – Speak with Me. Tell Me all about your cares and concerns. Tell Me your failings and your successes. I am with you through it all but I love it when you tell Me about it.

The cares of this world, although sometimes they feel overwhelming, are only temporary. Search deeper and find the strength to sacrifice them to Me. Your reward is heaven and an eternity free of pain and suffering. There is such joy and beauty awaiting you there. Happiness is unending. You have no earthly words to describe Heaven. You must experience it.

Meet Me here on earth. Learn to love and obey Me in the here and now of earthly time. Practice living in My love and trust Me – yes – always trust Me. Flick those lingering – back of your mind – doubts away. Dust them from the corners of your mind and fill them with trust and joy. Allow My love to permeate the cells of your body. Feel Me in you and trust Me to do what best serves Me and brings you to a closer relationship with Me.

Open my body to You Lord. Open my mind. Take me soaring above myself and into the center of Your universe of love. Carry me out of my body and allow me to float in that wonderful in-between – a touch of communion with You, experienced in the blink of an eye or in a single held breath – but the joy – the peace – the desire to never leave You, takes my breath and leaves me glued to the earth when it is over. The noises of my surroundings return and the moment is gone. The connection is broken but the desire for it never leaves Me. I search for those touching – feeling – exuberating moments of contact with You in a special way. My breathing seems to stop – all time dissolves away and there we are together in some vast space in my head.

Jesus Speaks Year X

And then it is gone again. Gone again, yet I know, I instinctively know You have not left. You allowed me to open Your gift of presence and seep myself in it for a mere moment, but You left me with the promise of a lifetime – an eternity – of unspeakable joy.

Your warmth takes over my soul and the skin of my body cools to it. And then I am back in this space, unable to recapture that moment – that emotion – that connection – and yet somehow still in touch with You. Connected by the Eucharist – by the sacraments – by the graces given – and by prayerful thanks for blessings given. I love You, Lord, and, yes, I feel You, I know You, I desire You, I am willing to wait for You and spend my time doing Your bidding. Come to me often, I pray. Give me strength to be all You want me to be. Take over my mind and lead me ever closer to You. Take over my body and direct its every move. Take over my mouth and protect me from my sinful self. Take over my hands and have them used only for You.

All of me, Lord – only for You. A life – only for You. Caring for Your people, Lord – in Your name – in Your stead. Your words in my mouth, Your kindness in my hands. Your love in my heart. Your joy in my face. Our lives intertwined now and forever. Fill me up, Lord.

Ask and you shall receive
Seek and you shall find
Knock and the door will be opened.
Pray and I will pray with you.
Father, hear our prayer.

383) (Part I) You are right to come today as the world is desperate for My words. Believe that the time is coming when the people will hunger for Me and gnash their teeth as they await My punishment. Sin has been rampant and the world is suffering because of it. Blessed are those who have heeded My warnings and turned to prayer and the sacraments for healing.

Do not despair, My mother is cleaning out the roaches and bringing in the sunlight. The world is turning toward her as the way to turn back to Me. Blessed are those who pray her Rosary. They are the saving graces that will redeem a faltering church.

Look for good priests and offer your support. Begin to protect them and honor them as they have suffered much. They are found guilty when they are not. Pray for My priests. Pray for My Church. Pray for the Pope. This immense suffering and fall from grace has been brought on by the infiltration of the devil. When sin prevails, his strength grows and he greedily reaches for more and more souls. His power comes from evil which is his entire make-up. There is no good to be found in him. He is to be feared in that his insidious ways can enter a soul at a most opportune moment. Gird yourself in the armor of Mary. He cannot penetrate her nor can he steal those who are protected by her. Shelter yourself in her Army and know she will be victorious as the Light returns to My Church.

Dress appropriately – walk appropriately – speak appropriately and let your light shine as a beacon to draw others to you and thus to Me.

Candles light the way. Be a candle.

(Part II) The mother and the baby.

Jesus Speaks Year X

The baby rests on the mother's heart. Sleeping peacefully in her arms.
She cradles and rocks and hums her love and the child sleeps soundly in peaceful bliss.
But the babe is giving his blessings to the mother.
The babe is bringing innocent love.
The babe is opening up the heart of his mother.
The babe gives his entire self over to her so that she may protect him.
It is a union of God and man.

God came as a child so that we may love, honor, protect Him.
He in turn will grow to love, honor, and protect us.
Who gets the most out of this union of God and man?
Of babe and mother?
Whose heart burst with love – who would die for the other – who would furiously protect the other?
Who would?

Trust in My Mother. She is a force to be reckoned with.
She is powerful. She is fearless. She is unleashed as the world is awash with sin.
Do not do battle with her, but join with her.
Her army is immense and her warriors are strong and determined.
A fearsome sight as she approaches the battle field.
The world explodes in the force of her entry into the final battle.
The walls of evil are collapsing.
The new Jerusalem follows.

384) _____ 25th Wedding Anniversary. How grateful I am, Lord, for the gift of this couple and their family? How blessed You have made me and how full my heart in gratitude. (His song continues.)

Jesus Speaks Year X

Come to Me
Come to Me
Open your heart
And come to Me.
Leave the world behind
And enter My heart
And come to Me.

(God the Father speaks) The world has only to quiet themselves and listen to the voice of My Son. All on earth have the ability to hear Him. All have the spark that can become a raging fire. How few look to this need for Him. How few open their deepest being to find Him. How they smother Him away under all the grossness of the world and bury Him when He is not dead. He struggles with their thoughts and penetrates their minds and still they snuff Him out to pursue evil. How wretched is the man who deserts his innate goodness to bury My Son again and again.

Dear Guardian Angel, encapsulate me please so that the evil of the devil cannot penetrate my mind, soul, body – no evil thoughts, no evil to escape from my tongue, no evil to be visible in my actions or in my face. Always to be of service, humbly to others. Always to be ready to assist and lend a hand. No resentments. No lofty thoughts. No cowardness in the face of evil. Always, Lord and God, to be of service to You. For the many times I have failed, I am so, so sorry.

385) – I am Yours, Lord.

Jesus Speaks Year X

Why do you stew, child? All is well. All is so much better than you allow yourself to think. I told you, your family is in My hands. They rest secure in My love. What happens to them is always part of how I take care of them. They will all be Mine after death and isn't that what you ask?

Keep working on the music and I will send assistance. I ride with you to this next series of appointments. I guide the hands of the doctors to bring your husband back to good health. Trust in Me. Never cease praying but trust that your prayers are being answered.

Do not be afraid – calm your inner being and trust in Me.

There will come a time when you will seek Me and cannot find Me. Store away My words in your heart and in your head. I will not have left you but you will not hear Me.

Find Me in the quietness and stillness of the night. Feel My presence in your heart and soul. I will never leave you. I surround you and protect you. I died for you. Why, the, would I ever let you go.

386) September 25, 2018 – ICC – Adoration –
Overwhelmed, confused, sinful yet crying out to You for enlightenment, answers, mercy. Hold me close, Lord, do not let me slip away into the abess of loneliness, self-centeredness, and greed. Pull me free of this quagmire of sorrow and free my feet to serve You in the way that most pleases You. The fog is thick and I walk blindly with only Your light to lead me. I follow but I know not where I look and search until the light – Your light – again appears. Sometimes faintly, sometimes as a beacon – but always You come when I call out to You. Always You lead me when I am lost. Always, always, always.

I know you have missed our time together in the peacefulness of quiet Adoration. I know you have not ceased to pray and to be with others as a help and a presence. These are all good longings and reasonable ways of being among others but I know your happiness is here with Me.

I beg, I plead, I petition You to come be with me, stay with me and I am so ashamed at the place I have to offer You – so full of deceit, hatred, insufficiencies, lack of love, self-absorption. Cleanse me, Lord. Make me a suitable home for You. Sweep out the last vestiges of sin and blackness. Open the windows of my heart to hear Your voice anew to allow in the graces provided so generously by You. To let them change me into the person You want me to be. Wash me, Lord, of my sins, past and present. Scrub me clean until I bleed freely for You. And then settle in, never to be chased away by the odor of sin. Send me crashing through the door of heaven in a pleasing and blessed way so as to meet You face to face – unblemished and pure – cleansed here on earth.

(New Request) A day to open the tabernacles of the world – to allow all who wish to come and pray. To advertise it as a day of atonement – start with the Deaneries – then the Dioceses – then the world.

Jesus Speaks Year X

Invite the public – open the church doors to air out the stink of sin and the abominations committed by those hierarchy of the church. Invite in the Holy Spirit.

Consider a daily Novena prior to this Cleansing Day. Mass, confessions, scripture readings, Rosary – one parish after another – ten parishes – ninety days –

A child shall lead them through this holocaust.
Dedicate this time of penance to the Infant of Prague.

387) - (Jesus singing over and over)

Trust in Me
Trust in Me
Open your heart and
Trust in Me

Blessed those who spend their days in the service of others. They shall receive great rewards in Heaven. Their lives are beacons and light the way as others are led to follow in their footsteps. Our footsteps are one and the same – all leading to My Father's house. Places are prepared and waiting for those who serve. They are special to Me as I also came to serve. My people – My people – My people.

Care also for those who are destitute. Do not be put off by the hopelessness of their situations. Rise up and assist them. Offer your house, your very selves, and give them a few days of being cared for as they sort out their lives again. There are no wrong ways to helping when the needs are so great. Give as you can and do what you can.

Jesus Speaks Year X

Cast out the shadows of doubt and sweep my soul clean of all mis-guided thoughts. Bring me to see, feel, react to the plight of others. Make me a beacon of hope in this world of sin and sorrow. Teach me, oh Lord, my God, to see as You see. To feel as You feel, to help as You help; to be Your hands, Your spirit, Your nature of love. Help me Lord for I am such a sinner – a small person in a very large world and I struggle with inertia and stubbornness of feet to move into the unknown even with You beside me. Help me, Lord, to bring out the good in people – in myself – to open up hearts, wallets, minds, and use energy, what we are gifted, our resources, to aid those less fortunate, to help ease the mental, physical, and monetary pains of the poor. Place me where I can be of service. Do not let me flounder indecisively until this crisis is buried along with the lives of those I did not help when I could. Help me to see, Lord. Help me to serve, Lord. Help me to pray with my hands and heart and reach out so that I make a difference in the lives of the poor. Help me to make a difference in the world. Help me to lead and not wait to be asked.

388) – You come with heavy heart, feeling you can do so much more, but unable to find the path. You are doing more than you know. You are spreading My Word as I offer you the opportunities. The words I have given you are spreading like water that seeks a level place to settle. It is not for you to see these effects but only to continue to write them down as My Words. Others will pick them up, read them, digest them, and recognize their own path – laid out plainly for them to follow.

Jesus Speaks Year X

Relax, My Love, relax and enjoy your family and your life. You are loved and respected by many you have not met, but who know you by your words and actions. Many have been affected by your prayers and good works and are grateful to you without knowing you.

You are right – it is never enough – in life, it is expected that it is never enough. Not enough time to do all the good that needs to be done. My own life is the perfect example. It is what lives after you – your inheritance is multiplied by your prayers, good deeds, and works, which I give you. That is passed on and will again be multiplied. My Word is spread among My people and when it falls upon good soil – ah – that is when you see saints spring up!

Harvest My Words so that others may eat.

389) Come to Me, please Jesus, my Lord and God. Come make Your home in me so that I may do Your work. Please give me direction as I am such a silly person when I go off on my own. Let me have Your heavenly influence and help so that Your will will be done.

Oh child, I am with you always. My direction is for you to follow your head. Do what you can but you must remember how I love the poor and those in want. Do for them as you would do for Me. Carry My Cross to the needy and destitute. Carry My love to those who feel abandoned. Do My work and I shall reward you greatly in Heaven. Leave ___ to Me.

390) – I see your heart is full today and your mind is busy. You must settle yourself in Me and await further instructions. Life does not come all at once but is strewn out over many years. It is not necessary for you to be aware of all the good you do while on earth, I will decorate you with the rewards for that after death.

Continue on the path you have in front of you. Never mind if it seems you are trodding very slowly. You are making substantial progress. Continue your prayerful journey as you have for the entire life of your soul. Continue to come here to visit with Me but know that I am always with you so you can reach out to Me for guidance, hope, love, encouragement, whenever the need arises. Keep your spirits up and know you are doing good things in unnamed places. Your light shines brighter and farther than you could ever imagine.

I have kept My promise – My words are traveling without your name being attached. They fly into the hearts and minds of many people you will never know. Your job is done in some ways, but in others there is much left to do. Enter a new era of working for Me. Enter a new dimension of spirituality. Enter directly into My heart. Feel the throbbing – the warmth, the sweet smell of My blood. Enter into Me and find the peace for which you search. Taste the goodness of the Lord in a whole new way. Shower others with whatever spiritual and material goods you can. Draw them to Me by your own actions. Draw them to Me through your wants, desires, and prayers to do the most good for the most people.

I love that you also love and hurt for My people. I love that you yearn to help so much more than you are – but you don't see with your earthly eyes how much you are doing. Ah, but I see the small ripples that become tsunami waves encompassing many hearts and souls. Your trust in Me is so important – relax and trust in Me. Turn your whole being over to Me and allow Me to direct your every waking hour so that you trust completely in the direction each day takes. Relax that gnawing you feel inside to do more. I am the "More" you wish to do. It can never be satisfied here on earth.

391) October 29, 2018 – Dear Pope Francis, I humbly ask you to take the time to read my note and then follow the God given directions I am about to write. The locutions in this book are numbered in the order I received them and one of them is specifically for you – right now – in this moment. The Holy Spirit will direct you to the proper one. (#90) After you have read yours, you are to read (#275), for September 25, 2018. The italicized words are God given prayers and thoughts for us, but the regular print is God's words to us and He has a request of His Church. I will be praying that you listen to Him.

392) – Enter into the era of peace. There is a rumbling that will not be silenced. There is a people longing for peace and harmony. There is a tear falling for so much suffering but it is ending soon – this era of the reign of the devil. He is so slow to see that the time for him to rule is over. He never did rule all – but he made all miserable in one way or another. We all suffer when evil occurs in the world. We all cry out with disgust and sorrow at the hatred of the few. Look into the hearts and souls of the just as I do and be encouraged. You see the giving people stepping up and doing what is right. You see those who have little giving of their scant possessions. People empty their homes to give and their purses to help. Much is being done for those who lost so much. My heart is with those who suffer but My heart is also with those who give. Mankind is at a crossroads. He has the choice to move forward and be productive in changing the world for the better or he has the laziness to sit idly by and watch the world care for him. There is a fine line between the truly poor and destitute and the lazy man who expects others to earn his bread. Inspire these people to become productive and the world begins to change. Do not be discouraged as you are but one person but I have given you many talents. Pursue those that help others and look for all the paths I set in front of you so that you can accomplish much.

Spread joy. Spread love. Spread harmony. Spread the gospel by words and actions. Enter into My peace with joy and rejoicing. Allow Me to fill your soul with happiness. Allow Me to re-enter the world through your good works. Press on – do not be discouraged – lighten your heart and the world around you will follow – just as you follow Me. I love you and all mankind. You are My Father's handiwork. You are each one of a kind. You are each special with individual gifts. Use them to change the world. Use them to cure the sick. Use them to share My love. Then enter My home in peace.

393) November 2, 2018 – ICC – Adoration – First Friday – I come in joy but also in sorrow. Joy because you have come to such holy feast days of the church but sorry because there is so much unnecessary suffering in the world.

Jesus Speaks Year X

Enter My peace through the open door of love for My people. Enter into My Heart through suffering and the daily challenges of life. Enter into My Life by imitating Me and following in My footsteps. Come and be a part of My suffering – be a part of My Heart – be a part of My Life.

Do not fear – I am always here for you. Do not despair as you come to grips with your entire life. Life passes by so quickly but that fact is hidden from the young. If they could see and seek Me, they would grasp and understand it so much better and live their lives in a much different manner. It is not My will that this should happen. They must come to know Me for themselves. They must come and seek Me first. I am there for them and they know it in a distant part of their minds. Knowledge of My Love is so often hidden away so they can live and seek their own lives. Some do come to know Me early in life but others do not find Me until their life is nearly over – still – sadly – some never find Me. These lost souls can still gain Heaven if they have lived a good life. The Gates of Heaven are not hard to open if one but loves.

394) Grant them eternal life, Oh Lord, bless them with the presence of heaven. Give them a place in Your house and allow them to find the peace and health they could not find here on earth.

I come to you today full of joy at the group of My people traveling in unity and like spirituality to visit the places of My life. They are in My hands.

Jesus Speaks Year X

Will you do Me a favor? Enter slowly into the next few days. Take the time to pray. Join with the saints in worshipping My Son, My Only Son. His Heart is full of compassion for His suffering immigrants. They are homeless people. They are hungry and so very frightened. Many are near death or sickly due to poor conditions and lack of sanitary facilities. Bring them to your prayer life. Adopt a travelling family in your prayers. Suggest this to others.

To those Spiritual Warriors who will be willing to help, I would like to ask you to spiritually adopt a family in the caravan of immigrants fleeing their war-torn countries. Surely, they are frightened and certainly homeless. They are desperate and need your prayers. One family – one person to another, pray for a peaceful resolution that protects their dignity and answers their needs.

395) – Reach out to Me, oh ye of little faith, look at the plans that brought us to this moment. You are serving Me well and you are still needed to continue this work. Devote your spare time to this newest project and I will assist you. This book will sell and be used by many. The need for the Rosary is great and it is imperative that My church returns to that most beautiful prayer.

Bring Me your questions and I will direct you as you type up this latest work. You have the tools and I will give you direction on how you are to proceed. Doors will open and people will respond

Jesus Speaks Year X

Now, enter into My peace and enjoy our morning together. No pressure today – I am planning the rest of it for you.

Did you catch your breath? See – there is much more to do and your mind is already figuring it out. You will find all you need for the first Rosary of Trust and then the others will easily fall into place. Each a small book – each part of a series – each a needed Rosary for a specific need. A new way to pray the Rosary. It is My gift to My Mother.

My gift also to Your Mother, Lord, as she, in turn, gives it back to you.

(Blessed Mother speaking?) Your mind will expand to carry all these thoughts into practice so that others may learn and grow in the knowledge of the love of God and follow in His footsteps. A praying, learning, teaching tool.

396) – Do not stumble now as you hear the news of the persecution of the Church. There is beauty in persecution and many attain their saintly crowns by enduring it – even unto death. This crisis shall pass but there must be reparation. So many souls harmed and so much damage to a fragile society. The devil has run rampant for the last time with My Church. Even now the saints of today are offering their blood for the salvation and expansion of My Church.

Come to Me and offer thanks that the end of this era is coming. A new and brighter future is on the horizon and you must be prepared to assist in its coming. Prayer and sacrifice and the Sacraments all are important. Listening for My voice in the quiet of your mind will bring you comfort and peace. Put aside any differences and see all men as equals. They are all souls I want to save – no exceptions. All are born for My Father's house but few choose to accept His invitation. You must make them want to be a part of Heaven. You must pray for them and lead them and set an example for them.

Surely this is what you also want. A world in love with Me through peace and justice. See how much good poured out into the world with these latest disasters. Do not be misled – good people abound. They far outnumber the discontents who stir up hate and oppression. The good will form together and lead the world away from its current path of destruction. Peace is possible – not in your lifetime but it is possible. My Father rules the universe – He rules all – He is the I AM – He is all powerful – Do not be misled, He is in charge.

397) Precious are you in the eyes of My Father because of your devotion to Me. You can only present what I give you. Do not take offense if others do not respond positively. Every small idea can settle in and be of service to Me later in that person's life.

Press on with My work. You listen and obey. You have asked to be busy with My work and so you shall. Count the many ways you have been performing spiritual works of mercy. Ah – see – you are not sitting idly by but are daily involved in works of charity. I will see that you are not overwhelmed but your presence is being felt in many areas where you have found yourself and, as you can see, your own life has been touched. As you reach out, others return your love. As you reach out, others reach out to do more and so the wave of goodness travels in an uninterrupted path and circles back to you after it has encompassed Me – so that I travel with it. Graces are tossed like petals at a wedding – so many graces from a simple act of yours. Continue to spread the love and kindness. Continue to search out souls who need your touch. Continue to do My work. Know that Fr. Rookey has My ear. Expect miracles. He joins with you in gratitude for your faith in him. As you know, his love for the Blessed Mother knew no bounds on earth. He is even more devoted to her in heaven. She will request that I grant his wishes.

398) – Enter again into the peace of the sacrament so visible on the altar. Enter into the fruits of graces resplendent as I rest on the altar. Enter into My very heart, pierced and bleeding for you. Open your own heart to receive Me. Open your mind to hear My words. Open your arms to all those of My people who are in such need.

Caress Me through your words and actions. Love others and you love Me. Care for others and you care for Me. I am here with you now. Everyone you can see is also with Me. Everything you touch is of Me. Nothing exists without the hand of God upon it. Man alone has no power but what God has given him. He has no brain but that which God has given him. Be humble and know, it is only through the goodness of God that the smallest grain of sand exists. Know that the bread you see before you is no longer bread but My Body and Blood. It is generously given to you. "This, then is truly My Body and Blood." It is truly yours for the taking. Graces and heavenly favors abound for those who receive Me.

399) – Did you think I wouldn't come? I have missed you too. I see how your life has been busy attending to charitable and other needs. I also recognize your tiredness at the end of the day. Rest in Me I those times and do not tarry over feeling sorry for yourself or allowing yourself to feel resentful. Offer all up – including your aches and pains for the return of lost souls to Me.

Carry Me with you as you go through these next few months. Changes will occur for which you will again seek Me out. Do not stress as I am with you through it all. My heart is where you reside. It beats along with your own. Blessings will be abundant for you as your suffering increases. Hold on to Me and My words and watch for a sign of My love.

400) January 9, 2019 – Carolina Room – I hear you in your concern and pain. I see the destruction of a continent on fire with disagreements and a government unable to help. I hear the cries of My people and I see their needs. One must first pray and offer sacrifices in order to end the injustices. One must be willing to offer their services, their homes, their food, their very lives to preserve the peace for which so many long. Lives cannot be saved without prayers and offerings of self. Give to Caesar what is Caesars' and to God what is God's.

- 1) End the shutdown for two weeks.
- 2) Work out a solution behind closed doors and unite as one. Shake hands and agree to never allow personal philosophies to hold an entire country hostage. Egg on one's face can be scrubbed clean and should not keep a people fighting among themselves. Show us how to compromise – to get along. Peace and not Civil War in families, among friends, in our nation, must become a reality. Our leadership must show us how it can be done. This dysfunction is not about ideas, it is about people. Care for your constituents, for your fellow workers, for the immigrants and set things right again in America. Plow through the muck and clean house by friendly compromise. Show us the way to peace again in our homes, in our work places, yes, even in our churches. Give us true leadership. Bring God back into the equation. Ask Him to lead you into equitable compromise, not tomorrow, not next week, but now, this very moment. As soon as your eyes see the person you perceive as the enemy, place the face of My son, Christ, on their shoulders and work diligently for peace and compromise.

401) – It seems so difficult to concentrate today and to find You in the ordinary of my life. I want only to spend time with You and yet I feel denied of that joy and so I come to You in the daily mundane time of my life and ask You to stay awhile and keep Me company.

Of course, Child, I am always here. You have only to reach out and call to Me. I am as close as your breath.

Jesus Speaks Year X

402) There is such beauty in suffering, such joy in offering the pains, heartaches, and troubles up for the good of others; offerings in reparation for the sins of others; offerings to My Father in anticipation of His love and blessings. I do not send suffering into the world but it is allowed by My Father as a way to worship Him by joining your sufferings with My own in a heavenly gift wafting to Heaven as sweet myrrh and perfume. God receives it with such joy. He blesses the smell of the offering and so gives blessings to those who offer such sweetness to Him in My name. He loves My name and so He also blesses all who say My name with love and reverence. You have only to look to the sky for confirmation of My Father's love. The sun, the rain, the snow, even the storms, all bring His love to the earth. Each day is designed by Him. Each event is carried out with His knowledge. No matter how much destruction a weather event causes, My Father turns the results heavenward and underlying blessings flow even more. The evil destruction brings is never outdone in the minds of some by goodness but those with the faith of a mustard seed can see how the people's response to evil soothes the pain and suffering of those affected by the evil of destruction.

The people of the earth continue to rise to the challenges of assisting those in need. They continue to find ways, large and small, to help. They give from their larder, they give from their own need, they give from their hearts. They offer prayers and sufferings. They offer themselves to Me in reparation for the sins and evil prevalent in the world today. They give themselves over to Me and that is so pleasing to My Father. His blessings descent into the stony hearts and the world is better able to fight the presence of evil.

403) Why do you cry My child? You know I am with you every step of the way. You know you are working for Me and your benefits far outweigh your sufferings. Be not afraid as I am with you now and forever more. Come, now, reach into My heart for a draught of My Father's kindness and love. He is so in love with you that He allowed Me to suffer for you. Reach into My heart and feel how it beats for you and go in the peace of knowing how loved you are.

404) Seriously child, your mind wanders and flits and dashes about and you cannot center it or control it. Do you think this alienates you from Me? Of course not. Have you control over its wanderings? Very little and yet you try to redirect it back toward Me. Fear not – I am here. I know you inside and out. I know all those crazy dreams that remain until they pass away. I know those sleepless times you struggle and then force yourself to stay focused on prayer. Such is the plight of humanity – ah – but in Heaven, there are no such disturbances to keep you from being united in mind with God. You are continually in My presence and you remain steadfast in devotion to Me. There are no distractions or tricks of the mind – only you in the presence of God.

You shall see My garden where we will walk together. The flowers will turn toward us and radiate beams to light our way. They are excited to be of service and appreciate how you loved them in their earthly state. All things living never die but only become the best version of themselves in Heaven. Those, however, that persist in sinful and irreverent behavior, like the non-fruit bearing fig, will never be beautiful again. Sadly, many of those humans who refuse all the peace offerings during life will also suffer forever in their lustful and sinful ways. They are cruel to themselves.

Praise God while you can. Pray for the world while you can. Assist others and volunteer while you can. Devote your time to positive pursuits while you can. Offer all sufferings – the tiniest itch to the stabbing pain – all gain access to Heaven for yourself and many others. No suffering, no prayer, no sacrifice, is unused. All make a difference. All become a positive influence in the world.

Kathie, I love you. I wait for you. I long to walk with you in the gardens of Heaven.

Your friend, Jesus

405) – Finally! Time to be.

Quiet yourself. You have the essentials. You can allow your mind to wander or rein it in so that we are together – ah, but we are always together even when your mind wanders. Heaven is a place of goodness and wonder and beauty. Your mind can concentrate and explore and grasp the goodness of God. Heaven has no boundaries. You're not locked in but free to wander and explore. Angels guide you to the very place you want to be. Angels tend your needs and you are glorified along with them. Just as they tend to you, so do you reach out and attend to others. Such joy abounds and hearts are filled to overflowing. Your capacity to love is unlimited as your capacity to feel and accept love. The more you love, the more your ability to love grows.

406) Catch me, Lord. I fall and stumble and cannot seem to breath. I want to be Your hands, your mouth, your arms, your heart and I fail miserably when I'm tired, frustrated, or insecure.

Catch me Lord as I stumble into inertia through aging, tiredness, lack of desire to go outside myself. Hold me up as I desire to sit out the rest of my days.

Catch me Lord when the night feels cold and dark and I look for the warmth that is not there. When hearts turn cold and ignore all basic moral principles, do not let me sleep if I can be of service to turn this immoral world back to You.

Teach me Lord how I can best be of service to You.

Show me Lord how to love as You love.

Push me Lord into Your heart and let me use my own heart where You would like Yours to be. Let me be Your heart on earth. Let me be Your hands. Give me a will set firmly with Your own. Do not let me waver now as I age but keep my feet firmly planted in Your path and let my whole being, my life, my every breath, reflect Your loving gaze so that people will see You through me and turn toward You and follow You.

It is so easy to feel overwhelmed with the apathy and sinfulness of an ignorant, selfish, and egotistical world. It is so easy to feel beaten down by the stubbornness and hard-heartedness all around. I am at the bottom of the steep hill pushing and shoving to bring myself and others to the top.

Show Yourself Lord in me and all those struggling like me. Let Your light shine in us. Let our hands pen Your words. Let our lips speak Your voice and let our bodies do Your work.

Then, Lord, when our hour comes and our last strength to do Your work ebbs – then, Lord, call us to Yourself.
